'SUICIDAL JAPS' GOT YORKTOWN, SURVIVORS SAY

3 Navy Pilots Tell of Attack on Carrier.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 17.—Three navy dive bomber pilots, who were aboard the aircraft carrier Yorktown during the Japanese bombing and torpedo attacks that brought about her ultimate loss during the tremendous Midway Island sea-air battle of last June 4 to 7, told eye-witness stories of the action here tonight.

All three of the airmen—Lieut. William Roberts of Detroit, Mich., and Ensigns George H. Goldsmith, of Atmore, Ala., and Neville Ammen of Roanoke, Va.—arrived here early last July after having been ordered home from Pacific sea duty shortly after the Midway conflict. At this time they are busy telling new instructors things they learned in actual air fighting.

Lips Have Been Sealed.

Hitherto their lips have been sealed concerning the fate that overtook the Yorktown. The official announcement in Washington yesterday that the carrier was first damaged by Japanese air groups and later twice torpedoed and sunk by a Jap submarine permitted their story to be released.

"I landed on the Yorktown after having participated with the air group of another carrier in a raid on the Japanese fleet," said Ensign Goldsmith. "I got aboard at 2 p .m. the afternoon of the 4th and four minutes later Japanese dive bombers appeared.

"While my plane was being pushed to the hangar deck I saw there were about 30 Japs in the raiding squadron. They split up into two sections of about 15 planes each and came at us in two waves.

Every Jap Shot Down.

"In just a matter of seconds there were burning Jap airplanes leaving smoke trails as they fell all over the sky," Goldsmith said. "The Yorktown's fighter patrols had a field day and shot down every one of the Japs in that first section.

"Meanwhile, the second section—the second half of the whole Jap dive bomber air group—came boring in. The Yorktown fighters caught them, too, and shot down 10. Four, however, got by.

"Those four did a suicidal job and they got three hits. That's really good marksmanship. One bomb landed 'way forward and one amidships. The third was an armor piercing bomb that went inside the carrier.

Fires Quickly Put Out.

"Immediately fires broke out, heavy smoke began to roll up, and engines ceased to turn. The big ship, which had been steaming hard, slowed down and came to a full stop. But the damage control squad went to work on the fires and in 30 minutes they were out. It was wonderful work.

"Pretty soon we got under way again and speed picked up to 17 knots. There had been nine fighter planes and seven SBD dive bombers on the flight deck when the first Japs hit us. All had been refueling as fast as

AMERICAN SUBS SINK 4 JAP SHIPS, BLAST 4 OTHERS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The navy today announced that United States submarines operating in the western Pacific had sunk four enemy ships and damaged four others in recent actions.

The successful attacks on these eight ships raised to 107 the total of Japanese vessels of all types which the navy here has reported sunk or damaged by American submarine attack.

The ships reported sunk by American submarines were two large freighters, a medium sized freighter, and one patrol boat. Damaged were two large freighters, one of which was set afire; a large transport, and a medium sized cargo ship.

The navy said these sinkings had not previously been reported and were not related to operations in the Solomon or Aleutian Islands.

The last previous report on submarine activities was issued Sept. 3, but there was nothing to show when the successes disclosed today had been accomplished. Since the early stages of the Pacific war, submarines have been hammering at enemy ships supplying Japan's mandated island bases and her garrisons in the Philippines, Malaya, the Indies, and the Aleutians. Of the total announced bag of 107 vessels, 32 have been naval craft.

KILL HUNDREDS OF ENEMY IN STREET BATTLES

Fighting Rages in City's Outskirts.

MOSCOW, Sept. 18 [Friday]—(AP).—Bayonet wielding Russian troops wiped out hundreds of German shock troops who smashed into Stalingrad's streets yesterday, and the main conflict still rages on the northwestern outskirts of the city where thousands of Nazis have fallen, the soviets announced early today.

Both Russians and Germans were fighting in cellars and on housetops on the fringes of the city, press dispatches said.

The repulse of the Nazi wedge into the city itself was related thus by the communique:

"During the night single detachments of Hitlerites were able to penetrate into some of the streets. Street fighting resulted which developed into hand to hand encounters. Toward the end of the day all detachments which had penetrated our positions were repulsed. The Germans left behind hundreds of dead and damaged trucks and tanks."

Destroy 54 Nazi Tanks.

Continuing the story of the epic struggle for Stalingrad, the communique said:

"Within two days one of our units destroyed 54 German tanks, 21 guns, and 12 motor vehicles. They wiped out about 1,500 enemy officers and men.

"On another sector our guardsmen routed a battalion of enemy infantry and destroyed eight tanks, two mortar batteries and 15 motor vehicles."

The army organ Red Star said the fate of the city lay in the hands of the outnumbered soviet fighter pilots, rushed to Stalingrad in the last few days. The newspaper's correspondent related graphically how the sky over the city was alive, with Nazi dive bombers and altitude bombers.

Nazi transport planes brought up fresh troops to airfields on the rim of Stalingrad. Documents found in one Junkers transport plane shot down by the Russians showed it had flown from a German field in Holland.

Reds Take Caucasus Point.

Southwest of the city, the Russians said, soviet troops and gunners still were smashing tanks, armored cars, ammunition trucks and killing German soldiers by the hundreds.

In the Mozdok area of the mid-Caucasus the Russians said one unit drove the Germans from an inhabited point, destroying eight German tanks and killing about 300 soldiers.

Southeast of Novorossisk along the Black sea coast marine units were said to have repulsed several enemy attacks and mopped up about a battalion of enemy infantry.

A Russian bomber formation also attacked a German occupied Black sea port, presumably Novorossisk, and sank two enemy mine sweepers and three torpedo boats and blew up an ammunition dump, the communique said.

Put Up 'Suicide' Fight.

BERLIN, Sept. 17 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—Soviet soldiers in Stalingrad are putting up a "suicide" fight against the Germans who have driven a wedge thru the city to the banks of the Volga, a Transocean news agency report said today.

"Stalingrad has ceased to be a solid block of resistance," it added, and parts of the city are "under complete control" of the Nazis.

Earlier, the high command dismissed the Stalingrad fight with this one sentence: "The battle for the fortified city of Stalingrad is progressing without interruption."

The radio reports said heavy, three-inch field howitzers, mortars, and anti-aircraft artillery as well as armored infantry and sappers were leading the German troops into the city step by step.

Finns Report Red Attacks.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Sept. 17 (AP).—For the second consecutive day the Finnish command reported today that the Russians were attacking heavily north of Lake Onega, and said that "altho repeatedly repulsed, the Russians continue to throw fresh troops into the assault."

THE CONDUCT OF THE WAR IS THE PRIME ISSUE IN THE COMING ELECTION

109 Girls Take Soldiers' Jobs at Army Post

Denver, Colo., Sept. 17 (AP).—The girls, a hundred and nine of them, have taken over the wheel as truck, staff car, and jeep drivers at Lowry field and sent that many soldiers back to military classrooms and airplane shop lines.

In a month's time Capt. Thomas Harris of Lowry field's automotive section has replaced his soldier motor pool crew with women who used to be, among other things, fashion experts, cooks, stenographers, Red Cross instructors, and seamstresses.

[Story of WAAC officers' arrival in Chicago for new duties and accounts of Chicago area women in war work are on page 27.]

"It's a Swell Job."

"It's a swell job and such a change from sitting in an office and you meet so many interesting people," says Barbara Mills, 19 years old, whose father, Col. Harry A. Mills, was taken prisoner on Bataan.

The women were hired thru federal civil service at $110 a month under a war department policy of putting women and civilians in all army post jobs not directly concerned with "hitting the enemy whenever and wherever we can reach him."

Have Varied Duties.

Typical of motor pool crews at army posts thruout the nation, the Lowry field girls serve as chauffeurs for officers, drive troop convoys to trains, and haul supplies and equipment in trucks.

Mrs. Jane Shelby, 24 years old, wearing turban, sweater, and denim pants, pilots a "recon," the motor pool's idiom for a reconnaissance car used in hauling sentries to their posts and leading troop convoys to train embarking. Mrs. Shelby used to run college shop style shows in a Denver department store.

Another Lowry driver, Mrs. Mary Bresnahan, instructed Red Cross motor corps classes before taking her assignment as a staff car chauffeur for officers.

VICTORY NICKELS, SANS NICKEL, TO CLATTER TODAY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The "victory nickel" the same old face with a different body—will begin rolling out of the federal mint at Philadelphia tomorrow, Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, disclosed today.

The new coin will consist of 35 per cent silver, 56 per cent copper, and 9 per cent manganese—but no nickel. The present design with the head of Thomas Jefferson on one side and his home, Monticello, on the other, will be continued.

The public soon may have to become accustomed to a plastic penny as a wartime necessity, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., said today. Experiments in the use of plastic as a substitute for copper in the penny have been carried on for several months by government officials in charge of the minting of coins, he revealed, and considerable progress has been made.

AMERICAN TROOP CONVOY REACHES BRITAIN SAFELY

LONDON, Sept. 18 [Friday].—Escorted by American and British warships, and with the additional protection of British royal air force flying boats near shore, another large contingent of United States troops arrived in Britain after a fast and peaceful Atlantic crossing, it became known this morning. The convoy was reported to have included some world famous ships, but there was no sign of German U-boat activity the entire trip, it was said.

Immediately after they debarked the troops entered special trains at the quayside and were taken to camps where they joined United States forces already here.

The new arrivals included members of anti-aircraft and transport units,

Agree to Slash School Day to Aid War Work

A defense council of suburban Cook county school administrators yesterday agreed to shorten the school day for all boy and girl students who wish to work on farms or in industry during the war emergency.

The recommendation stated that "every able bodied boy or girl old enough to be helpful should receive the coöperation of his school administrator in rearranging his program of studies to release him as early as possible in the afternoon to make his services available where they are needed."

Eliminate Study Periods.

Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools and chairman of the council, said most school heads will have the student attend four recitation periods in the morning and ask him to study in the evening, leaving six or seven hours free for labor. The traditional study period at school would be eliminated, he said.

Earl R. Sifert, Proviso Township High school superintendent, recommended reduced schedules for all students who plan to carry full time jobs outside school hours. He asserted that the health of the students must receive primary consideration.

Juggle Schedules to Help.

Sifert and Matthew P. Gaffney, New Trier Township school superintendent, said they have been juggling schedules around "every way under the sun" to allow boys to work in industry, which was said to have as serious a labor shortage as agriculture.

Elimination of physical education from the course of a student carrying an active extracurricular job also was approved. The council consisted of five high school and five elementary school superintendents.

Bar Possession of Gas Book in Another's Name

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Moving against black market gasoline transactions, the Office of Price Administration announced today that henceforth it would be illegal for a person to possess a ration book not issued to him, or to the use of which he is not entitled. A specific exemption to the amendment permits a person finding a lost book to return it to a local rationing board without violating the regulations.

INSIDE STORY IS OUT—HOW CROWE WAS NOMINATED

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

The inside story came out yesterday—how Robert Emmett Crowe, former Republican boss, was nominated as a Democratic candidate for judge of the Superior court. The story, vouched for by several Democratic leaders, was the principal topic in the corridors of the city hall and county building, where Democratic pay rollers abound.

Crowe was nominated at the Democratic judicial convention last Monday, but at the opening of the convention, when 49 ward committeemen were present, not one of them wanted Crowe. Not one of the country towns' representatives cared to vote for Crowe either. Result: A mutiny was in prospect.

Every Delegate Votes "Aye."

However, when the roll was called on the nomination, every delegate present voted "aye," according to the certification of Joseph L. Gill, secretary of the Democratic county central committee and secretary of the convention. By that time the 50th city committeeman had arrived to preside—Patrick A. Nash, elected as the representative of the 28th ward and chosen as chairman by the other committeemen.

What happened to swing the committeemen from anti-Crowe to unanimity in his favor was the subject of the pay rollers' conversation.

The Democratic judicial convention was called for 11 a. m. Monday in the Morrison hotel, where the party has headquarters. The convention had the duty of nominating candidates to fill vacancies caused by the deaths of Judges Walter T. Stanton and Robert C. O'Connell. Stanton was a Democrat; O'Connell a Republican.

Crowe's Name Comes Up.

A week ago today the name of Robert E. Crowe, uncle of the late Judge O'Connell and former state's attorney, was mentioned as a possible successor to Judge O'Connell, via the Democratic ticket. There were reports that he was preferred by Mayor Kelly and Nash.

Crowe was known as an expert bipartisan dealer who always played fairly with the Democratic bosses. But somehow, it was insisted yesterday, Crowe was not popular with the men who would have the votes to nominate the Democratic judicial candidate.

This was the situation when the Democratic committeemen met Monday as representatives of the people of a democracy, each committeeman to cast the entire Democratic vote of his ward or country district—a handful of men speaking for a million men and women.

The convention started behind closed doors. A nominating committee had been appointed by Chairman Nash. Ald. Henry Sonnenschein [22d] was chairman of this committee. On it were Ald. Joseph Rostenkowski [32], Ald. Hugh B. Connelly [11th], Ald. Fred Fischman [24th], and Committeemen Ray Moore [44th], and Chris Jensen [40th], with others.

Revolt Starts in Committee.

At the meeting of this committee, it was reported, every one present spoke against Crowe and refused to vote for him. Several committeemen had colleagues they wanted to put on the ticket. All said Crowe should not and would not be nominated. Notice of the revolt was carried to the other Democratic leaders waiting in nearby rooms.

Appellate Judge John J. Sullivan, described as the liaison man between the Kelly-Nash organization and the Circuit and Superior courts, was called upon to act. Judge Sullivan, with Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board and delegate of the 33d ward; County Treasurer John

SENATORS LINK FARM PRICES IN FREEZING SETUP

Aug. 15 or Sept. 15 Level Probable.

G. M. Gets Pay Boost

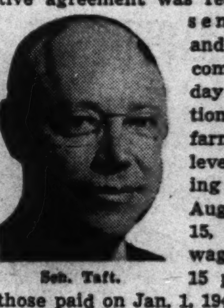
The War Labor board yesterday awarded a 4 cent an hour pay increase to approximately 225,000 employés of General Motors corporation, overriding most of the recommendations made by a panel which heard the case. The War Production board announced establishment of a new unit, headed by Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric, to better coordinate the nation's production program. Stories on page 35.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—Tentative agreement was reached by the senate banking and currency committee late today on stabilization of wages and farm prices at levels prevailing either on Aug. 15 or Sept. 15, and to limit wage increases to 15 per cent over those paid on Jan. 1, 1941.



Sen. Taft.

This informal action represents a compromise between the joint resolution for stabilization of wages and farm prices introduced by Sen. Prentiss M. Brown [D., Mich.] on behalf of the administration, and a substitute measure introduced today by Sen. Robert A. Taft [R., O.].

Taft's bill calls for a freezing of wages and salaries at Sept. 15 levels, subject to adjustment, and would limit pay boosts to 15 per cent over compensation received on Jan. 1, 1941. This is the "yardstick" recently adopted by the national War Labor board and would incorporate the agency's policy into law.

Bonuses to Be Considered.

Brown, one of the managers for the legislation, said after today's executive session that the committee also agreed to make special provision for employés who regularly receive bonuses at the end of the year.

The committee also is considering modification of the price ceiling standards for farm commodities contained in the price control act of 1942. The committee has made no decision on whether farm labor costs should be included in the computation of farm parity prices.

Earlier today President Roosevelt called legislative leaders to the White House to explain this phase of his anti-inflation message of Sept. 7. He told the leaders that he does not want a new parity price formula, to include farm wages, written into the pending legislation, which is on "rush order" for delivery to the White House by Oct. 1.

Farm Bloc Attempts Coup.

The farm bloc has seized upon a remark in the President's message that "calculations of parity must include all costs of production, including the cost of labor" as meaning that farm wages, not now included, should be taken into account in determining parity. In fact, Rep. Henry B. Steagall [D., Ala.], chairman of the house banking and currency committee, introduced a bill in the house which

Two Views on Winning War

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Gus Selberg, 54 year old potman at the Aluminum Company of America's Vancouver plant, completed seven consecutive 16 hour shifts the past week, a company spokesman disclosed.

His 112 hours of work in seven days produced enough aluminum to build nine fighter planes.

"I have a son with the navy somewhere in the Pacific," he explained. "I can't fight, but I can produce aluminum. Nine more planes today might end the war a day sooner and bring my son home a day earlier."

Alcoa officials believe Selberg set a national record.

"While such a long work week is definitely against the company's policy, we appreciate Selberg's voluntary efforts," David H. Beetem, superintendent of the reduction plant, said.

Ben Banks, 44 years old, president of local 738 of the Chicago Aluminum and Mine Mill Smelters [CIO], was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge yesterday for allegedly interfering with production of war orders at the Central Pattern and Foundry company.

Lieut. George Barnes of the police labor detail booked Banks for trial today in Racket court. He said the labor leader was in the plant and urging men to stop work to listen to him talk.

Banks, colored, lives at 4147 South Parkway. He and 11 other employés in the Central company plant at 3737 South Sacramento avenue allegedly were fired for union activity last week and on Monday the 250 workers in the plant refused to work. The strike was settled later in the day, but Barnes said Banks violated the agreement by returning to the plant.

'SUICIDAL JAPS' GOT YORKTOWN, SURVIVORS SAY

3 Navy Pilots Describe Attack on Carrier.

they could, right thru the attack, which didn't last more than 10 minutes.

"The crews just finished gassing the fighters when Jap torpedo planes were reported approaching us. The word was passed down for all planes that were ready for such a trip to take to the air and head for Midway. Other planes were to take off and land on another carrier near us.

Seven Ships Get Away.

"There was hardly any time before the Japs were on us, but in the interval before our skipper, Capt. Buckmaster, had to begin maneuvering the ship seven of those nine fighters got into the air.

"The anti-aircraft was already firing before those seven got off. And the fighters were taking off between shots of the 5 inch guns which were trained so low that the blast swept the flight deck."

There were between 10 and 15 Jap torpedo planes in the attacking squadron, Ensign Goldsmith said. The fighters and Yorktown scouts in the air went after them so hard that only three got thru the air screen, but of those three two got torpedo hits, he said.

"Both were on the port side forward in the admiral's country. They were within 75 feet of each other and hit about five seconds apart. All three of these planes came right on in and one crossed over the Yorktown's forward flight deck so low that our crews there could see the Jap pilot grinning and thumbing his nose at them.

Ship Shook as a Toy.

"Almost immediately after this plane crossed the deck it was hit and exploded into flames as it dropped into the sea. The boys on the deck immediately began kidding about that Jap—they called him the 'oxidental-oriental.'"

Ensign Goldsmith said that the torpedo explosions shook the big 20,000 ton carrier as if it was a toy.

"Three men standing on the deck got broken ankles from the shock," he said. "Another man standing on a lower deck was thrown up against the overhead and given a concussion. I was sitting in the officers' quarters under the flight deck and the first torpedo hit 300 feet from where we were.

"The blast blew open the door, knocked us out of our chairs, and flat on deck. The ship almost instantly took on a 30 to 40 degree list to port. That happened even before I could scramble to my feet.

Prepare to Quit Ship.

"In just a few minutes the word was passed around to prepare to abandon ship. I went back to my plane and got out the life raft stored there and walked back to the fantail—the rear of the flight deck. There were 300 enlisted men and two officers there.

"There came a moment when nobody said a word. It was really quiet with the Yorktown's engines and blowers stopped and the ship drifting to a stop. And right there a sailor leaning against a post drawled out: 'Aw, for Pete's sake, take it easy. There's enough water to go around.'

"Everybody laughed; the tension was broken. When the word came to abandon soon afterward, we passed the life rafts overboard and filled them in an orderly manner. Whenever we found a man who couldn't swim, we held a raft for him. Lots of the men went into the water without rafts or life jackets."

Ensign Goldsmith said he got into the water himself at 5;16 p. m. His watch stopped at that minute and hasn't run since. He was picked up by a destroyer.

"My worst moment was while I was in the water. All of us heard general quarters sounded on board the Yorktown. That meant prepare for battle stations, the next call, usually.

It Was a False Alarm.

"And there we were, struggling in the water, absolutely helpless. We were all covered with oil and it was on the water an inch or more thick all around the ship. We thought it meant the Japs were coming back to take a crack at us again. The Yorktown, of course, had stopped and was just drifting.

"The alarm was false, tho. It wasn't the Japs. Later we found out the lookouts still on the Yorktown had seen airplanes but the planes were our own —, some from another carrier launched in the final attack of the day against the fourth Jap carrier. We had sunk three earlier in the attack from which I returned to the Yorktown."

Lieut. Roberts, who was from the same carrier as Ensign Goldsmith—a different carrier than the Yorktown that may not be named for national security reasons — explained why the two men had chosen to alight on the Yorktown.

"We were nearly out of fuel after having gone out with our own air group and hitting the Japs about noon. The boys from our carrier and a group from the Yorktown hit three Japanese carriers in one big dive bombing attack. When we left them two were definitely sinking and one was burning and we later heard it sank.

"The carriers we hit were the Kaga and the Akagi, and either the Soryu or the Hiryu. In that fight and in trying to get away from the Zeros that caught us after the pull-out from our dives we were pretty badly shot up.

"Goldsmith and I and four other planes from our group joined up after the attack and started home.

"We were all hit. Goldsmith's plane was so full of holes my gunner took pictures of it with my movie camera. We wondered what kept the plane in the air.

Only Two Got Back.

"Of that formation of six only two of us got back—Goldsmith and myself. The others dropped out, one by one, as their fuel ran out. They landed in the water and some at least got into their rubber rafts.

"When we got in sight of the Yorktown we could see our own carrier only 20 miles away, but we both landed because we didn't think we had enough fuel to make it."

Ensign Ammen watched the dive bomber attacks from the catwalk around the Yorktown's flight deck where the anti-aircraft guns were mounted. All the Japs, he said, came so low in their dives that it seemed they would be caught in the bomb explosion. Of the 50 or better Japanese planes that attacked the Yorktown, he said, only two or three got away unscathed.

ROB TAVERN AND PATRONS.

Four armed bandits last night stole $360 from Steve Neuliat, owner of a tavern at 1656 Grace street, and then took $40 from the tavern's 20 patrons.

Rejects Gift of Marines on Makin Island.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—President Roosevelt today refused to touch a Japanese flag captured by the marines at Makin Island, which was brought to the White House for presentation by Lieut. Gen. Thomas Holcomb, commandant of the marine corps.

The flag was offered the chief executive at a double flag presentation together with an American emblem made by 350 seamstresses of the quartermaster depot at Philadelphia. Mr. Roosevelt accepted the national emblem but spurned the Japanese Rising Sun emblem.

"Bring up the Japanese flag, which I am not going to receive," Mr. Roosevelt said.

Lips Curl in Scorn.

The flag was unfolded. As Mr. Roosevelt looked at the emblem his lips curled in scorn.

"Take it back and put it in the marine archives," he directed. "I don't want to touch it."

Gen. Holcomb said he understood how the President felt about it. He explained that the flag would rest in the marine museum at Quantico, Va.

The flag was offered the President partly because his eldest son, Maj. James Roosevelt, was second in command of the marine unit which raided the island and seized the flag. The unit was commanded by Lieut. Col. E. F. Carlson.

Another in Museum.

Another Jap flag, the first captured by the marines, is already in the Quantico museum. It was captured by Col. Frank B. Goettge, who has since been reported missing in action.

In accepting the American emblem, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"When we get the kind of peace we are looking for and are going to get, this flag will be behind my desk."

The flag staff was crowned by a golden eagle.

Set 30 Mile Speed Limit for Lake County Police

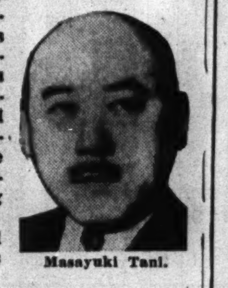
Chief Deputy Sheriff Walter L. Atkinson of Lake county yesterday set a 30 mile speed limit for the nine squad cars operated by the county and told his men it could be exceeded only in emergencies. He also instructed the deputies under him to hold motorists to 40 miles an hour on the highways. Violators are not to be arrested, but their license numbers are to be taken and they will be informed by letter that fast driving is unpatriotic.

WORK HARDER TO BEAT U. S., JAPS URGED BY NEW FOREIGN CHIEF

TOKIO, Sept. 17 [from Japanese broadcasts]—(AP).—Masayuki Tani, 53 years old, Japan's new foreign minister, tonight reiterated in his first official statement the empire's three major objectives and urged the Japanese to make greater efforts toward realizing them.



Masayuki Tani.

Tani summed up the objectives as:

Closer coöperation among the axis powers, defeat of the United States and England, and establishment of a new order in East Asia.

President of the board of information since Gen. Hideki Tojo became premier 11 months ago, Tani was appointed foreign minister today. He took over the post from Tojo, who held it provisionally since Shigenori Togo resigned Sept. 1. He also will continue as head of the board of information.

BRITISH ATTACK MANDALAY; BOMB SHIPS, DOCK AREA

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 17 (AP).—Japanese river craft and the waterfront at Mandalay, Burma, were attacked by British bombers yesterday for the second time in three days, a royal air force communique announced today.

"Bombs fell in the quay area and a direct hit was scored on a barge," the communique said. "The results of other attacks on steamers and barges were not observed."

All the raiding planes returned safely, as they did from an earlier attack on the Irrawaddy river waterfront of Mandalay on Monday.

ALLIED FIGHTERS SHOOT UP JAPS' NEW GUINEA BASE

Aid Forces Defending Port Moresby.

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 18 [Friday] (AP). — Allied planes pumped 35,000 rounds of cannon and machine gun fire into the Japanese invasion base of Buna in New Guinea to destroy or damage at least 15 barges and start fuel dump fires visible for 25 miles, a communique said today.

The destructive fighter plane attack on Buna, which feeds the overland drive toward Port Moresby, occurred while allied ground troops were locked in "sporadic fighting" with Japanese jungle troops at Ioribaiwa, only 32 air line miles from Port Moresby.

Allied planes also made attacks on Japanese bases in New Britain, northwest of the Solomons where United States marines apparently still were holding their own despite heavy Japanese pressure.

Fires Visible 30 Miles.

In a night attack on the big New Britain base of Rabaul "our heavy bombers raided enemy installations and the wharf area," the communique said. "Bombs were dropped on building dispersal areas, causing explosions and starting several fires visible for 30 miles and destroying grounded aircraft. Another attack was made by a single unit during the early morning hours."

One bomber also attacked Gasmata on the southern New Britain coast with "unknown results."

The heavy aerial stab at Buna had the twin objectives of relieving enemy pressure on the allied troops defending the approaches to Port Moresby, and drying up the Japanese source of supplies. The enemy has to haul his supplies by sea from upper New Guinea and New Britain down to Buna, then send them by native carriers across the Owen Stanley mountains.

Lone Foe Hits Moresby.

The communique said "a single enemy plane carried out an ineffective hit and run raid under cover of darkness" on Port Moresby. "There was little damage," it added.

Of the ground situation at Ioribaiwa the guarded assumption here was that the Japanese had been checked temporarily. The communique said merely that "sporadic fighting is continuing" there.

Ioribaiwa is some eight miles south of Efogi, where the Japanese were held for a week. The new thrust places the enemy only 12 miles from Itikinuma, a rubber plantation whence a hard surfaced road winds down 20 miles to Port Moresby on the southern coast.

BOMBER CRASH KILLS SOLDIER FROM WHEELING

Sergt. Gordon B. Schlottman, 25 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schlottman of Wheeling, was among six men who died Wednesday when an army bomber crashed into Double Oak mountain, near Birmingham, Ala., his parents were informed yesterday.

Schlottman enlisted in the army air forces in August, 1941, and was assigned to a bomber squadron at Drane field, Lakeland, Fla. He attended Crystal Lake High school and worked as a garage mechanic in Fox River Grove and Barrington before entering the service.

It was disclosed Wednesday night that Lieut. John A. Johnson, 24, of 1014 Ridge court, Evanston, was another victim of the crash.

TELLS HOW NAVY GOT SUB WHICH SANK YORKTOWN

Salisbury, Md., Sept. 17 (AP).—The United States navy "sure did" get the Japanese submarine that finished off the aircraft carrier Yorktown and torpedoed the destroyer Hammann, a member of the Hammann's crew said today.

Preston S. Richardson of Salisbury says he ought to know, because depth charges from other destroyers plopped all around him as he was in the water, one explosion injuring his spine and sending him to a hospital for three months. Richardson was on the Hammann when the two Japanese torpedoes struck. He said: "I jumped overboard but lost my life jacket and had to swim 50 yards to a life raft." It was then that the underwater explosions injured his spine.

But Richardson grinned when asked if the navy got the Jap sub. "They sure did, right after the submarine got us," he said.

THREE U. S. ARMY FLYERS HONORED BY MAC ARTHUR

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 17 (AP).—Awards of distinguished flying crosses to three army airmen were announced here today. Capt. Harry N. Brandon of Dallas, Tex., was cited for completing a California to Hawaii flight and making a successful landing at Hickam field on Dec. 7 during the first Japanese attack of the war.

Capt. Brandon, the citation said, brought his four motored bomber safely to earth despite American anti-aircraft fire and attacks by Jap planes. Dense smoke from burning installations almost caused him to crash into a burning plane on the runway on his first approach.

Second Lieut. Carroll J. Cain of Ivesdale, Ill., and Maj. Paul C. Davis of Dallas, Tex., ferry command officers, were cited for frequent flights between Java and Australia "in the face of intense enemy action" to evacuate allied officers.

28,251 AUSSIES MISSING, TAKEN WAR PRISONERS

CANBERRA, Australia, Sept. 17 (AP).—Australian war losses include 28,251 missing in action or captured by the enemy, Army Minister Francis Forde announced today. Of these, 7,667 are known to have been captured in the middle east, mostly in Greece and Crete, while 16,286 were taken prisoner or lost in Malaya.

Forde also announced that Australian married men up to 45 years old would be called for military service in rear areas as required to release younger men for front line duty. Forde said that men over 40 would be used only in auxiliary units, such as the army service corps, ordnance corps, and headquarters staffs.

CITE 79 ARMY AIR HEROES; 28 SLAIN IN PACIFIC FIGHTS

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 17 (AP).—Seventy-nine army air heroes were honored at Hickam field today for distinguished service in mid-Pacific action against the Japs. Fifty-one stood in the line of honor, flanked by 28 gray uniformed women of the Red Cross who represented the next of kin of those who had died. The nurses received the awards of the 28 dead and will pass them on to the nearest relatives.

"No power on earth shall stop us from attaining victory," declared Maj. Gen. Willis H. Hall, commanding the 7th air force, in extolling the exploits of the flyers.

Cam Archie Malone, machinist's mate, 1st class, now stationed at Navy pier, told yesterday how the United States carrier Yorktown went down in the Midway battle. Malone, who is 24 years old and from Boyce, La., was far below the flight deck when the first aerial torpedoes struck the Yorktown and as a result was one of the last to abandon ship.

Then he returned to the Yorktown in response to calls for volunteers to keep her afloat. He was still aboard when a Japanese submarine shot two fatal torpedoes into her side. Sayed with his shipmates, Malone watched the carrier slide under the waves. "It was like watching your home plunge down into the sea," he said.

Another Yorktown survivor, Russell H. Jones, 20, of Coffeyville, Kas., machinist's mate, 2d class, also told of his experience. When the order came to abandon ship he inflated an inner tube, threw it over the side, dived into the water, and grabbed the tube. So did two other sailors. The tube kept all three afloat until they were picked up.

British Wholesale Butchers Charge Retail Price; Fined

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Fines totaling $1,850 pounds [about $7,400] were imposed on a firm of wholesale butchers by a London court today for selling horseflesh for animal feeding at the retail rather than the lower wholesale price. Two persons accused of buying meat feeding-stuffs at a price above the ceiling were ordered to pay $8 each.

CHICAGOAN TELLS OF SHOTS THAT SANK YORKTOWN

Bombed Carrier Finished Off by Torpedoes.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 17 [Special].—A young Chicago sailor today told how he watched a Japanese bomb pierce the stack of the Yorktown, near his battle station high on the superstructure, yet spare his life when it exploded by delayed action below decks.

The sailor is Jule Bodenschatz, 23 year old storekeeper, second class, who survived the destruction of the gallant aircraft carrier in the battle of Midway.

Already a veteran of the Coral sea battle in which he witnessed the sinking of the Yorktown's sister ship, the Lexington, Bodenschatz described the spectacle of the Yorktown's final hours, when desperate efforts were being made to salvage the hull torn by bombs and torpedoes.

"Bode," as his buddies know him, related how Capt. Elliott Buckmaster, commander, while clinging to a life raft awaiting rescue, looked at the abandoned ship and remarked to the men near by:

"That's all right, fellows; we'll get another ship and come out again."

Shield Crippled Ship.

The Yorktown, still bearing scars of the Coral sea engagement, had been kept away from the center of the Midway battle, but enemy planes located her in midafternoon on June 4, Bodenschatz recalled.

"My battle station was high in the superstructure," he said. "I saw three bombs strike the ship as the Jap dive bombers pressed home their attack.

"One bomb pierced the stack near where I was standing and exploded below. If it hadn't been for that delayed action I would not be here to tell about it. That bomb started a fire and we all pitched in to extinguish it. We succeeded in doing so and in an hour's time we were under way again — everything under control."

Later two torpedo bombers managed to launch their "tin fish" into the Yorktown's hull. Order to abandon ship was passed and some of the wounded walked from the sick bay to the deck and slid down the ropes unaided so more men would be available to help their more seriously injured shipmates, according to Bodenschatz.

Skipper Rescues Negro.

The storekeeper was one of the last to leave the carrier. He swam to a lift raft ,where he saw Capt. Buckmaster plunge into the water to save the life of a Negro mess attendant unable to swim.

"After he made the rescue, the captain swam over to our raft and clung to it, refusing to take a place on it because it already was overcrowded," Bodenschatz declared.

Bodenschatz was taken aboard the destroyer Hammann, later torpedoed, and a day later was transferred to a cruiser.

Bodenschatz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jule Bodenschatz of 5038 North Hamlin avenue, Chicago, and was employed by the Illinois Bell Telephone company before joining the navy. A graduate of Von Steuben High school and a junior college course at North Park college, the bluejacket was attending night school at Northwestern university at the time of his enlistment.

ROBS DRIVER OF $189.

A Negro bandit boarded the truck of Bert Huber, a meat company driver, and stole $189 yesterday, Huber told police. The theft occurred at 3704 Indiana avenue.

'BALLOON BOMBS' OVER HUNGARY AS SOFIA HAS ALARM

Bulgarian Alert Sounds Amid Soviet Crisis.

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP).—Mysterious balloons laden with explosives were reported over Hungary tonight while the Sofia [Bulgaria] radio shouted an air raid warning and suddenly went off the air in the midst of a sudden crisis between Bulgaria and Russia over a consulate raid by Bulgarian police.

The Budapest radio officially warned Hungarians of a large number of enemy balloons floating over their country, but no other explanation was given of their origin or whether they were causing damage.

The Vichy news agency reported the balloons trail explosive or incendiary material on hanging cables intended to catch in telephone and high tension wires and cause short circuits.

Almost in the same hour the Sofia announcer broke off in the middle of a sentence to shout: "Air raid warning. Bulgarians keep calm." Then his station shut down.

No Raids Yet on Bulgaria.

Bulgaria has had air raid warnings recently, but no raids. The little Balkan country never has declared war against its old friend, Russia, but is definitely aligned with the axis as a partner.

The Moscow radio reported that Bulgarian police raided the soviet consulate in the Black sea port of Varna last Tuesday. The announcement said several outrages were committed, including theft of consulate funds.

The soviet minister of Sofia has protested vigorously to the Bulgarian government.

RAF Pounds Ruhr Hard.

Meanwhile, the British air ministry news service reported that last night's heavy raid on the Ruhr by the royal air force brought the tonnage of bombs dropped on Germany this month to nearly 5,000.

The strong force which hit the Ruhr probably was made up of 800 "night-destroyer" planes, of which 39 did not return.

Enemy raiders attacked an East Anglian town tonight, causing some property damage.

Admit Raids in Rhine Region.

BERLIN, Sept. 17 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—Civilian casualties, fires, and material damage were caused in several towns in the Rhenish Westphalian district of Germany last night by British bombers, the high command said today.

Raid German Sea Bases in Arctic.

MOSCOW, Sept. 18 [Friday]—(AP).—Raids by Russian planes on German occupied naval bases in the Baltic region were reported today by the Moscow radio.

Congo Press to Use News in English for U. S. Troops

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo, Sept. 16 [Delayed]—(AP).—For the benefit of American troops stationed here, the newspapers Journal de l'Avenir and Journal Colonial Belge have been begun publishing daily war items in English from the United States.

Dedicate 'Fly for Navy' Street Car

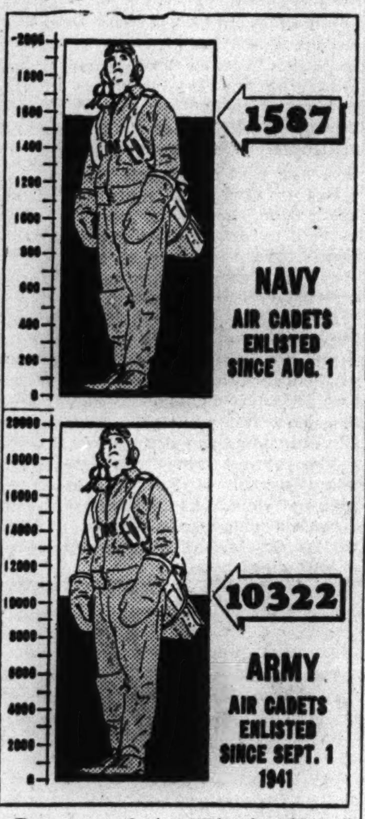
Lieut. Comm. Carl G. Olson breaks a bottle of water against the front of street car painted to spur enlistments in the "Fly for Navy" campaign. [TRIBUNE Photo.]



Progress of the "Fly for Navy" recruiting drive and the army aviation cadet recruiting drive.

Packed with newly enlisted sailors and soldiers, the Chicago Surface line's freshly painted street car, "Fly for Navy," was dedicated yesterday on Clark street in front of the city hall by David Mayer, State street merchant and chairman of the "Fly for Navy" campaign. The street car, resplendent in red, white, blue, and gold paint, with the words "Fly for Navy" emblazoned upon both sides, will operate for one week on each car line.

Yesterday's enlistments brought to 1,587 men the number sworn in since Chicago's "Fly for Navy" recruiting drive was launched Aug. 1. The cadet board has 13 days to meet its August and September goal of 2,000 pilots.

The Army Aviation Cadet Examining board, in the old postoffice building, reported 34 additional cadets were sworn in during the 24 hour period ended at noon yesterday, bringing to 10,322 cadets the number accepted since the present drive was launched Sept. 1, 1941. The goal is 20,000 cadets by Jan. 1.

U. S. RELIEF SHIP REACHES FRANCE WITH FOOD, MILK

MARSEILLES, France, Sept. 17 (AP).—American Red Cross headquarters was beseiged with telephone calls today as word spread telling of the arrival of the Red Cross ship Mount Everest with a $1,000,000 cargo of milk and food for children of unoccupied France.

The relief ship brought back 40 men who had families waiting for them in France whom they had not seen for two or three years. Most of these men were from French ships immobilized in America, plus a remnant of the crew of the Normandie.

CHARGE GERMAN AIDED ESCAPE OF GRAF SPEE CREW

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Sept. 17 (AP).—A congressional committee today asked that the German naval attaché, Capt. Dietrich Niebuhr, be declared persona non grata because it charged him with aiding in the escape from interment here of former German crewmen of the scuttled Nazi battleship Graf Spee, who returned to the fight as submarine raiders off the South American coast.

The committee, investigating anti-Argentine activities, took this action after the British government had made inquiries on the reported lack of vigilance over the interned German crewmen.

Congress was asked to adopt a resolution asking President Ramon S. Castillo's "prudent neutrality" government to oust Capt. Niebuhr.

Aided by Agents.

The committee said it had "succeeded in establishing that in the flight of officers of the crew of the Graf Spee the naval attaché of the German embassy accredited to our country coöperated actively and was directly aided by the efficient coöperation of a widespread network of agents spread thruout this republic and neighboring nations."

The committee criticized the government for its lack of vigilance over the seamen, pointing out that more than 100 of the 1,000 interned Germans had escaped.

Escaped, Sank Ship.

One German seaman, Rodolfo Goldschmidt, was quoted as writing to a friend in Germany:

"The only reasonable course is that Germany invade Argentina. The people are so lousy that the country can be captured inside an hour."

The committee said one escaped Graf Spee officer, Lieut. Commander Jurgen Wattenberg, described the sinking of a Brazilian freighter in a Berlin propaganda broadcast June 20.

"This achievement against a neutral vessel brought Wattenberg a decoration from the German government," the committee added to bear out its contention that former Graf Spee seamen now were fighting off the South American coast again.

The Graf Spee was sent to the bottom off Uruguay after being damaged in a naval engagement with a British squadron in December, 1939.

BOMB THROWN IN NAZI-ALLIES FEUD IN BUENOS AIRES

[By wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Sept. 17.—Climaxing agitation by so-called "nationalist groups" against those whom they call "war mongers" or people who favor closer coöperation between Argentina and the united nations, a bomb was thrown late this afternoon against the offices of the democratic morning daily, La Prensa.

The office of the paper is in one of the most crowded thorofares in Buenos Aires. Plate glass windows were shattered and considerable confusion was caused.

Previous incidents in the struggle between neutralists and interventionists have taken place chiefly in Buenos Aires university where numerous fist fights between students of opposed political tendencies have taken place.

INSIDE GERMANY: DRAB MONOTONY OF DRABBER FOOD

Tribune Man's Wife Tells of Life in Berlin.

Eating in Berlin during this war is fine, if you like flour-thickened soup two or three times a day, potatoes oversalted and overboiled, lots of asparagus, carrots, and turnips, and ices made with sirup. You soon forget what other dishes look like, especially fish, fruit, and meat.

This unappetizing culinary analysis was given yesterday by Eugenie Small, wife of Alex Small, Chicago Tribune foreign correspondent. Mrs. Small arrived in the United States some time ago aboard the Drottningholm, neutral Swedish liner, after spending more than a year in Berlin with her husband. They later were interned for five months at Bad Nauheim.

Bombings Worried Nazis Most.

"But the Germans had not been living in Paris for 20 years as I had, so the food was bearable," she said. "In fact, they were concerned about the air raids a good deal more than the lack of food. I went thru about 40 good bombings with them and they didn't care for those nerve racking experiences a bit."

Mrs. Small said Germans were receiving a meat ration of 350 grams [about 13 ounces] a week. Beef and pork are the staple meats, but all meat is covered with a chemical sauce, she said.

"The meat just didn't have any taste for me, probably because they fed ersatz [substitute] food to the cattle," she explained. "And, of course, no one ever serves chicken—the chickens are supposed to lay eggs."

All Fill Up on Potatoes.

Filling up on potatoes is a national habit, Mrs. Small said. They are "boiled and boiled and boiled" and liberally dosed with salt. However, they keep the people looking plump and well fed, she added.

The other vegetables also are subjected to a marathon boiling, Mrs. Small recalled, and usually are served in the soup and in the main course, as well.

Fish is very scarce, altho salmon, herring and smoked eel are available occasionally, and fruit is almost nonexistent. Oranges, however, appear in the winter and families are usually permitted five a week for a short time, Mrs. Small added.

New Clothes Hard to Get.

Mrs. Small said the average German family has desserts about twice a week. Usually they are ices made with sirup rather than fruit, or pastry made without butter or eggs. She had no complaints about sugar, since she always got two lumps for a cup of coffee in her Berlin hotel.

As for clothes, the correspondent's wife said new outfits were very hard to get but that the Germans usually looked clean, neat, and well pressed. She said most of the men, knowing a war was coming, had bought several suits in advance.

Worst of all was the shoe situation, which made it impossible for any one to possess two pairs simultaneously, she said.

Hope War Will End Soon.

In general, Mrs. Small feels the average German is pro-Hitler but sick of the war and hopeful it will end soon, one way or the other. She said the Germans were distressed when the United States entered the war because they feared it would last longer and they might lose it.

However, every one is working in Berlin and there is plenty of money, she added. The only problem is how to spend the money. Since there is limited buying in the stores, many Germans are spending their earnings on theater tickets and they seem to enjoy Shakespeare's plays as much as Hitler's windy speeches.

SOCIALIST, FORMER PETAIN AID FLEE TO JOIN DE GAULLISTS

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP).—Charles Vallin, vice president of the old French Rightist party, Croix de Feu [Cross of Fire], and one-time mainstay of Chief of State Marshal Petain's régime, has arrived in London and joined the "Fighting French," De Gaullist headquarters announced tonight. He was accompanied in escape from occupied France by Pierre Brussolette, former foreign editor of the Socialist newspaper, Le Populaire.

A "Fighting French" spokesman declared exultantly that "Petain once considered Vallin one of his chief props." He added that the "Fighting French were confident that the Croix de Feu, which once claimed 1,000,000 members, would follow Vallin in opposing the Vichy régime.

Vallin is the first powerful Rightist leader to escape France to join the "Fighting French." Brussolette is the third prominent Socialist to join the De Gaullists in London recently.

Joined by Diplomat.

ANKARA, Turkey, Sept. 16 [Delayed]—(AP).—Jules Blondell, former Vichy French minister to Bulgaria, who was ordered to return to France last month, has instead left Vichy's service and is on his way to join Gen. Charles de Gaulle in the middle east, a "Fighting French" announcement said today.

SAFE PASSAGE IS REFUSED TO RED CROSS SHIP

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Norman H. Davis of the American Red Cross announced today that because the Japanese government had refused safe passage across the western Pacific to a neutral vessel, it had cancelled the charter of the Swedish ship Kanangoora.

This neutral vessel was to have carried supplies for American military prisoners and civilian internes in Japan, occupied China and the Philippines. The ship is in San Francisco, and the mail and packages for identified prisoners in Japan are being transferred to the neutral exchange ship, the Gripsholm.

The Gripsholm will sail shortly on her second voyage with Japanese to be exchanged for non-combatant Americans at the neutral port of Lourenco Marques, Portuguese East Africa. The mail and supplies will be carried to Japan on Japanese ships, where Dr. Fritz Paravicini, international Red Cross delegate, will supervise distribution.

WILLKIE FLIES TO KUIBYSHEV, REDS' 2D CAPITAL

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Sept. 17 (AP).—Wendell Willkie arrived by air today at this branch capital of the U. S. S. R. He came from Teheran, Iran, on an air tour which has taken him thru the middle east and which will include China.

Willkie was accompanied by Joseph Barnes and Gardner Cowles of the Office of War Information.

Tours to inspect a new hydroelectric plant on the Volga river and the new sites of war industries moved back from Russia's western war zone have been organized for him.

EGYPTIANS ADOPT ENGLISH AS BEST FOREIGN TONGUE

Troops Spread Language Among Natives.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 17.—The war is effecting a language change in Egypt and spreading the use of English, even if often it is only pidgin English. Thus, the war is preparing a means for spreading Anglo-Saxon or American ideas in this part of the world.

The change is being produced thru the presence all over the country of troops whose only language is some form of English. The dealings of most of them with the inhabitants are rather limited but the sum total is impressive. Since they, even at best, do not learn more than three or four words of Egyptian Arabic, the natives are forced to pick up a little English.

In Cairo I note that many gharry, or taxi drivers, news vendors and cigaret hawkers now have an English vocabulary of as much as 20 words, wheras four years ago they had none.

Own Language Difficult.

All this might mean little if it were not symptomatic of a general movement. Formerly English was known only to those who had to use it in business—the personnel of tourist hotels, merchants of luxury articles, men in the shipping business and some banking and government officials. The trend is marked among the more prosperous classes toward studying and acquiring English.

They are thus bowing to the inexorable facts. Their own tongue—Egyptian Arabic—they can hardly hope to impose on any considerable number of foreigners with whom they must deal. Its difficulties are enormous, the chief of which is the system of writing, employing shorthand strokes and dots and dashes which are hard to master and extremely trying to untrained eyes.

Until the present the preferred foreign language has been French. In this, the Egyptians have been in line with all peoples of the eastern Mediterranean basin, the Balkans and even with east-central Europe as far north as Poland. This supremacy of French dates back to the Crusades, in which French leaders were sustained by the French kings of the 16th and 17th centuries when France was at the height of its power, and continued with Napoleon.

See End of French Power.

But in almost 55 years of British occupation, Eygpt of necessity has turned to English in some departments. In the national bank, however, the French language has never seriously been challenged.

People able to afford it and wanting western education for their children are usually able to find only French speaking schools. The belief was fixed that, however valuable English was for business, French was the only language of "culture."

The present movement toward the abandonment of French marks the feeling here, as elsewhere, that France's catacysmic defeat of 1940 meant the end of France's place as a first class power.

12,000 ITALIAN WAR PRISONERS EMPLOYED ON FARMS IN BRITAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 17.—To relieve the labor shortage, 12,000 Italian war prisoners now are working on British farms and by the end of the year the number is likely to be increased to 20,000, it was announced today.

Nearly all the Italian land workers are trained, a ministry of agriculture official said, and "are very willing and have done really well."

The prisoners are paid between sixpence [about 10 cents] and a shilling [about 20 cents] daily. Most of them live in camps.

HIGH OVER STUKA ALLEY IS WHERE RAF FIGHTS AXIS

Writer Gets Rubberneck's View of Battle.

BY DANIEL DE LUCE.

WITH THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN THE WESTERN DESERT, Sept. 17 (AP).—Above Stuka alley, where you rubber-neck in a steel hat, the RAF and the axis fought it out again today for mastery of the Egyptian front.

You're on El Ruweisat, the ridge paid for in blood, between the turquoise surf of the Mediterranean and the hot, bleak wastes of the Qattara depression. You crouch inside a small circular wall of rocks piled up by the Italian infantry not long ago.

You stare across no-man's land at Marshal Erwin Rommel's outposts and count his armored vehicles rumbling to new havens from the dusty north-south track and try to keep tab on the whirling dogfights in the bleached blue sky.

Weary and licking their wounds after their assault on British warships at Tobruk early in the week, the Nazi Stukas [dive bombers] have temporarily deserted the battlegrounds bearing their nickname. But the skies are overrun with Messerschmitts, Hurricanes, Spitfires—one confusion of blazing fights high over sands littered during three months with the blackened wrecks of tanks and aircraft while changing hands a half dozen times.

Armored Convoy Disperses.

An armored convoy of more than 100 vehicles has scuttled into a wide dispersal as "Hurribombers" lay explosives with uncanny precision and fight off Messerschmitts at the same time.

Spitfires swooping down from the top cover make the Nazi pilots in turn very unhappy.

Out of range of the British 25 pound batteries, the enemy convoy might have gone thru unscathed had not the RAF's flying artillery spung into action.

Six planes were seen falling behind the axis lines and there was no way of telling their identity immediately. But the RAF usually outscores the Nazis even on a tough offensive assignment like this.

"Our chaps at the front would not trade places with Jerry," said a lean and amiable lieutenant, who is an English lord.

The Egyptian front, hardly more than 40 miles from end to end, is unusually static, except for the continual air force clashes, but no soldier expects the lull to last much longer.

Line 6 Hours from Cairo.

You drive out of Cairo over the muddy Nile, past the Cheops pyramid and the snub-nosed Sphinx and in six hours or less you are under the fire of axis guns. It is more than 170 miles by military roads skirting the lush green delta. You see lots of new American equipment.

Along the coast natives in ankle-length gowns and tiny skullcaps cling to their mud homes amid date palms and fig trees, heedless of the war. You meet a jangling carrier returning from El Alamein with a derelict enemy tank.

You leave the coastline on the rough, gritty "Bombay road" and catch glimpses of the melange of races in the eighth army—British imperials of almost every description, including black Basuto tribesmen, bayonet loving Maoris, as well as Poles and French.

Eat Beef, Drink Beer.

After a snack of bully beef and canned beer with the India battalion, you hike over the rugged ground Rommel lost in the summer to a dump of abandoned enemy material—ammunition, uniforms, and a few love letters scattered in the dust.

Stooped over, you run across a barren rock quickly and sprawl behind the meager ramparts of an advance post. You're facing the enemy now across no-man's land. Over Stuka alley, almost as if you had given the cue, the sky fight starts.

"Stick around a few more weeks," says the soldier beside you, "and we will split a bottle of Chianti in Bengazi."

Walker, who resigned to run for congress.

BERWYN SCHOOL JOB SELLER GETS 1 TO 5 YEAR TERM

Ernest Holub, a member of Berwyn school board No. 98, was sentenced yesterday by Judge George Fred Rush in Criminal court to one to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of accepting a bribe from a Berwyn school teacher to get her the teaching position. The court recommended that Holub serve a minimum and maximum sentence of a year in prison.

Holub, 41 years old, was convicted in a bench trial on the testimony of Miss Vera Prochaska, 310 Southcote road, Riverside. She testified she paid Holub $150 for her job as a teacher after the school trustee told her it was customary to make such payments. She said she made the payment in December, 1939.

Holub admitted he interviewed the teacher at his home at 1410 Elmwood avenue, Berwyn, but denied he demanded or accepted any money. He said he was attending a birthday party for his mother on the day when Miss Prochaska said she paid him $100. Holub who was given a 60 day stay of sentence was prosecuted by Assistant State's Attorney Gordon Nash. Holub's attorney, Lloyd Moody, said he would appeal.

2 FREEDOMS INSPIRE PAN-AMERICAN SOCIAL SECURITY GATHERING

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 17.—The ideals of "freedom from fear" and "freedom from want" were evidenced as the underlying inspiration of nearly all statements made in the course of "the first Inter-American conference on social security," sponsored by the international labor office, which closed its meetings last night.

The conference brought together delegates from all countries on the American continent, including the United States and Canada.

The work accomplished covered a wide field and included establishment of "the first social security code adapted to economic and social conditions in the American countries."

The Mysterious Case of Mr. Smith

1. Mr. Smith had the gang guessing. Regular guy, owned a small home, had a wife and swell kid. Never made a lot of money. Never spent much. But—

2. Was Mr. Smith putting one over? Come 9 A. M., and there was Smiddy at his desk, always looking jaunty as a screen star. Dressed better than The Boss. Could it be—

3. No, perish the thought. Mr. Smith was honest. Mr. Smith had no rich uncle. Mr. Smith was just a smart hombre, that's all. Jim King hit the first clue that day in the washroom. Sneaked a look at the label in Smith's coat. And then—

4. And then, Mr. Smith confessed—told all. Seems he was an "all-wool" fiend. It was blue-bloods or nothing, for him. "Give me goods that's the real McCoy", he confided, "and I'll show you a suit that stays smooth under any kind of beating. With doggone little pressing, too. This one hasn't been under the iron in three weeks. A short rest on the hanger, and back she is in swell shape". And then Smiddy let go with this, "Of course, my store has a name for selling only good stuff". Foxy, eh? Particularly now, when all of us want good all-wool clothes that'll stand up longer. But wait—like all mysteries, this one has an ending with a wallop. Smith whipped it over like a bombshell. "Stop guessing", he chuckled, "I own just two suits. But you see, both of 'em are Bond's!"

REJECT BRITAIN'S ARMISTICE DEAL FOR MADAGASCAR

French Decide to Fight on 'to Extreme Limit.'

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP).—Surrender terms laid down by the British have been rejected by the outnumbered Vichy French defenders of Madagascar and they have decided to fight "to the extreme limit," Vichy announced today.

The day after the colonial governor general, Armand Annet, had requested terms from the British to halt the fighting, Vichy broadcast a communique saying the British stipulations "appear to be unacceptable to such an extent" that Annet could not even consider them.

"All measures are being taken to continue the struggle despite the disproportion in forces and means," the radio continued.

British Still Advance.

The British, meanwhile, were believed continuing their advance toward Tananarive, inland capital of the island, which began when the royal navy and the royal air force attacked three key points on Madagasgar's west coast Sept. 10.

The principal fight appeared to be on the road to Tananarive, the capital, 230 miles southeast of Majunga, one of the three key ports captured by the British.

British Terms Not Disclosed.

There still was no official information in London on the progress of the negotiations between Annet and the British commander, which the Vichy radio now indicated have been broken off. Nor was there word here of the terms proposed by the British.

In asking the armistice, Annet requested that the talks be arranged "to find means by which we can cease fighting with honor."

Twelve bowling alleys will be erected on the stage of the theater,

Clark said he called the dog Major Von because of his military bearing.

VATICAN ENVOY TO RETURN TO POST IN ITALY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull said today that Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's personal representative at the Vatican, is returning to his post despite the fact that Italy and the United States are at war.

Myron C. Taylor.

Replying to press conference questions about Taylor's future activities, Hull said he would resume his mission to the Vatican and would remain there for a limited time.

Asked if this meant the Italians had granted safe conduct to the President's emissary, Hull replied that would have to be assumed. [The Vatican state is entirely independent of belligerent Italy. However, it is entirely surrounded by territory of a nation at war with the United States.]

ALLIED PLANES BLAST BENGAZI; TWO SHIPS HIT

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 17.—A daylight attack yesterday by heavy allied bombers on Bengazi, axis port 500 miles west of the Egyptian battlefront, was reported in a British communique today. Hits were scored on two ships, one of them being set afire, the communique said. The previous night heavy bombers attacked Tobruk, also a vital axis supply port.

The British said their fighter planes were active over the desert battle area, shooting down at least two enemy aircraft and damaging many others. Only patrol skirmishes and artillery exchanges were reported on the land front.

Italian Submarine Sunk.

ROME, Sept. 17 [from Italian broadcasts].—The high command announced today that an Italian submarine has been lost in war operations and reported that allied planes had bombed Bengazi. It also said that axis planes and anti-aircraft guns had shot down seven British planes.

ADD 760 TO NAVY CASUALTY LIST; TOTAL IS 13,628

Names of 103 Chicagoland Men Are Given.

One Phones Mother

Ottawa, Ill., Sept. 17 (AP).—Victor Molinoski Jr., 19 years old, listed as missing in a navy casualty list today, telephoned his mother, Mrs. Victor Molinoski Sr., that he was in California, was O. K. and on his way home. Molinoski is a pharmacist's mate, third class.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—In its 12th casualty list of the war the navy disclosed an additional 760 men dead, wounded or missing, bringing the total since the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor to 13,628. The latest list, said the department, covers members of the navy and marine corps. No coast guard casualties are included.

Included in the total are 103 men from the Chicagoland states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin. Illinois had the largest with 35, made up by 11, dead, 16 wounded, and 8 missing. Totals for the other four Chicagoland states were Michigan, 22; Iowa, 21; Wisconsin, 14, and Indiana, 11.

Accidents Included.

The major share of these casualties resulted from direct action with the enemy, the navy's announcement said, but also included are the names of those who were lost in accidents at sea and in the air while on duty directly connected with wartime operations. Natural deaths or accidents not connected with operations against the enemy are not included.

Some of those listed as missing may have been rescued at sea or landed at isolated spots or otherwise made their way to safety at places where they have had no opportunity to communicate with naval authorities, it was explained.

Total Since War Began.

The following table shows the number of men in the various casualty categories announced since the beginning of the war:

| | Dead. | Wounded. | Missing. |
|---|---|---|---|

BATAAN NAVAL COMMANDER IS PRISONER OF JAPS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 [Special].—The war department reported today that Capt. Kenneth Mortimer Hoeffel, who commanded American naval forces which fought at Bataan and Corregidor, is a prisoner of the Japanese in the Philippine Islands. He is a native of Oconto, Wis., but his home is at Cambridge, Mass.

Officials said the information concerning him, the first of thousands believed captured in the Philippines to be identified definitely as a prisoner of war, came thru the International Red Cross at Geneva, but they were unable to explain why only his name was reported. He was included in a list of 30 Americans held by the enemy.

Among eight men interned at Frontstalag, Germany, is one Illinois resident, Olaf Olsen Fosse of Chicago, of the merchant marine. His sister, Mrs. Olova Bruntersen, resides at Chicago.

Women Warned Against Copying U. S. Uniforms

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16 (AP).—The navy served warning today that women who copy too closely the uniform of the WAVES would be liable to a $300 fine or six months' imprisonment, or both. "Feminine fashions may tend toward the motifs of the navy but are prohibited by law from copying too closely the naval uniforms," the announcement said.

AGREE ON PLAN TO FREEZE FARM PRICES, WAGES

Aug. 15 or Sept. 15 Level Yet to Be Approved.

would have revised parity by including farm wages.

Altho the main purpose of new restrictions over farm prices is to reduce from 110 to 100 per cent the level at which maximum price ceilings may be imposed on farm products, this action in revising parity upward would nullify the intentions of the requested legislation, according to administration officials.

After the White House conference, Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley issued this statement:

"We had some words with reference to the bill that we wanted clarified.

"First—In the President's message the phrase 'cost of labor' in perfectly good faith was misunderstood by a great many people who thought that, in addition to the parity formula, a new element had been added. That is the cost of farm labor. By this he meant the cost of labor going into the cost of farm prices which are already taken into account in the parity formula.

"Second—Parity is a perfectly justifiable figure which goes up and down with the cost of things the farmers have to pay. That is already figured in the present farm parity."

Republicans to Coöperate.

Republicans met today to decide their stand on the pending legislation for wage and farm price control. The conference adopted a resolution that "The Republican conference recognizes the present situation with respect to living costs" and "believes action is necessary."

The resolution said that the Republicans will "coöperate in an effort to work out a wise solution of the problems presented to the senate and the country."

Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] said the consensus of the Republican conference was that wages and farm prices should be stabilized simultaneously.

The Illinois senator proposed an amendment permitting maximum farm prices to be fixed at parity levels provided they take into consideration increases in the cost of farm labor due to the draft, gasoline rationing, and the competition of war industries. Compensation to the farmer for his increased labor costs is necessary, Brooks said, to insure an adequate production of food for victory.

Weaknesses Ironed Out.

Taft's measure provided that "no private employer shall pay, and no private employé shall receive, any wage or salary for any particular work in excess of the wage or salary paid by such employer for such work on Sept. 15, 1942, unless such wage or salary when increased is less than 50 cents an hour, or unless an increase in such wage or salary is approved by the national War Labor board, but the President may by regulation exempt from the foregoing limitation any particular class of employés, such as household servants, agricultural laborers, or others whose wages he finds unimportant in their effect on inflation or impractical to regulate."

Taft's bill remedied some inherent weaknesses in the Brown bill, which were criticized strongly during the two days of public hearings by the senate banking committee. It specifically directed that the national War Labor board shall have control of wages, including voluntary wage negotiations; it provided penalties for violating wage and salary regulations, and reduced the alternative levels at which farm price ceilings may be imposed.

The price control act of 1942 at present contains four alternative levels. Taft would reduce these to two—parity, or the highest market price prevailing between Jan. 1 and Sept. 15, 1942. But the Taft bill also would give the price administrator leeway to impose lower maximum prices than under these restrictions "to the extent that he finds it necessary to correct gross inequities."

NELSON ECHOES M'NUTT WARNING ON LABOR DRAFT

Will Take Step if Needed, Says WPB Chief.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—A further warning that the administration is preparing to draft labor for war work, assuming full control over the nation's man power resources, came today from Donald M. Nelson, War Production board chairman.

He said that to sustain maximum production, workers must be available where they are needed by war industries. He told a house investigating committee:

"If it can be done voluntarily, well, that's fine. But if it can't be done that way, it must be done some other way."

Before Tolan Committee.

Nelson appeared before the Tolan committee on defense migration which is studying ways for complete utilization of man power in war production.

Paul V. McNutt, director of the War Man Power commission, told the group yesterday that a national service act giving the government absolute authority over labor resources is on the way.

He described such legislation as "inevitable" and said, in his opinion, "the people are ready for it. He predicted that by 1944 the fighting forces and war industries will be taking practically every other adult American.

McNutt said a special committee of the Man Power commission is studying the scope of the labor draft legislation, but no final decision on its terms has been reached. Presumably it would empower the government to transfer workers from one area to another as needed and prevent craftsmen from changing jobs without the sanction of the administrating agency.

Nelson said he had not studied the advisability of the McNutt proposal, but told the committee it is the job of the Man Power commission to make sure workers are available, adding that he and McNutt would work in coöperation in meeting labor supply problems.

The WPB chairman also said that war production in 1943 will exceed the previous goal of 60 billion dollars' worth. The volume of production is dictated by the supply of raw materials, a matter which has received much of his attention for the last year, he said.

"Nearer to Rolling Now."

"We're nearer to rolling now than ever before," he testified, "but shipping and other factors may change the picture overnight. Ours is the most gigantic job of scheduling ever attempted."

At one point he stated, "We're almost at maximum production in this country now," but later explained to reporters that he had meant to say that the WPB has reached a point where it can estimate the eventual rate of production of various war plants, determining for the first time what the maximum will be when the peak is reached.

Nelson was asked about the project to build larger cargo planes as advocated by Henry J. Kaiser, west coast construction genius, and denied any conflict exists between the WPB and the army and navy, altho he admitted there are "healthy" differences of opinion at times.

"If You Add, You Subtract."

The army and navy has not been favorable to the big planes Kaiser seeks authorization to build. Nelson explained it is a question whether the chiefs of staff consider them more important than other planes already in production. He added:

"Production has reached a point where, if you add something to our program, you have to subtract something else from it."

Earlier the committee heard Wendell Lund, director of the WPB's labor production division, urge that inspectors be placed in all important war plants to see that labor is being "efficiently utilized."

FUEL OIL ORDER WILL BE STUDIED FOR EFFECT HERE

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, said yesterday he will procure a copy of the War Production board order on fuel oil rationing to determine its effect upon the city ordinance which compels landlords to heat apartments to 68 degrees from 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. between Sept. 15 and June 1. According to the WPB order, fuel oil rationing will go into effect Oct. 1 in 30 states, including Illinois, and the supply to be furnished is expected to provide for a temperature of 65 degrees. Dr. Bundesen said after he obtains the order he will submit it to Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes for an opinion because the city heating ordinance affects all apartment buildings whether heated by oil, coal, or gas.

ARMY'S HEALTH IS BEST EVER IN WARTIME

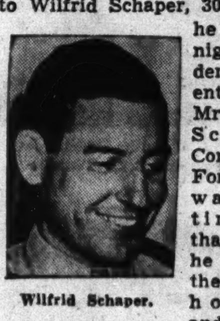
Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Secretary Henry L. Stimson reported today that the health of the army in this country was better than ever before during wartime, with fewer men admitted to hospitals or confined to quarters than last year.

"During 1941 and thus far in 1942 the death rate has been the lowest in army history, excluding overseas and battle casualties," the war secretary told a press conference. "This experience is more remarkable considering the rapid expansion of the army."

HOME BEATS FLYING TIGERS' LAIR, SAYS A FOREST PARK VET

The comforts of home looked good to Wilfrid Schaper, 30 years old, as he relaxed last night in the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Schaper, 1014 Commerce street, Forest Park. It was the first time in more than a year that he had enjoyed the comforts of home cooking and a soft bed—the first time since he enlisted in June, 1941, for duty as a chief mechanic with the American Volunteer group.



Wilfrid Schaper.

Schaper said living conditions of the famous "Flying Tigers" in China were far from homelike, but added, "I guess they were adequate for wartime." He now hopes to enter private industry as a mechanic, altho he says he may return to the 77th pursuit squadron at Hamilton field, N. Y., from which unit he enlisted in the AVG.

465,000 CHICAGO PUPILS TO JOIN SCRAP HUNTERS

Mayor to Call Children Into Action Oct. 1.

A school children's crusade to gather scrap for the war program will be started Oct. 1, it was decided yesterday at a conference between William L. McFetridge, metropolitan area salvage director, and school officials.

The drive is part of a national campaign which will be launched Oct. 5 by the War Production board. Chicago's 465,000 school children will join the multitude of 30 million other children who will search homes, farms, and shops for scrap metal needed to keep the nation's war output at capacity.

The signal for the Chicago drive will be given Oct. 1 in a radio broadcast by Mayor Kelly, civilian defense coördinator; James B. McCahey, president of the school board, and William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools. The Cook county and parochial school systems will be embraced in the program.

A Task for Each Child.

McCahey said that every Chicago school child will have a rôle in the drive. He said each school's student governing body will establish a salvage patrol, with a representative in each room.

"In a real sense our school children will be performing a vital duty as citizens in the war effort," McCahey said. "The need for scrap by the steel mills is critical and constitutes one of the major problems of the war program."

McCahey said the school drive will continue until Thanksgiving day, after which totals collected by each school will be tabulated as a basis for the making of awards for the best performances.

Salvage Depot in Each School.

Teachers, engineers, janitors, and other employés will participate in the campaign, he said. Salvage depots will be constructed in each school and school employés will be assigned to supervise their operation.

Special squads will be assigned to handle heavy or bulky scrap, altho most discarded household articles will be brought by hand, toy wagon, or automobile. Scrap which is difficult to remove will be reported to teacher salvage wardens, who will notify McFetridge's salvage staff.

McFetridge emphasized that Scrap Harvest day, Nov. 26, will not end the scrap drive, but will mark the close of one phase of a continuous program to provide the nation's war plants with needed materials.

Army to Provide Trucks.

Transportation facilities—a serious problem in the national salvage program—were offered by the war department. Secretary of War Stimson announced that army trucks and personnel would be made available whenever possible for the gathering of scrap. The trucks will be employed only in areas near army camps and stations in order not to interfere with normal duties.

The 6th service command headquarters in Chicago awaited an order assigning trucks for the scrap collection duties. McFetridge said the use of the army trucks will be a strong morale stimulus to the drive.

"When the public sees an army truck pull up to a salvage depot, it will have more persuasive effect than a ton of folders describing the national salvage campaign," he said.

NAME DIRECTOR OF WOMEN'S AIR ARMY IN CHICAGO

Appointment of Mrs. George J. A te, 754 Buena avenue, as director of the women's air army was announced yesterday by John J. Louis, president of the Air Force Sponsors of Chicago.

The women's air army, with an anticipated membership in the Chicago area of more than a million women, will act as an auxiliary to the Air Force Sponsors, principal civilian recruiting aid to the army aviation cadet examining board.

Maj. Floyd M. Showalter, president of the cadet examining board, said yesterday that to attain the goal of 20,000 flying cadets by Jan. 1, it will be necessary to recruit one man between the ages of 18 and 27 from every 40 families in Cook county. Maj. Showalter said that recent weeks have shown a steady increase in the number of daily enlistments, bringing the total since Sept. 1, 1941, to 10,322 as of noon yesterday.

LUXEMBURGERS HERE BITTER AT NAZIS' BRUTALITY

Many Have Relatives in Homeland.

Thousands of Chicagoland residents born in Luxemburg or whose parents were born there are aroused over reported mass deportations of that country's people by Germany, Fred A. Gilson, president of the Luxemburg Brotherhood of America and chancellor of the Luxemburg consulate here, said yesterday.

Fred A. Gilson.

Gilson estimated there are 25,000 persons in Cook county whose families came here from the tiny European nation. He said most of these have close relatives still living in Luxemburg. Gilson, a naturalized citizen, said he has two sisters and three brothers living there.

"I can readily feel for the Luxemburg people," he said. "They do not want to be German. They are a strongly independent, freedom loving people, with a democratic government."

Action Inexcusable.

Anthony Kremer, proprietor of a greenhouse at 6424 Ridge boulevard, said practically all who came here from Luxemburg are "extremely bitter" over the German actions.

Gilson said most of the immigrants from Luxemburg came to the United States between 1890 and 1910. Their settlements, centering in Chicago, largely are in Illinois and neighboring states, and the people generally are florists, truck gardeners, and farmers.

Fight Nazis Grimly.

The German military government of the World war period was bad enough, Gilson said, but it permitted Luxemburg to maintain its civil government units.

From those escaping the country, Gilson said, it has been learned that 98 per cent of Luxemburg residents voted against incorporation into the German nation last year. They have bitterly resisted compulsory production of armaments and forced military service in the German army, he said.

HEAR OF EXECUTIONS.

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP).—In a dispatch datelined "from the German frontier," Reuters news agency reported today that the Germans had announced the execution of the leaders of Luxemburg miners and steel workers who went on general strike last week in protest against Nazi measures.

The dispatch quoted the German announcement as saying "ringleaders and inciters of the general strike have been captured and handed over to just punishment," adding that some "already have atoned for their crimes, while others are awaiting their sentences."

TANKER SINKINGS FORCE CANADA TO CUT GAS RATION

'Colossal Loss' Reported by Munitions Minister.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 17 (AP).—Canadian Munitions Minister C. D. Howe told the nation tonight that tanker losses were "colossal," and that a new gasoline rationing plan reducing nonessential motoring by almost half, would become effective Oct. 1.

In a nation-wide broadcast Howe also warned that anyone depending on fuel oil for heating this winter "will do so at his own risk."

Because of the "impact on Canada of submarine warfare" and other factors Canada's gasoline reserves, he said, were about 20,000,000 gallons less than a year ago, and stocks of crude oil and unfinished products are about 40,000,000 gallons less.

Motorists' Rating Shifted.

Those using gasoline for nonessential motoring are to be moved from the present "A" category into a new classification, "AA." They will be allowed to purchase 16 units for class one, or lighter type cars, between Oct. 1 and March 31, 1943. Eighteen units will be allotted class 2, medium sized cars, and 20 units for class 3—the larger types.

The gasoline unit is three gallons in the maritime [eastern seaboard] provinces, four in Quebec, Ontario, and British Columbia, and five on the prairies.

In the present "A" category a driver is entitled to 60 units a year and in the six months from Oct. 1 to next March 31 would be entitled to 30 units, almost double the "AA" allowance. In "A" category the driver with a class 2 car ordinarily would receive 34 units every six months and 38 units in class 3.

Tankers Held in Port.

"In the month of July," Howe said, "not one ocean tanker reached Halifax. . . . At one period the submarine situation was so grave that all tankers were held in port for 12 consecutive days. There were times when we had no crude oil at all in storage at either Halifax or Portland [Maine]."

Howe said "the pipeline from Portland, Me., to Montreal, upon which much reliance had been placed, was of little benefit, because of the difficulty of getting ocean going tankers into Portland."

He pointed out also that Japanese advances in the Pacific had cut off many Pacific sources of oil supply.

MERIT EMBLEMS PRESENTED TO 2 SCRAP DEALERS

Merit emblems were presented to two Chicago scrap dealers yesterday by Eugene L. Dunne, chief of the WPB auto graveyard section.

Those honored were Sam Wilson, who operates a small auto wrecking yard at 1669 Elston avenue, and Warshawsky & Co., a large scrap dealer at 1922 South State street. Wilson shipped 109 tons of auto scrap in August and Warshawsky, 859 tons.

"They're both tops in their respective classifications," Dunne said.

Other Chicago scrap dealers may qualify for the awards by increasing their monthly shipments by one-third over their average during the first half of 1942, Dunne said. The award may be revoked if scrap shipments fall materially.

OVERSEAS VOTE IS 'UNFEASIBLE,' STIMSON HOLDS

Objection Brings Attack by Sen. Herring.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson today said it would be "impracticable" to deliver absentee war ballots to members of the armed forces stationed overseas in time for voting in the November elections.

Under an act approved by President Roosevelt yesterday the war and navy departments are required to deliver forms for absentee ballot applications to all members of the armed forces, wherever stationed.

Cites "Technical" Difficulties.

Stimson refused to say specifically whether the war department will comply with the law. However, he repeated the contention of the war and navy departments that it would be "unfeasible" to deliver the ballots because of transportation and "technical" difficulties.

Sen. Clyde L. Herring [D., Ia.], author of an amendment extending privileges of the absentee voting law to service men overseas, denounced Stimson as a "burocrat" who fancies himself above the law.

"The senate and the house have Mr. Stimson's objections before them," the senator said. "Congress determined that there was no merit to those objections. The question now is whether he's going to comply with the law.

Warns Congress Will React.

"But if they attempt to disfranchise the boys who are fighting this war, congress will have something to say about it."

Herring said the transportation of a war ballot overseas would present no greater problem than the delivery of a letter from home.

HELD FOR THEFT IN LOOP; SHOT FLEEING POLICE

Raymond Sullivan, 32 years old, accused of stealing a handbag in the loop store of Marshall Field & Co., was shot and slightly wounded in the hip by policemen when he attempted to escape into the noon traffic at Randolph street and Wabash avenue.

Sullivan was seized by store employés in the luggage department and was taken by police to the Wabash avenue entrance of the store to await the arrival of a patrol. He suddenly darted across Wabash avenue with policemen in pursuit.

The patrolmen ordered him to halt and when he refused Policeman Joseph Keating shot him. He was treated on the spot by Dr. Warren Johnson, one of the many spectators, and then taken to the Bridewell.

THE DIARY OF AN ARMY NURSE

The eye-witness story of 165 terrifying days and nights of war in the Philippines as told by Lieut. Ruth Straub, A. N. C., of Milwaukee, to Marcia Winn, Tribune reporter.

IN A FETID basement beneath an army hospital at Manila, as the little building shuddered and shook beneath the bombing of a foe indifferent to the law protecting an open city. . . .

In the moaning wards of a makeshift hospital set up in the long white corridors of a tunnel cut beneath 400 feet of the rock that is Corregidor. . . .

Under the terrifying night sky of the jungle of Bataan, with cobras and iguanas lurching thru the foliage beside cots of pain as the dive bombers of the Japanese zoomed overhead. . . .

An army nurse, Lieut. Ruth Straub, A. N. C., sat and wrote in the black order book she called her diary.

Three times she and a handful of fellow nurses, they who were known as the Sisters of Bataan, escaped — from Manila to Bataan to Corregidor—but always the foe followed.

And every night during those first 165 days of the war in the Philippines, Lieut. Straub, a native of Milwaukee, wrote of that day's events.

When she finally escaped to the United States, she took with her only her official papers, a picture of the fiance who was killed at Manila, and her diary.

Beginning on Sunday, Sept. 20, and for nine succeeding days, the Chicago Tribune will publish excerpts from this valiant document of the war in the Philippines, together with Lieut. Straub's own story as told to Marcia Winn, Tribune reporter.

Don't miss "The Diary of an Army Nurse," stark record of 165 terrifying days and nights of war in the Philippines!

AWARD FOR WAR WORKERS WON BY BELDEN EMPLOYE

Invents Device to Speed Vital Wire Output.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

An American who served four years with the Canadians in the first World war is the winner of The Chicago Tribune War Workers' Award for August. He is Kenneth Hope, mechanic and maintenance man for the Belden Manufacturing company, Chicago. His achievement is a development which speeds the production of vitally needed insulated wiring and conserves critical materials.

Hope will be presented with the award, a gold pin studded with three diamonds, at a radio program on station W-G-N at 9 o'clock tonight. Presentation will be made by Henry T. Heald, chairman of the award committee and president of the Illinois Institute of Technology, with representatives of the Belden company participating.

Hope's suggestion is a simple little device to hold wire guides concentrically in place on wire insulating spindles. Under the old method much time was required to set the devices in place on hundreds of machines in the Belden plant.

Saves Machine Shutdowns.

The job was a precision one requiring the services of skilled men. The guides had to be reset every few hours, during which time production was stopped on a machine.

Now the guides are screwed into place by a worker who can learn how to do it in a short time. Once in place the guides need not be changed for days.

THE TRIBUNE recently carried a story describing Hope's work. It brought an unexpected development at the Belden plant. Reading it, Hope's fellow workers were inspired to see what they could do to help improve his idea. And they did a lot to improve it, altho the idea was basically Hope's. Edward M. Starsine was particularly helpful. His contribution improved the device so that it screwed more easily into place, and had a new oil retainer which improved lubrication.

Inspires Fellows.

"Hope's work proved a real inspiration in our plant," commented Charles Roberts, plant superintendent. "It made Ken's fellow workers intent on helping him improve his job."

Installation of Hope's device, which is expected to cut operating costs at least $6,720 a year and to speed production considerably, was started in August on machines in the plant. However, it will be weeks before all the hundreds of machines can be equipped with it.

Hope, who is 46, has been with Belden for 11½ years. Born in Watertown, New York, he enlisted in the Canadian army at Toronto when he was not quite 18. He served in most of the heavy fighting in which his regiment took part in France and was wounded in action. He lives with his wife and 15 year old daughter, Georgina, at 1643 South 51st court, Cicero. Georgina attends Morton High school.

Normally the Belden company manufactures insulated copper wire, cables, and terminals. Operations now are devoted entirely to war work.

THE TRIBUNE award is presented once a month to workers in war plants in Illinois and Lake county, Indiana, and Kenosha and Racine counties, Wisconsin. Besides Chairman Heald, members of the award committee are Charles M. Thompson, dean of the school of commerce of the University of Illinois, and James L. Donnelly, executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers association.

NATIVE GERMAN DEPRIVED OF HIS U. S. CITIZENSHIP

Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday revoked the citizenship of Albert W. Krause, 46 years old, a naturalized German engineer and precision instrument technician, on a charge that Krause was guilty of disloyal and seditious statements. It was the first such case in the history of the federal courts here.

Judge Sullivan ruled that Krause at the time of his naturalization in 1929 had never intended to renounce his loyalty to the land of his birth. Under formal entry of the court ruling today, Krause will be subject to internment as an enemy alien.

Action on the New York Front

Shell Explodes

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—An anti-aircraft shell accidentally discharged
1. from a craft in New York harbor, today landed in the garden of a residence at Westerleigh, Staten Island. The eastern defense command announced that no damage was done and no injuries were caused when the shell exploded.

The shell struck in the garden of Mrs. Selma Dohlmar and drove into the ground three feet. Mrs. Dohlmar described the incident as a "loud thud." The shell exploded in midair.

For a while there was considerable excitement among citizens of the small village in the interior of Staten Island, which is in New York harbor.

Raft Found on Coast

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—The eastern defense command announced to-
2. day that a small raft had been found along the Atlantic coast of Long Island near the Hamptons last night and that a shot was fired in an unsuccessful attempt to halt a prowler.

An army beach patrol, together with police and coast guard, later searched the vicinity but "discovered nothing unusual." The announcement said the incident occurred about 10 p. m.

The "Hamptons" referred to in the announcement are a group of villages on the south shore of Long Island about three-quarters of the distance from New York to the island's tip at Montauk Point. The location is within 25 miles of the point at Amagansett Beach where four Nazi saboteurs landed in June.

Newspaper men who were permitted to view the raft on the beach near Westhampton said it appeared to have been constructed haphazardly of timbers and planks of varying sizes and appeared to have been in the water a considerable time.

PANTANO, KILLER OF POLICEMAN, DIES IN CHAIR

John Pantano, young leader of the "Three Hat gang," was put to death in the electric chair in the county jail early today for the murder of Park Policeman Charles Williams last December. Pantano struggled slightly as he was led to the chair—the result of nervousness, said Warden Frank Sain. The current was turned on at 12:01 a. m. and turned off four minutes later. Pantano was pronounced dead at 12:07 a. m.

Pantano, who was 20 years old, spent his last hours writing farewell letters after Gov. Green had refused clemency.

Policeman Williams was shot to death last Dec. 10 in an attempted holdup in a tavern at 4301 North Western avenue. Pantano was traced thru his hat, which he dropped near the scene. Two other hats found near other crime scenes also were traced to the gang, accounting for the gang's nickname. Charles Theos and Joseph Moreale, Pantano's accomplices in the Williams killing, testified against him and received prison sentences.

Name Biddle Ambassador to 2 Exiled Governments

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—President Roosevelt today nominated Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr. of Pennsylvania to be ambassador to the exiled governments of Jugo-Slavia and Greece in London. Biddle is now serving as minister to these governments and the nomination constituted a rise in rank with respect to those governments. Biddle also is ambassador and minister to several other exiled governments.

3 FLYERS KILLED AS NAVY PLANES COLLIDE AT SEA

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 17 (AP).—The fifth naval district announced today that an officer and two enlisted men were killed in the collision of two navy land planes over the Atlantic ocean yesterday about five miles from Kitty Hawk, N. C.

The dead — all occupants of the same plane: Ensign Thomas McGrath, USNR, Providence, R. I.; Richard W. Cotton, seaman, first class, USN, Danville, Va., and Thomas E. Watkins, aviation radioman, third class, USN, San Diego, Cal. Occupants of the other plane escaped injury, the navy reported.

McGrath's plane plunged into the ocean, but the other was able to reach land safely.

PHYSICIANS CALL OFF CONVENTION BECAUSE OF WAR

Because of the war, the American Medical association has canceled its 1943 convention scheduled to have been held in San Francisco, an announcement by the organization's board of trustees said yesterday.

Instead a joint meeting of the house of delegates, trustees, scientific councils, and officials of the association will be held in Chicago in June.

The convention was to have been the 94th annual session.

OUR WAR IN THE PACIFIC.

The obvious, tho neglected, solution of our rubber problem is to defeat the Japs and thus recover the places the rubber comes from. It is for just such purposes that we have a navy.

On the record of the fighting in the Pacific to date, as made public in Washington on Wednesday, the Japanese naval losses have been much heavier than our own. For example, they have sunk only two of our aircraft carriers, the Lexington and the Yorktown, but we have sunk six of theirs, we probably sank another, and damaged four more. In most of the other categories the showing is favorable to us. We claim the destruction of 26 Japanese destroyers against the loss of 10 of ours and of 11 of their cruisers as against 1 of ours.

Our submarines, and especially our airplanes, accounted for all but a few of these successes at sea. In the land fighting against the Japanese the record has been mixed. We were defeated in the Philippines, but were successful in wresting some of the Solomon Islands from the enemy and have held our ground against repeated counterattacks, some of them of a very determined nature. On New Guinea, Gen. MacArthur trapped the Japanese at Milne bay, but the Japanese have succeeded in breaking over the Owen Stanley range and appear to be advancing upon our base at Port Moresby. If they get it, our position, both defensively and offensively, will be greatly weakened and theirs correspondingly strengthened.

These circumstances are mentioned because they point a moral. We have whittled down the Japs at sea and in the air and if we now concentrate more of our available strength against them we can expect to have a clear preponderance of force, sufficient to roll them back. We have ships and planes to send across the Pacific if we choose to do so. We also have trained soldiers and the arms they require. Vast numbers of men are not needed, as the successful operation with a small force in the Solomons shows, but the general commanding should have sufficient strength at his disposal to permit him to maneuver freely.

Thus far, we have fought the Japanese with half measures. The result is that the Japanese have been able to take and hold positions in the Aleutian Islands, to advance in New Guinea, and to assault our newly won base in the Solomons. The Japanese are threatening our existence in the western ocean and their occupation of the British and Dutch plantations and oil fields across the Pacific is costing us heavily. All of these threats and damages could be prevented if we threw a greater part of our strength into the Pacific war.

Why isn't this done? The most plausible explanation is that the seaboard millionaires in the east and the expatriates from Europe who hang around Washington and New York are having too much influence in the conduct of the war, to the detriment of the national interest. These people have their attention focused upon Europe, and to them the war in the Pacific is scarcely more than a side show.

This one sided view of the war no doubt has already cost us many precious lives in the Pacific fighting without giving us a decisive advantage to repay us for the sacrifice. We might have the Japanese on the run by this time. We might be well on our way to the recovery of the rubber plantations and the tin mines. It is time the American spirit made itself felt to compel a sufficient concentration of the national effort upon the war in the Pacific to assure a speedy victory.

"A CERTAIN REMEDY IN THE LAW."

The men who wrote the constitution of Illinois included in its bill of rights the declaration that "every person ought to find a certain remedy in the law for all injuries and wrongs which he may receive in his person, property, or reputation; he ought to obtain by law right and justice, freely and without being obliged to purchase it, completely and without denial, promptly and without delay."

That is part of the fundamental law of this state and it was not placed there as a guidepost to Utopia. It was intended, as is every other constitutional provision, as a day to day admonition to the courts to see that justice is done.

This constitutional provision has been invoked by two husbands who are suing to terminate by divorce the writs of separate maintenance obtained by their wives. Repeated acts of cruelty are grounds for divorce in Illinois and it is the husbands' contention that their wives' actions, forcing them to live in the unnatural status of separate maintenance, constitute such cruelty. The charges have been backed by Prof. Ernest W. Burgess of the University of Chicago, a student of marriage as a social institution. He testified that separate maintenance frequently has been invoked as an instrument of punishment and cruelty by vengeful wives.

Prof. Burgess might have gone further. Separate maintenance not only has been used as a means of punishment but has frequently been made a device of extortion and blackmail. Greedy women have used the action to enforce on their husbands a status in which they are neither married nor free to marry and as a price for terminating this outrageous situation have demanded, and often obtained, extortionate divorce settlements.

The wide powers of the courts in divorce cases to require support for wives and children are sufficient to solve any of the economic problems growing from an unsuccessful marriage.

THIS MAY HURT A LITTLE.

A number of readers have asked us to explain the point of the cartoon reprinted from Punch on this page on Wednesday. The picture was of a dentist spanking a small boy. We don't believe there would have been any mystification if the line which belonged under the picture had not been lost in our composing room. The dentist was quoted in the missing line as saying, "This may hurt a little." It is a text which printers might well take to heart.

"APPROVED BY THE WHITE HOUSE."

An ingenuous editorial in the Jackson [Miss.] Daily News last Monday—the day before the Mississippi primary election—provides a shocking disclosure of how the New Deal is subordinating the prosecution of the war to partisan politics. Wall Doxey, the New Deal rubber stamp senator, was running for renomination. Opposing him was James O. Eastland, a lawyer and planter, who held an ad interim appointment as senator between the death of Pat Harrison and the election of Doxey.

In Mississippi the Democratic nomination is equivalent to election, and the New Deal had just enough experience with Mr. Eastland during his brief stay in Washington to notice he had a regrettable independence. As the Jackson News said, "he made himself persona non grata at the White House." In further comments in an editorial entitled "The President Needs Wall Doxey," the newspaper stated:

"That President Roosevelt and the party administration want to see a full expression from Democratic voters in Mississippi at the senatorial primary Tuesday was clearly shown today when orders were issued by Director Donald Nelson of the War Production board to the managers of all war industries in this state directing them to allow employés to be absent from their work long enough to go to the polls and vote. From high authority comes word that this order was approved at the White House.

"It has been repeatedly announced from Washington in recent weeks that President Roosevelt believes it is highly important for the Democratic administration to remain in control of congress during the war period, and the President desires a thoro awakening of Democratic voters thruout the nation in order that this may be accomplished."

From this refreshingly candid little essay one gathers that Mr. Roosevelt thinks it so essential to maintain his yes-men in office that he is willing to direct his war production chief to bring the war effort to a halt in order to keep them there. In Illinois we have a law that permits anybody to take two hours off from work to vote. In Mississippi they may not have such a law, but Mr. Roosevelt, when things look close, is willing to go out into the highways and do some proselyting. Mr. Nelson, who is supposed to be doing a nonpartisan job to insure the national security, is found willing to make a political accommodation on the matter.

This is what the President has called "adjourning politics for the duration," and recalls his intervention in the New York Democratic convention and the encouragement he gave to the purge that backfired. Perhaps the worst mistake of the sympathetic editor in Jackson was to print such an undisguised declaration of Mr. Roosevelt's intention. When the voters of Mississippi discovered what was up, they nominated Mr. Eastland and retired Sen. Doxey to a well earned rest.

MAX AT 70.

The Maximilian society in London gave a dinner a few weeks ago to Max Beerbohm on his 70th birthday. Desmond MacCarthy, the essayist, presided with a wit and grace to match the occasion. He recalled along the way Wilde's observation that "the gods bestowed on Max the gift of eternal old age" and concluded as follows:

"Words, words, words. What are words, at least mine, compared with what I am commissioned to offer you by the Maximilians: One dozen Beaujolais; one dozen Chambolle-Musigny, 1923; one dozen Beychevelle, 1933; one dozen Lignorelles, 1934; six bottles Niersteiner Domthal, 1935; six of pale golden sherry, and three of the finest Madeira of great age, 20 years in bottle. In vino veritas: Believe in our gratitude and affection."

We quote these remarks in the hope that their quality may suggest to readers who are not yet acquainted with Max's writing and cartoons that the acquaintance is worth making. As a starter, we suggest "Seven Men," and "A Christmas Garland."

DIOCLETIAN'S OPA.

[Rocky Mountain Herald, Denver.]

The Rocky Mountain Herald, constitutionally out of step with the times, recalls a book of 1911 by Frank Frost Abbott describing "one of the most extraordinary pieces of bombast, mixed metaphors, loose syntax, and incoherent expression that Latin literature possesses."

He was referring to an OPA edict, not ours, but Diocletian's. Diocletian in 301 A. D. was puzzled by growing scarcity of goods and increased purchasing power. There were no Hendersons or Nelsons in those days, but Diocletian had a consort, Maximianus, to whom he had delegated imperial power, also there were a couple of Caesars, Constantius and Galerius, who were being groomed, as government aids, for imperial succession. Thru these gentlemen Diocletian fixed maximum prices of more than a thousand commodities, ranging from 2 to 150,000 denarii. This was Rome's first attempt at price control, affecting everything from goat hair to river fish. The edict had 18 sections. The 10th stated:

"Who, therefore, can be ignorant that an audacity that plots against the goods of society is presenting itself with a spirit of profiteering, whereas the general welfare requires our armies to be directed, not only in villages and towns, but along every highway? That it forces up the prices of commodities not fourfold, but to such a degree that human language cannot find words to set a proper evaluation upon their action? Finally, that sometimes by the outlay upon a single article the soldier is robbed both of his bounty and of his pay, and that the entire contributions of the whole world for maintaining the armies accrue to the detestable gains of plunderers. . . . ?"

How it worked is obscure, but one Lactantius, describing the persecutions of Diocletian, wrote: "And when he had brought on a state of exceeding high prices by his different acts of injustice, he tried to fix by law the prices of articles offered for sale. Thereupon, for the veriest trifles much blood was shed, and out of fear nothing was offered for sale, and the scarcity grew much worse, until, after the death of many persons, the law was repealed from mere necessity."

There is now no shortage of fancy wrapping paper for Christmas packages, which is mentioned as a hint to do your holiday shopping before the fall rationing season.—Illinois State Journal.

Under the new meat rationing program, we understand the minute steak is to be even more minute, and the T in the T-bone will be lower case.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

VARIOUS AND SUNDRY.

The sports columns have their stalwart characters in the flying corps and the marines, and the society columns have their natty ensigns and lieutenant commanders, often photographed when getting married. So it's about time that the arts-and-letters columns mentioned the name of a soldier from their own ranks. We give you Edward Barry, music critic of THE TRIBUNE for the last seven years, who is now making his debut at Fort Sheridan.

We were thinking of Pvt. Barry when we slapped into the copy for the Line Book of 1942 a sonnet called "Lines to a Young Pianist." He may consider this bit of verse dedicated to him, without the author's knowledge or consent.

Stanley Johnston's epic of the Lexington's share in the battle of the Coral sea, expanded into book form, is almost ready for the eager customers. Watch for the title, "Queen of the Flat Tops," which was a contribution from Larry Rue in London.

Correction to our recent remarks on monuments in Graceland cemetery: The columns of the Potter Palmer memorial are not Corinthian, but Ionic. . . . Add celebrities who are buried there: Bob Fitzsimmons, the prize fighter.

The current glossaries of odd English words for the guidance of American soldiers have overlooked "elevener," which means a workman's forenoon meal. According to the last English detective story we have read, the charwoman's form for it is "elevenses."

Maybe they are calling this war "global" because it was started by a fellow who had been seeing things in crystal balls.

ACTION, PLEASE.

I have need of sweet romancing orchids, moonlight and some dancing or of seeing in your eyes an ardent look with a heart that's wildly beating
I have hope at every meeting but you settle down in comfort with a book

O it's hard to be adoring and decidedly quite boring when the man-in-charge just doesn't seem to care
my technique seems to have rusted guess my glamor should be dusted when I sit for hours playing solitaire

now, my darling, I like quiet
I don't want to start a riot but this madness won't indefinitely keep
I react to your attraction only when you show some action so wake up! my sofa's not a place to sleep! little girl.

A Trip on the Seraph.

There were three streamlined trains from which to choose for our week-end trip. My wife objected to the Mercury because the name begins with M. The unromantic Iconoclast was unthinkable. What would her friends say? Rather than stay home she chose the Seraph.

My wife was delighted with everything except that the seat was too low, the window was not located to suit, there was no ottoman, and the light fixtures were not to her taste.

In the diner the waiter aims the food at an adjoining table, and if he has judged the next lurch of the train correctly, you may get it. You nearly always get somebody's food, anyway.

Skill is required to hit that little gash in your face with a forkful of food. You aim at the mouth of a neighbor and hope the right lurch will land the morsel in your vicinity. With everybody using the same plan, some food will reach you, altho maybe not what you ordered.

There was just one streak of scenery from the time we started until we stopped. We started with the sun, but soon left it behind. If there was a herd of cattle, and a little further on a herd of sheep, and still further on a field of corn, we were always under the illusion that the live stock were in the corn.

It seemed we made the round trip in no time at all and, I almost forgot, the taproom was swell.

W. L. Hudson.

THE HOMELY WORDS.

How friendly to the ear and eye one finds
The good old Anglo-Saxon of his sires,
Whose homespun speech beside their warm hearth-fires
Wove for our native tongue the tie that binds!

Strong, rustic, oaken words like truth, and hand,
And earth, and youth, and house, and hope, and home—
These, welcome to the mouth as honeycomb
And kind to sight as sky, or sea, or land,

Rooted and deeply rest, close to the whole
Plain worth life holds for men who breathe and grow
One with the herds they tend, the fields they sow,
The hills they seek for health of heart and soul.

When dearth, or love, or sadness weigh the breast,
No bright, embroidered language serves our need—
For words that never fail of human heed
The good old Anglo-Saxon breed is best.

WHAT IS A HERNIA OR RUPTURE?

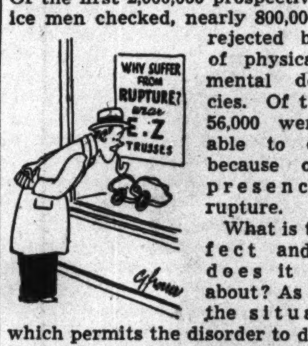
RECENTLY, because of the widespread examinations of draftees, our attention has been called to the subject of hernia. Of the first 2,000,000 prospective service men checked, nearly 800,000 were rejected because of physical and mental deficiencies. Of these, 56,000 were unable to qualify because of the presence of a rupture.



What is this defect and how does it come about? As a rule, the situation which permits the disorder to develop is the fault of the individual's own anatomy. The front wall fibers were not built strongly enough. Injury is not a primary cause, unless a severe strain is repeated over and over again. Even then a prior susceptibility is probably necessary to cause a frank rupture. The very existence of the deformity means that some structure within the abdomen has been forced out of bounds.

The wanderer is usually a loop of the small intestine which is covered with peritoneum [the lining of the abdominal cavity] which serves as an inclosing sac. But other areas may be involved. For example, the colon, the bladder, the appendix, or even an ovary may be pushed beyond the limits of this space.

There are two doorways [in males] in the groin for the exit of important structures. While they are guarded scrupulously with firm tissues, once in a while, a weakness will exist in this vicinity. In consequence, a bit of bowel may find its way downward past the gatekeeper. A few of these protuberances are not venturesome. They will not go far and we call them "slight." Others are of the barging type, taking the hinges right off the doors in a bold escape.

What is the danger? Not only is the patient incapacitated for strenuous exertion such as lifting, but a knuckle of intestine—which has become crowded into a narrow channel—may become strangulated. This means that the contents of the bowel, working along the tube, may accumulate below the well opened doorway in a bulk so large that it cannot be returned to its normal position. Ordinarily, with the patient lying down and the hips elevated, gentle pressure may draw the part back into place. But this is impossible when it is large and—if life is to be saved—an immediate surgical operation is essential.

There is always some risk when the individual attempts to restore the mass to its home. The wall of the bowel is extremely thin and a strong pull or tug may result in a tear. If we allow the segment to remain outside the abdomen long enough, circulation may be cut off with resulting gangrene.

Strangulation does not occur frequently and there are many persons who go thru life with one or more hernias. But it is never safe. In other words, the victim is harboring a bomb within his body. Altho skilled surgery is called for, the procedure is attended with only a minimum element of risk. The completed job of dressmaking, if well done, affords mental as well as physical relief. Many of these lesions can be retained with a well fitting truss.

Sometimes infants will exhibit navel ruptures, which may be made worse by excessive crying. If the opening doesn't close within a reasonable time repair may be in order.

EYE-TO-EYE.

L. B. writes: When I am speaking to some one and look directly into his eyes I become nervous and ill at ease. Where can I look to help me get thru my conversation?

REPLY.

You can overcome your embarrassment with practice. You should feel perfectly at ease when chatting with close friends. As a temporary measure, fix your gaze upon the forehead. Some people are harder to look at than others.

BREAKFAST.

J. C. writes: Is a dish of oatmeal or two fried eggs for breakfast better?

REPLY.

Both are valuable foods but cannot be compared. The oatmeal will supply 90 calories, largely starch. Two eggs will provide 150 calories of fat and protein. To maintain a balanced ration a modest serving of rolled oats and one egg is suggested.

"SUPPORTING THE WAR EFFORT."

Chicago, Sept. 15.—The recent order of Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey that "whenever the director of selective service advises a local board that a deferred registrant is not supporting or is adversely affecting the war effort or the national health, safety, or interest, the local board shall immediately terminate the deferment" is not only a threat against two of the four freedoms—freedom of speech and freedom from fear—but it is a dangerous thrust at our constitutional form of government and the right of the opposition party to criticize and oppose the acts and conduct of the party in power. "Supporting the war effort" is a phrase too easily twisted. Criticism—good or bad—is a tonic needed by the party in power. We do not want a one party system of government, whether it be Fascist, Nazi, or Communist pattern.

Congressmen of both political parties should insist that Mr. Hershey rescind this order and give assurance that the selective service law will not be administered to mete out punishment to citizens whose political views are displeasing to the party in power.

REPUBLICAN VOTER.

PROMISES TO TALK BACK.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—I am getting a little tired of being hollered at by street car conductors. I notice they don't get into many arguments with large men, but they sure like to scream at the women and girls, and I suppose it will get worse in the name of national defense. This a. m., just because I would not get off the car in the middle of the block and made the motorman stop at the corner, I received one of those dirty jibes. The next time I am going to stay right on the car and have it out with the gentleman. DOPEY, THE STREET CAR RIDER.

HE WANTED A RIDE.

East Chicago, Ind., Sept. 13.—Sunday morning at 7 a. m. I waited at Indianapolis boulevard and 106th street for a bus to Whiting.

During the half hour there were hundreds of men waiting for transportation to various plants operating on defense orders.

During the same time hundreds of cars passed with but one rider, the driver.

Will it take a bomb to let these people know we are at war? C. S. SMYTHE.

NO CEILING ON TAXES.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Since rentals have a ceiling something should be done about a ceiling on real estate taxes and recently increased water bills.

It is unfair and unjust to landlords not to grant a reasonable increase on a dwelling where the increased rental was set according to the increase in real estate tax and the increased water bill.

S. S.

MR. ORR'S CARTOON.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Thank you and Mr. Orr for the cartoon "For a Job Well Done," honoring the quartermaster corps, on the front page of this morning's paper. It expresses beautifully and perfectly what is in the hearts of Pvt. R. W. Iljing and his parents.

MR. AND MRS. R. ILLING.

MOTHER'S DEPENDENCY ALLOTMENTS.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—I agree with the comments of "Aged Mother" in Sunday's paper. I have been a widow seven years and my only child volunteered with the air corps over three months ago. He is a young doctor and was commissioned a first lieutenant. His living and clothing expenses are very high in service, and I feel that I am certainly entitled to an allotment, which I have not received to date. In filling out papers as a dependent, I was asked to go back as far as 1918 and try to remember what my late husband earned, what gifts of any value I may have received, etc. A private's wife without children evidently receives an allotment without any trouble, and the world knows how many marriages took place when the draft question became imminent. OFFICER'S MOTHER.

PERMIT WORKERS.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—About 500 new sheet metal workers are working in defense plants. Mostly they are sign hangers, bartenders, and Madison street loafers. All get permits and go to work for $1.75 an hour and pay the union $1 a day. While hundreds of experienced men are loafing in front of local 73, 620 South Ashland avenue, contractors are forced to hire them and a good sheet metal worker must carry their load.

All the new defense plants being constructed will have plenty of bartenders and sign hangers and loafers at work. Good mechanics are disgusted at having to work with inexperienced men drawing $1.75 an hour. J. D.

CEILING ON FARES.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—In a very short time this city will be subjected to gasoline rationing. This will mean idle automobiles for a very long time, if not for the duration. The only other ways of commuting are exercised by the Chicago Motor Coach company, Surface Lines, the "L," I. C., Rock Island, Northwestern, and other suburban railroads. It wasn't very long ago that an increase in fares was made by some of these companies. We're trying to have ceilings on everything else, why not a ceiling on fares? S. J. R.

BOMBING EUROPE'S COMMUNICATIONS.

Hebron, Ind., Sept. 9.—What is to stop our superior air forces now in England and Ireland from concentrating their entire striking force against all highways, railroad bridges, and transportation equipment crossing rivers and streams in axis occupied Europe? While avoiding cities and their anti-aircraft as much as possible, they could disrupt all transportation movements on the continent. That might cause Hitler to ask for peace in short order. L. P. KUSS.

DON'T LIKE TO BE THOUGHT SLACKERS.

Elmhurst, Ill., Sept. 15.—I think something should be done about providing the fellows who are key men in industry and important as the "man behind the man behind the gun" with a badge to wear on their lapels which at a fleeting glance would show that they are doing their job just as much and as well as the fellow in uniform.

We have several young fellows in our plant who have been declared key men who are champing at the bit because of some remarks cast at them by civilians, as well as friends in uniform. I wonder how those in uniform would feel if all these chaps threw up their jobs and joined in, and suddenly the men in uniform would be without equipment and supplies? DOLORES CLARK.

INFLATION STARTS AT $624.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 11.—Is it consistent to raise a hue and cry about inflation and then set a $624 floor for withholding tax levies and lower income tax exemptions to $500? If everybody has so much money that it is causing inflation then why is it necessary to go as low as that for revenue? The person who earns $624 a year cannot be accused of causing inflation, unless inflation is caused by a frantic rush to the loan agencies. You can't pay board and room on $624 a year—nor on a good deal more than that. People who have only that much money must borrow against the future, live on relatives, or go on relief. Can't any one in Washington add?

MILDRED R. SOLEIN.

Riverside, Ill., Sept. 9 [Legal Friend of the People].—Twelve years ago I was divorced in New York, moved to Illinois and remarried and have children born of the second marriage. My former wife was given permanent alimony.

1. Can the courts of Illinois reduce or eliminate the alimony?

2. What claim would my former wife have on my estate in the event of my death? B. A.

1. No.

2. None, unless the divorce decree is so worded as to give her such rights.

SERVICE AS EXECUTOR.

Chicago, Sept. 9 [Legal Friend of the People].—Is it absolutely necessary for a man who is appointed executor of a will or testament by a relative living in Chicago to be a resident of Illinois? This man lives in Philadelphia. C. J.

Yes. A non-resident is not eligible to serve as executor here.

Democrats Get Lesson in Who Runs Party.

Toman, representing the 23d ward, and Secretary Gill, who is clerk of the Municipal court and committeeman of the 46th ward, were sent over to Chairman Nash's office at 10 South La Salle street [the office of his contracting firm]. The duty of the delegation was to report that the boys in the back room were acting strangely for Democrats.

The delegation found Nash and Mayor Kelly in Nash's office. Also there they found Albert J. Horan, committeeman of the 29th ward and bailiff of the Municipal court, protesting against the nomination of Crowe. [Crowe lives in the same ward as Horan. They are not friends, it was said.]

Nash, Kelly Get News.

Judge Sullivan and his delegation gave Nash and Mayor Kelly the news.

"They've got to nominate Crowe," Nash was quoted as saying. "If I can't put this nomination over I might as well move to Michigan."

"I'll take the blame for it," Mayor Kelly was said to have volunteered. Nash spoke up: "No, I'll take the blame."

The delegation of four, with Horan added to it, was told to go back and report to the convention, then in executive session. As it was reported yesterday, Judge Sullivan addressed the convention as follows:

"The high command wants Crowe and wants no argument about it. There is to be no discussion in the convention that might get in the newspapers."

In Payment of Debt.

The assembled Démocrats were further advised, according to yesterday's popular versions, that Crowe's nomination was in payment of a debt owed since the whoopee days of the sanitary district and while Crowe was state's attorney. When order was restored in the meeting it was decided to open the convention to the public, so the newspaper reporters in the hall were invited in.

A resolution presented by Ald. Sonnenschein's committee was presented. It proposed the nomination of Crowe and Judge Frank Padden. The roll was called by Clerk Gill. There were no "nays." The Democratic party had spoken.

Senate Passes Bill to Pay WAACs Same as Army

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Legislation increasing pay in the women's army auxiliary corps to the equivalent of army pay, with $50 a month the base, was passed by the senate today. The bill, which now goes to the house, also creates administrative field directors of the WAACs and permits WAACs to make allotments of their pay to dependents, as soldiers do.

Justice Frank Murphy Is Off to Speed Up Detroit Plants

New York, Sept. 17 [Special].—Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy tonight revealed in an unprecedented interview at the New York municipal airport that he is en route to Detroit to review the factories and war production work there and to attempt to aid in bringing that city's industries to a higher point of efficiency.

Justice Frank Murphy.

He declined to reveal whether his mission was an official one, but cryptically remarked that, earlier in the day, he had conferred with the army chief of staff.

"Against Precedent."

Wearing the lieutenant colonel's uniform which he said he was to exchange for civilian clothes at midnight, the Supreme court justice pointed out that he realized that "it is against precedent for Supreme court justices to give interviews, but this is a time when traditions are being broken everywhere."

Relative to the industrial situation in Detroit, where he once served as mayor, Justice Murphy said:

"I don't believe the stories of disorder in Detroit. There may be some disruption there, but it was a wonder city and it still is one. It can do heroic things.

Labor Now "Seasoned."

"All that is needed is for Detroit to do the job I know it can do. The unseasoned labor leaders are now seasoned. The production giants who gave America and the world such modern miracles as the airplane and the automobile are really miracle men, and can and will continue to accomplish miracles.

"No one can convince me that industrial Detroit won't do the production job and do it so well that it will dwarf the efforts of continental Europe and the Japanese empire."

DOWNSTATE VOTE REGISTRATION TO SOAR TOMORROW

GOP Sees Rise to 75% as Precincts Open.

Downstate permanent registration will jump up to the 75 per cent mark tomorrow, the first of two days on which precinct polling places may be opened for registration, it was predicted yesterday by Chairman Ben L. Berve of the Republican state central committee.

Berve estimated that about 30 per cent of downstate voters are now on the new permanent lists as a result of weeks of effort by the G. O. P. organization from Gov. Dwight H. Green on down. The Saturday at the polling places will add 45 per cent of the voting population to the lists, he believes.

Distance Proves Obstacle.

"Distances of 15 or even 20 miles which have had to be negotiated to register at most county seats have been too great an obstacle," Berve said. "Tomorrow farmers and workers in industry and commerce can register close to home without much loss in time."

Gov. Green yesterday made a radio appeal to downstate voters over WLS to get their names on the books.

"He who loses his vote by failure to register neglects his civic duty," the governor said. "On two days—Sept. 19 and Oct. 6—you can register in your home precincts. But you, upon whom the civic welfare of your state depends, should safeguard your right of the ballot by registering now with your county clerk, before the final day catches you unaware.

Cites Importance of Election.

"The election Nov. 3 is important. Voters are called on to elect a United States senator and 26 congressmen, a state treasurer and a superintendent of public instruction, all members of the Illinois house of representatives, and 29 members of the Illinois senate.

"In addition, most of the county offices and many community offices are to be filled. Also, the people will have an opportunity to vote on retention or abolishment of the state sales tax as applied to food."

LAWYERS' SUIT FOR $1,714,682 IN FEES DISMISSED

A suit brought by three attorneys to collect from the county $1,714,682 alleged due as fees for the collection of forfeited taxes was dismissed yesterday by Judge John Prystalski of Circuit court.

The lawyers are Henry M. Ashton, Ralph O. Butz, and Edward M. Winston. Their petition stated that they had collected more than $16,000,000, including $3,546,000 of penalties, and under a contract with a former state's attorney, John A. Swanson, were entitled to 10 per cent of this amount in fees.

Assistant State's Attorney Jacob Shamberg argued in behalf of the county that the contract was void in that the state's attorney had no right to delegate the functions of his office to others. Butz said last night that an appeal would be taken. The collections were made in 1931 and 1932 and he added that suit was not filed for the fees until recently because he and his associates felt they might be paid without going to court.

FELONS KIDNAP WIFE OF PRISON CLERK; 1 CAUGHT

Chillicothe, O., Sept. 17 (AP).—Two federal reformatory prisoners today abducted the wife of Chief Clerk R. W. Meier and forced her to drive them to Ashland, Ky., where she escaped unharmed and gave an alarm which resulted in the capture of one.

Associate Warden Allen L. Shank said the men were Robert William Cote, 17 years old of Willimantic, Conn., and Jack H. Triplett, 20, of Cromona, Ky., both serving two year sentences for auto theft.

The men, who worked in the yard went to the Meier residence at 2:30 p. m. and abducted Mrs. Meier after inducing her three year old child to go to the play room. In Ashland, Mrs. Meier drove into a filling station and sounded the alarm. The men fled and Cote was captured. Triplett was reported surrounded near Ashland.

LEO CARR BLASTS JAIL CONCESSION OF SHERIFF'S KIN

Objects to Any Candidate Named by Machine.

Leo Carr, Republican nominee for sheriff, issued his opening blast of the campaign yesterday against the Democratic incumbent. Carr hopped onto the juicy concession of the commissary at the county jail which, he charged, yields an estimated $9,000 to $11,000 annual profit to a relative of Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien.

"The county jail commissary controlled by the Kelly-Nash sheriff will not increase the respect of law breakers in the jail for society," said Carr, who is chief of the state police and has had 27 years' experience as detective and police executive.

"It is not only the several hundred inmates of the jail who are forced to behold the sordid picture of profiteering on the little items they buy. Their relatives and their friends must share this wretched view of brazen penny-snatching by politicians who would rather talk about making democracy work in some other part of the world."

Cites Commissary Prices.

Carr said that O'Brien's brother-in-law, John Kaufer, has been given the exclusive "franchise" to peddle cigarets, tobacco, candy, ice cream, and other food stuffs to prisoners. Cigarets are 19 cents, and meals go up to $1.25, with all items priced over the market despite the rent-free location, Carr asserted.

Sheriff O'Brien, who is being retired by the Democratic organization for the less conspicuous spot of nominee for congress in the 6th district, admitted that his brother-in-law runs the store but said he knows nothing else about it. Peter B. Carey was the organization choice to succeed O'Brien.

"Here in miniature we see what takes place under one Kelly-Nash man and what might be expected if another stooge is permitted to succeed him," Carr said.

"It sounds the same note as the grand jury appearances of the sheriff, who made a ruthless but foolish attempt to save his face by firing three of his lieutenants who admitted they were taking orders in not suppressing gambling.

Points to Pending Cases.

"What more can we hope for from a sheriff whose chief of county highway police is photographed while dining with the gambling king now serving in a federal prison. Is it a surprise that two deputy highway sheriffs now await trial on charges of extortion concerning three alleged bandits?

"At least we can be thankful that the voters have been given sufficient warning for the Nov. 3 election by this sheriff when he introduced the new Kelly-Nash nominee to county highway police as 'the man who will carry out my policies.'"

If you need a Car you need a BUICK

IF YOU ARE INCLUDED IN THIS LIST, YOU'RE ELIGIBLE TO BUY

There are seven major classifications for persons eligible to buy new cars under basic rationing rules.

These include: (1) persons engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly; (2) physicians, nurses, clergymen, veterinarians; (3) car-owners engaged in public service, such as fire departments, public health, highway maintenance, etc.; (4) owners of taxicabs and other means of transportation; (5) farmers; (6) newspaper wholesalers; and (7) traveling salesmen in certain fields.

Your Buick dealer will be very glad to help you determine whether you come under the rules of eligibility. He will also be glad to help you fill out the proper applications.

...and if you really need a new car for essential work—you can get one!

AUTOMOBILE-BUYING regulations boil down to this:

If you really need a car — you can get one.

Necessity governs — and when necessary work can be done better by replacing an older car with a new one, both rationing rules and public policy encourage the buying of safer, more efficient, more dependable new models.

Get a car you can count on — get a car that will last — get a car that's tough and rugged and efficient enough to take long, tough punishment and come back for more.

This 1942 Buick is a car built from the ground up with the idea that it would have to serve, faithfully and well, over a far longer-than-usual service life.

Its Buick FIREBALL valve-in-head straight-eight power plant is a basically more efficient engine, designed to get the last bit of usable power and mileage from gasoline.

So if you need a car you need a Buick. Talk your situation over with your Buick dealer, and look at the models he can deliver at once from his large and complete stocks—even though the Buick factories have for many months been on all-out war production.

POLLS INDICATE G.O.P. UPSURGE ALL OVER INDIANA

Leaders Predict Gains in November.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 17.—Indiana Republican chiefs declare the signs portend that the Hoosier state is headed for the Republican column in November. Polls and other soundings of public sentiment, they declare, show an increasing G. O. P. swing. State headquarters here is the scene of greater activity than in several campaigns.

In the congressional battles, conduct of the war has been heralded as the chief issue since the June platforms were adopted.

Ralph F. Gates, Republican state chairman, declares all indications are that the eight sitting Republican congressmen will be reëlected; and that the Democrats may lose one seat, possibly two.

The Democrats now have four congressmen, but the state has been reduced from 12 to 11 districts.

Cling to Pre-War Issues.

Altho the purge efforts to liquidate congressmen who were noninterventionist before the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor have proved flatter than a flounder in primaries of various states, Indiana Democrats still cling to "isolationism" as an issue.

Paradoxically, Rep. Louis Ludlow [D.] of Indianapolis, rated as the strongest of the Indiana Democrats in the national house, was a strong noninterventionist before Pearl Harbor. In the implied criticism of a fellow Democrat, some of the Democrats skip over it saying "Ludlow is an individualist."

Ludlow has a battle. In the redistricting, a segment of Marion county [Indianapolis], normally Republican, has been thrown into his district. His Rebuplican opponent, Howard M. Meyer, active in the American Legion, who has been laying stress on New Deal rubber bungling, has been in the hospital, which has cut into his campaigning.

May Hinge on Mayoralty.

Most observers here say the prospects are that Ludlow will win. Some Republicans, however, say the mayoralty fight in this city may affect the congressional contest. Gen. Robert H. Tyndall, who was with the Rainbow division in the World war, is Republican candidate for mayor against Dewey Myers, judge of the Marion county Criminal court. The last Republican mayor was in office some 15 years ago. Gen. Tyndall seems to be running like a house afire. Whether his vote will influence the voting on other parts of the ticket is a question.

Republicans also hold that the mayoralty election in Evansville may strengthen their candidate for congress in the 8th district, Charles M. La Follette, who is opposing Rep. John W. Boehne Jr., [D.].

Manson Reichert, chairman of the Vanderburgh County Republican committee, is running for mayor of Evansville against Mayor William H. Dress. G. O. P. chiefs say a victory for Reichert would strengthen La Follette's chances.

May Gain Strength.

Democrats, on the other hand, say the 8th district—expanded until it stretches along the Ohio river, from the Wabash river three-quarters of the distance across the state—is strongly Democratic in its new areas.

In one new district, the 10th, two present congressmen are opposing each other, due to redistricting.

Rep. Raymond S. Springer [R.], first state commander of the Legion and Republican nominee for governer in 1932 and 1936, and Rep. William H. Larrabee [D.] are contesting for the seat. Larrabee represented the old 11th district.

Springer was noninterventionist before the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor, but—like other Indiana Republican members—was for national defense and preparedness measures. Larrabee was New Deal across the board.

State platforms of both parties, circulated as campaign documents, emphasize winning the war at any cost. The Democratic utterance dwells on prewar nonintervention. The Republican plank emphasizes conduct of the war as November's great issue.

MRS. DILLING PAYS FINE IN EVANSTON ON SPEED CHARGE

Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, a prewar foe of communism and now under federal indictment for alleged sedition, paid a $5 fine and $5 in court costs for speeding yesterday. Her husband, Albert, charged she had been arrested by "an ungentlemanly Evanston police officer, who had the car spotted and was deliberately picking on her."

Mrs. Dilling was arrested in the suburb on Hinman avenue between Hamilton avenue and Main street last June 19 when Policeman Theodore L. Rademacher charged she was driving 37 miles per hour in a 25 mile zone.

Dilling originally requested a jury trial but dropped the motion last Monday. The fine was levied yesterday by Judge James M. Corcoran.

William Scott Stewart, attorney for Mrs. Dilling in the sedition case, will file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus today in federal court in an effort to prevent her removal to Washington for trial.

[THE TRIBUNE will pay $5 for each question submitted by a reader and used by THE TRIBUNE. Today's question was submitted by O. E. Hackman, Fort Wayne, Ind.]

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever appear in public with an important part of your attire missing?

WHERE ASKED.

Pullman building, 79 East Adams street.

THE ANSWERS.

Theodore T. Hoffer, clerk, 7446 Forest Preserve avenue—I was riding a frisky horse and was wearing a pair of loose blue denium trousers which had no belt. The horse stopped abruptly before a leap over the hurdle and I went over head first. When I stood up I saw my horse running away with three-fourths of my trousers hanging on the saddle horn.

T. J. Kelly, stenographer, 6515 Ingleside avenue—I was startled out of a sound sleep when the house started to burn. I made a quick effort to put on some clothes and hurried out as fast as I could. The show I put on for the spectators was better than the fire. I was a picture of confusion in nothing but shirt, shorts, and socks.

Eve Leslie, singer, 720 Rush street—It was my turn to sing on the stage in our neighborhood performance. I was supposed to wear a full gathered hoop skirt with layers of petticoats underneath. I stopped counting too soon and walked out on the stage without the skirt. I didn't take time to go back and finish dressing so I wrapped a big beach towel around me in dirndl fashion.

Jack A. Brandt, clerk, 1725 Bryn Mawr avenue—It was fortunate the swimming pool was crowded. After a high dive I swam under water to the shallow end of the pool. I stood up and then realized—before any one else had a chance to—that I had lost my bathing trunks.

Joseph T. Le Fevour, junior clerk, 4712 North avenue—When I took my physical exam. for the navy I joined the waiting line of nudists. Somehow I lost out and became isolated. I intended to walk into the room where I thought the others had gone. Instead I walked into the waiting room for the mothers.

Eugene P. Smith, clerk, 1731 Latrobe avenue—It was an important game for our basketball team. Besides being in a big hurry I was quite excited about it. I ran out onto the floor with the rest of the team and then suddenly noticed that I didn't have on my dark blue satin trunks, but only the skimpy white sweat pants.

EASTERN STAR LEADER DIES.

1942 PRIMARIES BRING OUT ONLY 35% OF VOTERS

War, Worker Migration, Apathy Blamed.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—An unofficial tabulation of 1942 primary voting in 35 states revealed today that scarcely more than a third of those registered and eligible actually exercised the privilege of casting their ballots.

The total of those who voted was 14,937,426. The total of those who might have voted was 42,191,779. The percentage of those who did was 35 per cent.

Officials here who watch elections closely said several factors were responsible. Voting always lags in a year in which there is no Presidential contest. The World war demonstrated that in wartime the voters are apathetic. The absence of acute issues in many states contributed.

Millions in Services.

In addition millions of voters are away from home—in the army or navy. There has been much migration of defense workers from state to state, and undoubtedly many of these have not been in their new homes long enough to be eligible to vote.

Long hours of work in the war factories, too, tend to keep voters away from the polls, altho Donald M. Nelson, the director of war production, announced that voting was one of the few good excuses for a worker's absence from a defense job.

Despite these apparent reasons for the light vote, some were of the opinion that it was unduly apathetic, and held that the voters should, in the interest of the country, maintain a more intense interest in who represents them in congress.

Miss Marguerite M. Wells, president of the National League of Women Voters, issued a statement asking the voters to expiate their neglect at the primaries and shoulder full responsibility from now to November and send the best men to the most important congress in history.

Best Showing in South.

In general the southern states made the best showing, because it was believed, the Democratic primary elections there determine who the office holders shall be, and because there were hot gubernatorial and other contests in some of them.

Nevertheless, Wyoming topped the list with 84 per cent of its eligibles voting. Texas was second with 82 per cent, Kansas followed with 66 per cent, Georgia was fourth with 65 per cent, South Carolina fifth with 62 per cent, and Tennesse sixth with 59 per cent.

Utah was lowest, with 18 per cent, and Idaho, Iowa, and Ohio showed 19 per cent each.

By comparison with the total who voted in this year's primaries in the states in question, a total of 26,939,447 cast their ballots in the general congressional elections of 1938, the last year in which an election was not accompanied by a Presidential contest.

MOVE TO EXEMPT DRAFTED CHIEF STIRS INDIANANS

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 17 [Special].—Political circles buzzed here tonight over the draft status of Michael Morrissey, 44 year old bachelor who has been the Indianapolis chief of police since the Democrats swept into power in 1932. Some Republicans predicted the case would be a considerable factor in the November election when a new mayor and other officials will be chosen.

The same day that Maj. Gen. Robert H. Tyndall, retired, blasted the record of the police department under the Democrats, Morrissey's name was called at the Indianapolis draft induction center, but it was not answered.

Tyndall is the Republican nominee for mayor. It developed today that the draft board had voted two to one the night before the intended induction to give Morrissey a 30 day deferment but had not informed the induction center.

Today the board of safety asked for a permanent deferment for Morrissey, saying he "is in a responsible position and would be difficult to replace." The draft board will consider this request at a meeting next week.

CITATION...
FOR THE MEN AND WOMEN WHO WORK AT GIDDINGS & LEWIS

"For high achievement in the production of war equipment" — the coveted Army-Navy "E" Production Award pennant now waves over the plant of the Giddings & Lewis Machine Tool Company. In granting the Award, the Honorable Robert P. Patterson, Under Secretary of War, states: "The high and practical patriotism of the men and women of Giddings & Lewis Machine Tool Company is inspiring and heartening."

We at Giddings & Lewis know that this recognition has come through the unstinted loyalty and enthusiastic effort of many individuals and companies throughout industry, but more particularly every man and woman who wears the G & L badge. Industrial achievement like this calls for the finest expression of organization unity — the common bond that unites every worker, at machine or desk, in a spirit of high endeavor.

When the call came from the nation's manufacturers of munitions, ordnance, ships, aircraft and other war equipment, the Giddings & Lewis organization responded "on schedule" with Horizontal Boring, Drilling and Milling Machines of the precision and quality which has always distinguished these fine machine tools.

The Award and the achievement it symbolizes will be an inspiration to every man and woman who works at Giddings & Lewis to carry on with added zeal — to remain steadfast at our tasks on the production front in the same spirit that characterizes our armed forces on the fighting front.

CONSTITUTION IS MAN'S GREATEST GIFT: GOV. GREEN

Civic Groups Celebrate 155th Anniversary.

Gov. Dwight H. Green in a radio address last night commemorating the 155th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution urged his listeners to pay close attention to the basic principles of the historic document which he said "has proved to be man's greatest gift."

He spoke over radio station WBBM following a day of celebrations held thruout Chicago by numerous civic and patriotic organizations in observance of the occasion set aside as Constitution day under official proclamations signed by both Gov. Green and Mayor Edward J. Kelly.

"Today marks the anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States by the constitutional convention," Gov. Green said. "One hundred and fifty-five years have passed since that historic occasion. During that time sweeping changes have come over the world and we are in a death struggle with mighty forces of evil to preserve all that which our Constitution proclaims and guarantees.

52 Great Words.

"I think it fitting that today, when we as a nation are engaged in defeating the greatest onslaught against human liberty the world has ever known, that we pause and give attention to the basic principles of that document which has proved to be man's greatest gift.

"We need go no further than the preamble of the Constitution for this, for in 52 words is recorded a theory of government which has given to a people a way of life that has known no equal."

Earlier in the day an American flag was started on a tour of the country to have its remaining stars sewn in place in subsequent ceremonies to be held in the other 47 states.

Start Historic Flag.

Illinois' star was affixed in the center of the flag's empty blue field by Mrs. Alonzo Newton Benn, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution in a ceremony presided over by Potter Palmer on the steps of the Chicago Art institute. It will take about six months for the flag to complete its trip after which it will be sent to Washington, D. C.

Other exercises held during the day included an address by Judge John P. Barnes of the United States District court who spoke on "The Constitution in Peace and War," before a meeting of the Illinois Society, Sons of the American Revolution in the La Salle hotel. He told his listeners that he would rather see all the members of his family dead than have America lose the war and come under the domination of the axis dictators.

FILM OPERATORS ACT TO ABOLISH 'PERMIT RACKET'

New by-laws of local No. 110 of the Moving Picture Operators' union, which will abolish the unsavory "permit racket" which for more than 20 years blocked admission of new members and forced payments of an estimated $200,000 yearly for permits to work, are expected to be adopted Sept. 28, John Smith, business agent for the union, announced yesterday.

Smith said that final readings of the by-laws before the union membership would take place on that date, one just before midnight and the third and final reading just after midnight on the 29th. The initial reading was held a week ago.

The business agent also announced that the union is negotiating with theater owners for a new contract providing wage increases, a six day week [operators now work seven days], and vacations. The union seeks to make the contract retroactive to Sept. 1, when the last contract expired, Smith said.

MOTHER AND TWO SISTERS SLAIN IN 'MERCY' DEATHS

Investigate Motives for Triple Tragedy.

Detectives and investigators for the coroner's office were striving last night to learn the motives behind the supposed suicide pact of an aged mother and two daughters whose bodies, each pierced by a single bullet, were found yesterday afternoon in their kitchenette apartment in the Norman hotel at 1325 Wilson avenue.

A note found in the apartment supposedly written by one of the daughters, Mrs. Rita Van Steenbergh, 59 years old, said she killed the mother, Mrs. Christina W. Bauer, 87 years old, and the sister, Miss Lena Bauer, 57 years old.

Says Both Prayed to Die.

Directed "To the Authorities," the note read: "This is mercy. I took the life of mother and sister. Both prayed to die. I also want to die, for the future is very dark for sister and I. We are suffering—God only knows. . . . My husband is responsible for this unhappiness and suffering."

Another note was addressed to an undertaker and suggested that he get in touch with Mrs. Floyd Bryant of 2013 South 6th avenue, Maywood, referred to as a sister of Mrs. Van Steenbergh.

Mrs. Bryant and her husband were out of town on a vacation, but it was reported they would be present at the inquest to be held at 4715 Broadway at 9:30 a. m. today.

From Dr. D. W. Jeffries of 4630 Malden avenue, Sergt. Peter Harlib of the Town Hall police learned some of th erecent background of the women.

"There was tragedy in that household," he said. "Mrs. Bauer and Miss Bauer were invalids, so ill that death was near for them. They and Mrs. Van Steenbergh were in deep despondency. It was my understanding that Mrs. Van Steenbergh earned a meager living for them all by selling —possibly door to door.

Blames Estranged Husband.

"She seemed to blame her estranged husband for their plight—said that she had once been affluent but had been in dire poverty. I think she told me he lived in Philadelphia."

The bodies were clad only in slips when a maid entered the apartment. That of the mother lay on a bed; that of Miss Bauer on a cot. Mrs. Van Steenbergh's body lay on a neatly folded blanket on the floor, with a .38 caliber pistol beside it. The bullets had struck the mother and sister in their hearts. Mrs. Van Steenbergh was shot in the head.

There was only $6 in the flat and hardly any food. It was Dr. Jeffries' opinion that Mrs. Van Steenbergh was worried about finances as well as the health of the trio. Apparently they had all been too proud to ask for relief or even for an old age pension for the mother. Their rent, the hotel management reported, was paid up to date.

Papers Torn to Bits.

Most of the papers and pictures in the apartment had been torn to bits. There was, however, a picture of a motor boat of the cabin cruiser type and on the back of it in Mrs. Van Steenbergh's writing a notation: "Our boat, Chesapeake City, Md., 1936." A card of George Van Steenbergh, supposedly the estranged husband, was also discovered. It indicated a connection with the Paper Mill and Wood Pulp News, a trade magazine published in New York.

Sergt. Harlib said he believed the triple shooting occured before dawn, and that Mrs. Van Steenbergh wrote the two notes before slaying the other two in their sleep.

Sugar rationing cards issued to the three women showed that Mrs. Bauer weighed 85 pounds, Miss Bauer, 79 pounds, and her sister, 105 pounds.

JUDGE WILL TRY CONCILIATION IN SEPARATION SUIT

Judge Joseph Sabath in Superior court yesterday took under advisement a motion filed by Mrs. Esther Reifman, 43 years old, of 1342 South Springfield avenue, to strike a divorce bill filed by her husband, Sol, 46, of 4432 Madison street, charging that the 453 days that he has paid her separate maintenance were 453 separate acts of cruelty.

Judge Sabath heard arguments on the motion by Reifman's attorney, Victor Neumark, and Irving Eisenman, representing Mrs. Reifman. He ordered both attorneys to have their clients appear before him this afternoon to see whether a reconciliation is possible, or if not, whether Mrs. Reifman will seek a divorce.

Neumark told the court that Mrs. Reifman was receiving no relief under the separate maintenance setup that she would not also receive if she were divorced, except "the satisfaction that a spider gets while chasing a fly."

Mrs. Reifman's attorney concurred in Neumark's statement that the separate maintenance act as it now stands is reprehensible, stating, "judges and lawyers alike agree that the separate maintenance act may be abused, and it must be corrected. However, this must take place in the legislature; it is the law at present, and courts must enforce it."

Policeman Is Suspended for Sleeping, Shooting

Policeman Francis J. Kelly, 2565 Emerald avenue, assigned to the Wabash avenue station, was suspended by Commissioner Allman yesterday. Kelly allegedly fell asleep in the rear of a liquor store at 4700 South State street and fired his service pistol when the owner, Sam Jacobson, awakened him.

BRIDE OF A DAY DROWNED; DEATH TERMED SUICIDE

Woman, 33, Married to Chicagoan, 19.

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 17 [Special].—The one day marriage of two former aspirants for religious orders who ignored a physician's statement that the bride could not consummate the wedding because of a threatened nervous breakdown was ended today with the apparent suicide of Mrs. Dorothea Duggan Smith, 33 years old.

Mrs. Smith's body was taken early today from Powers lake, 26 miles west of Kenosha, where she and her husband, Julian Norbert Smith, 19, of 4834 Henderson street, Chicago, had gone after their wedding in her parents' home in Epworth, Ia., on Tuesday.

Meet at Church Mission.

Smith, who met his bride while working with her in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church mission at Techny, told Coroner James A. Crossin that they had married despite the physician's advice she faced a breakdown because they had purchased furniture and had been the guests at many parties sponsored by friends.

After their arrival at a Powers lake resort Smith said his wife tried to take her life by first turning on the jets in a gas cooking stove and then attempting to electrocute herself by putting her fingers in an electric light socket from which she had taken the bulb.

Body Found in Lake.

Smith said that he and a friend, James Fries, another worker at the mission, who joined them at the lake, then stood vigil over her first floor room in the hotel until Smith retired to his room on the second floor. Mrs. Smith slipped out the rear door in the resort while Fries was on the front porch and they were unable to find her. At 2 a. m. today her body was found in the lake. Crossin said he would report the death as a suicide.

Mrs. Smith once was a candidate for the church sisterhood, officials at the mission said, while Smith studied for a year at a Wisconsin mission. Smith took her body to Dubuque, Ia., tonight for the funeral later this week.

JUDGE CONVICTS PAIR AS BUYERS OF STOLEN TIRES

Two motorists who purchased new stolen automobile tires were convicted yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly on charges of buying the tires without rationing permits. Erwin Kolarik, a special Du Page county deputy sheriff and operator of a gasoline filling station, who bought four tires, was fined $100.

Joseph Spitale, 1324 Henderson street, who purchased five tires from the same gang, was placed on a year's probation on a similar charge. The tires were confiscated by the government. Cases against three other motorists who bought stolen tires are pending.

Erwin Prochaska and William Stolk, who have pleaded guilty in Criminal court to stealing the tires, were ordered held to the federal grand jury on a charge of transferring new tires without rationing permits. Their cases in Criminal court are scheduled to be heard before Judge Feinberg Sept. 23.

HEAVY RAINS HALT WISCONSIN RAIL TRAFFIC

Eau Claire, Wis., Sept. 17 [Special].—Four hours after reopening its main line from Minneapolis to Eau Claire the North Western line's main tracks were again closed when another torrential downpour tonight washed out part of the roadbed and loosened the piling of the overhead bridge west of Wilson.

Since last night's rain washed out the roadbed at several points between Eau Claire and Hersey not a train had moved over this line, all trains having been detoured from here via Spooner and Hudson to the Twin Cities.

Rain continued tonight all over this area. The rainfall here for the day up to 10 o'clock tonight was 1⅓ inches, bringing to 4.47 inches the amount since yesterday morning.

BRYAN REID HEADS COMMUNITY FUND SPONSORS GROUP

Campaign Will Begin in Early October.

Bryan S. Reid, general manager of the Socony Vacuum Oil company, was named chairman of the sponsors division of the 1942 Community fund at a meeting of business and civic leaders in the Chicago club last night. The appointment was announced by Charles Y. Freeman, general campaign manager.

Reid headed the sponsors division last year. This group produces approximately one half the fund total in large donations from corporations and wealthy individuals.

Goal Is $3,750,000.

The goal this year is $3,750,000, the same as last year, but campaign leaders will in reality aim for $4,000,000. This was indicated by Freeman, who is chairman of the Commonwealth Edison company.

"Our goal has been set at $3,750,000, but I, for one, will not be satisfied unless we push it well past this, rounding out the total to a full $4,000,000," he said. "That, as I see it, is the real task which we face this year."

The Community fund, said, Freeman, helps 185 private welfare agencies in their great work among the needy, during boom or depression.

Aid Sick, Aged, Young.

"Increased employment," said Freeman, "has brought a decrease in the public relief and WPA loads. This is not true of the private agencies supported by the fund. They deal, for the most part, with those whose needs boom times do not alleviate—the dependent children, the underprivileged youths, the victims of broken homes, the sick, the aged."

The Community fund drive will get under way early in October, Freeman indicated. In a few days he will name the chairman of the industrial division, which will raise employé contributions. Speakers at last night's meeting, in addition to Freeman, were Col. Robert A. Gardner, fund president; E. P. Brooks, vice president of Sears Roebuck & Co., and Reid, sponsor division head. Brooks headed the industrial division last year.

HELD FOR JURY ON CHARGE OF COUNTERFEITING

Russell Erastus Miller, 46 years old, was bound over to the federal grand jury in $7,500 bond by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday in a charge of using plaster of Paris molds to counterfeit several hundred dollars of quarters, half dollars, and dollars.

Miller was seized Wednesday night by secret service agents under Capt. Thomas A. Callaghan in his hotel at 817 Monroe street, after a merchant in whose store Miller allegedly attempted to pass a counterfeit coin, remembered the suspect's dashingly bright clothes and walrus type moustache.

The storekeeper said that after Miller attempted to pass the coin he noted the license numbers on Miller's car. He recalled the digits—but not in the right order. Agents, checking various combinations of the numbers, finally traced the car to Miller.

Callaghan said the agents found a cache of counterfeit coins in Miller's room, including $100 in $1 silver pieces, $37 in half dollars, and $25 in quarters.

370 Pins Sold by Tribune to Kin of Men in Service

The sale of service pins reached 88,186 yesterday when 30 pins were sold thru the mail and an additional 340 pins were sold across the counters of THE TRIBUNE'S two public service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and in Tribune Tower. The gold plated emblems indicate the relationship of the wearers to a man in the armed forces. All profit from the sale of service pins will be given to the United Service organization.

"Load 'em full!" That's the battle cry in the coal fields. Bigger loads save cars for additional war work.

COAL

 ANOTHER "FIGHTING FORCE" TO KEEP ROLLING!

Coal is one of America's most powerful weapons—the Nation's greatest single source of energy.

It turns the wheels of war's industries.

It is power and heat and light.

Coal makes steam. It runs trains to haul more coal. Coal is transportation. Coal provides warmth for our home comfort, heats our buildings and factories.

It is among the most abundant of the Nation's natural resources and in the earth of this country is enough to last 3,000 years.

More than a hundred thousand Pennsylvania Railroad freight cars have no other duty in this war than to haul this fighting power—coal and its by-product, coke—to the industrial fronts, day and night.

In never-ending streams, The Pennsylvania delivers it to the power plants, moves mountains of it to feed the coke ovens and, in turn, the blast furnaces.

Coal becomes gas for the open hearth, power for the rolling mill. Without it there would be no steel.

Coal's by-products become explosives, industrial chemicals, medicines and fertilizer that produces agricultural abundance.

Coal saw us through the last war—and coal will see us through this one.

To help move coal to the industrial front is one of Pennsylvania Railroad's most important jobs in war and peace.

LUTHERAN YOUTH BUILDING TO BE OPENED SUNDAY

Headquarters of Walther League Cost $100,000.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The new $100,000 Lutheran Youth building, one of the city's architectural gems, located at 875 North Dearborn parkway, will be dedicated Sunday afternoon as the headquarters of the International Walther league of the Evangelical Lutheran Missouri synod.

Located on a site long noted in the city's religious traditions, the former site of old New England Congregational church, the youth building will signalize the golden anniversary of the founding of the Walther league and look forward to an increasingly aggressive program of Christian youth work thruout the nation.

The Rev. Otto H. Theiss, executive secretary of the league, said yesterday that the building stands as a memorial to all the idealism that has built the program of the league in 50 years "of the most glorious and, at the same time, most tragic period in the history of our nation."

Survive Wars and Depressions.

"During that period," Pastor Theiss asserted, "there have been three great wars, deep depressions, enormous prosperity, and the endless tragedy of men and women forsaking the faith of their fathers in order to follow the imagination of their sinful hearts. The building stands as a memorial to the faith and courage of those who planned and labored in days past and as a sure sign to the leaguers of tomorrow that the faith in the Savior which built the league and the building is still the only hope of mankind."

The Rev. Adalbert R. Kretzmann, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of St. Luke, Belmont and Greenview avenues, and art editor of the league's publication, the Cresset, was chairman of the building committee. Under his leadership the building became a repository not only for some of the better ecclesiastical art glass windows of the city but also for original works of art.

Art Work Is Notable.

Over the main door is the league seal carved in stone, and higher up the symbols of Christian knowledge and service. In the topmost position is the symbol of Christ the King. Within, the memorial lobby is of stone thruout, with a slate floor. The windows are the work of Giannini and Hilgart. Thruout the building are etchings by such artists as Rembrant van Rijn, Thomas Hart Benton, Jackson Lee Nesbit, Gordon Grant, W. R. Locke, Szanto, and Luigi Lucioni. There also is a series of American scenes in woodcuts.

On an adjoining Delaware place site will be built the Chicago division edifice of Valparaiso university, which is supported by a national Lutheran University association. The Rev. Dr. Otto P. Kretsmann, president of the university, former executive of the league, said the building will not be erected until after the war.

The dedication banquet will be held at the Knickerbocker hotel Saturday night, and youths and leaders from various parts of the country opened a dedication conference yesterday which will continue thru Saturday.

FINE MOTHER $100 FOR NEGLECTING HER 6 CHILDREN

For failure to provide properly for her six children, Mrs. Emma Petty, 34 years old, of 826 Lill avenue, was fined $100 and costs yesterday by Judge Justin F. McCarthy in Domestic Relations court. She told the court that the children, found alone in their home by Shakespeare avenue police, were born of a common law marriage, and that their father was now married to another woman. The children were taken to the juvenile detention home. Police said Mrs. Petty told them she had gone to New Mexico to visit a soldier, and had paid an acquaintance to care for the children.

NEGRO COUNCIL DEMANDS AN END TO SEGREGATION

Asks Equal Rights in Trains and Buses.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—President Roosevelt and Joseph Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, were called upon today to abolish for the duration of the war segregation of Negroes in stations, railroads, ships, buses, taxicabs, and air lines.

The request was made in a resolution adopted unanimously by the National Negro council, meeting here in a two day session. Acts of discrimination against the Negro race were cited by Edgar G. Brown, director of the council, in a speech opening the gathering.

Reviews Train Sluggings.

The facts in the recent slugging of two Baptist ministers, the Rev. S. A. Young of Washington and the Rev. J. C. Jackson of Boston, on a train bound for Memphis, Tenn., to attend the National Baptist convention, were reviewed by Brown, who made a personal investigation on the scene near Memphis.

"Nazi brutality resulting from 'Jim Crow' practices in the south caused this absolutely unwarranted attack on two Negro Christian ministers on a railroad train last week in Tennessee," he said.

Morale at Stake.

"If the federal government and the ODT under the President's war powers do not act speedily, irreparable harm will be done to the safety and morale of 13,000,000 traditionally patriotic, loyal, fighting, war bond buying Negro American citizens. Negroes have died in every war of the republic for liberty and independence since a Negro soldier in 1770 fell mortally wounded at Boston Commons."

TWO KILLED IN AUTO PLUNGE.

Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 17 [Special].—William Thompson, 54 years old, and Willard Marte, 35, farmers, and three others were hurt today when their car failed to negotiate a sharp curve on highway 51 and plunged over a 75 foot embankment about 12 miles south of here.

MILK DRIVERS' UNION OFFICIALS FIGHT HIGH COURT VIOLENCE LINK

Attorneys for three officials of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, local No. 753, yesterday sought a rehearing on the appellate court's reversal of a lower court's finding that the three men were not involved in violence committed during the union's attempt to organize employés of the Maywood Farms dairy.

The petition for a rehearing charges that the appellate court was setting a "dangerous precedent" in finding the three officials, James Kennedy, president; Al Richards, business agent, and Peter Hoban, vice president, guilty of charges never made against them, and that the court ignored the actual issues of the case. The original hearing was before Judge John C. Lewe in Superior court.

The appellate court's opinion held that the violence "came about as a part of the movement the defendants designed and of which they were a part." It was not necessary to show, the court held, that the defendants had personally participated in acts of violence, because "they who plan, aid, and abet" are also responsible.

ABOLISH SOLDIER CREDIT BUYING AT ALL POSTS IN U. S.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—After a preliminary test, the war department today decreed a strictly cash policy for all soldiers at army posts in the continental United States.

Secretary Henry L. Stimson announced the new order which abolishes credit privileges for personal purchases enjoyed by soldiers for decades.

The department announcement said the new policy will save bookkeeping, further efforts to reduce credit buying, and expressed the belief it will "inculcate the habits of thrift in the soldier."

The order becomes effective Nov. 1 at all army posts in the United States except Alaska. Local commanders will decide whether to apply it at posts abroad.

DAVIS ASSAILS PETRILLO EDICT AT SENATE QUIZ

Calls Recording Ban Peril to Troop Morale.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, told a congressional committee today that James C. Petrillo's ban against musical records and transcriptions threatened the wartime national system of communication.

Davis was the first witness before a senate interstate commerce subcommittee hearing called to determine the effect on public morale of the order by Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, forbidding union musicians to make records and transcriptions for radio stations and coin operated phonographs.

Radio Stations Periled.

This order, Davis testified, had the effect of halting the making of records necessary to the keeping of audiences by upwards of 150 radio stations.

"A policy which threatens the continued existence of many of these stations is injurious to the national system of communication, and may seriously hamper the work for which this office [of war information] was established, of informing the people about the status and progress of the war effort and the war policies, activities, and aims of this government."

Petrillo has contended that the use of "canned music" meant loss of employment for musicians.

Troops Entertained.

Davis said also he had been advised the juke box playing of recordings was a source of entertainment for troops in and out of the country.

He is not concerned, he said, with individual stations or proprietors of "institutions in which juke boxes are located, against whom Petrillo may have a grievance."

"Our concern," Davis continued, "is primarily with the national interest in maintaining the broadest possible system of radio station communication, and secondarily with the persons with whom Mr. Petrillo has no dispute at all, who are adversely affected by this ruling—the broadcasting station located far from the sources of supply of available musical talent and in no economic position to serve without recordings; the operator of the candy store across the street from an army post, the USO hut in Alaska—all these places, and the people they serve, who are dependent on recorded music."

Chairman D. Worth Clark [D., Idaho] adjourned the brief hearing until tomorrow, when he said Chairman James L. Fly of the federal communications commission would testify.

The hearing was described by Clark as a preliminary to a request for a "full-fledged" investigation of Petrillo's activities.

Davis said he appealed to Petrillo July 28, on behalf of the war and navy departments, the marine corps, coast guards, the treasury, the Office of Civilian Defense, and his own office to withdraw the ban which became effective Aug. 1, but Petrillo refused.

Friend of the Yanks' Kin

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department will answer questions covering problems related to the social welfare of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries.]

M. S. writes: "I live in a small town not far from Chicago. My son is in the service, and I have been advised to go to the Red Cross for some necessary advice and assistance. Can you give me the correct address of the nearest chapter?"

ANSWER: If you live in Cook, Du Page, or the south half of Lake county, contact the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross. The department which handles military and naval welfare services is located at 616 South Michigan avenue. If your address is in the northern half of Lake county, apply to the Waukegan chapter.

M. C. asks: "My husband, who is a second lieutenant in the army, is now sending me an allotment every month. Under the new bill which provides help for the dependents of service men, how much will I receive?"

ANSWER: Because your husband is a second lieutenant, you are not eligible for assistance under the service men's dependents act, since such help is limited to the families of men in the four lowest grades in the army.

Mrs. B. C. writes: "My husband is a corporal in the army, and is now sending me a part of his pay every month. He wrote and told me that he had made an application for an allowance for me. Does that mean that the government will match the money which he is sending me so that I would receive twice that amount?"

ANSWER: If by "match" you mean a government contribution of an amount equal to any which your husband allots, the answer is "no." Many women seem to have that mistaken idea. There are set amounts which the government will contribute. The maximum amount a wife may receive under the service men's dependents act is $50, made up of $22 from the service man and $28 from the government. If there are children, an additional allowance of varying amounts is made for each youngster.

L. B. writes: "My husband has been in the navy for several months. He has been on active sea duty for some time and can't write often. He sends me a part of his pay each month, but I am wondering about an allotment from the government, which some of my friends have received because their husbands were in service. Since he hasn't mentioned it in his letters, I don't believe my husband applied for it. Aren't the wives of navy men entitled to it?"

ANSWER: The wives of navy men are eligible for assistance under the service men's dependents act if their husbands are in the fourth, fifth, sixth, or seventh grades. Without knowing your husband's rating, it is not possible to say whether he may apply for benefits.

Mrs. A. F. writes: "My son has written and told me to get affidavits from two disinterested parties. Does that mean persons who are not related to me? He wants them for his application for an allotment for me."

ANSWER: Yes. Such affidavits must be made by persons not related by blood or marriage to either the dependent or the soldier. This department has a form for such affidavits for the class "B" dependents of army men, which may be obtained by sending in a large stamped, addressed envelope.

Blast Sunken Collier to Clear Cape Cod Canal

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The navy today disclosed that the Cape Cod canal in Massachusetts was closed to normal traffic thruout July by the accidental sinking of a collier in the channel. The obstacle was removed by blowing it to pieces, the navy said, describing the canal as a "strategically important" waterway in the movement of coastwise traffic.

SYNOPSIS.

Covering the Spanish Civil war, James Milcom, English journalist with Loyalist sympathies, meets Raquel, the Condesa de Verdura, in Madrid, seeking food for her starving child. James befriends her, but the child dies. He then helps Raquel escape into France to a frontier hotel where her sister, Olivia, is staying. Rosemary Oldhead, a young English girl, is vacationing at the same hotel with her parents. She has made friends with a number of newspaper men including Crumpaun, Hever, Crossman, and Carrow. Thru them she meets James and Raquel, and even tho she realizes James and Raquel are in love with each other, she falls in love with James and is also devoted to Raquel. Raquel's husband, Pascual, notorious for his infidelities, is in prison, but when James visits him and tells him of the death of his child, James finds Pascual has repented of his past sins and is now almost a saint. James talks to La Paquita, a famous White spy, just before her execution and thru her he learns that Raquel's brother, Juanito, and Olivia are White spies. In the meantime Rosemary becomes interested in spies and thru her keen observations discovers two frontier passes used by the Whites. Her father, sympathetic toward the Loyalists, reports the passes and they are closed. The latter, steps in a cave under the frontier, had been used by Juanito, whom Rosemary talked to when she first discovered the steps. He, at that time, wore peasant's clothes and tho she was suspicious that he was a spy she did not know he was Raquel's brother. When James returns from Spain where he talked to Pascual, Raquel tells him she will be his. But in spite of his great love for her he is forced to tell her how her husband has changed. James has arranged for Pascual's realease and advises Raquel to go back to him. Heartbroken, she leaves for Paris to get a permit to return to Spain. Rosemary sees James, grief stricken, alone on the beach and goes to him and confesses her love for him. He considers her confusion an adolescent impulse, but it comforts him. Rosemary encounters Juanito a second time and this time she realizes who he is. He talks to her and sends a message to Raquel. After Raquel's reunion with her husband she fails to hear again from Juanito and she writes James to help find him. But James searches for him in vain.

INSTALMENT XLI.

CONTINUED SEARCH.

He suddenly realized what a relief it was to be soothed and amused, to have the pressure of his own wretched thoughts lifted off him for a little while.

"Tell me about this place," he asked Rosemary. "What's it like?"

"Well the hotel, as you see, is a sort of silent film of Tchekov," Rosemary said. "Golly, they are incredible. Do you see that old man over there sitting with his feet on a hot brick? O, he's gone—but you can see the brick if you lean this way. Half of them have bricks at meals." James laughed. "And of course there's never any one in the Bureau, and the chambermaids wear shawls round their shoulders all day long, and the bedside lamps only have five watt bulbs in them, and the water in your basin makes you smell of sulphur the whole time. But it's madly cheap and the food is quite good—much better than at the lousy Grande Bretagne, where they smothered everything in sauce to disguise the taste of stale fish. Which building are you in, by the way?"

"I've no idea," said James, still laughing. "I followed my nose to the restaurant."

"O—Well. There's not much to choose, anyway. We've tried all three. In the one across the square you have a bathroom and about three hours sun, and the radio from that restaurant place drives you mad. In this one you have no bath unless you go down to the establishment, and only about two hours sun—and in the middle one you get four and a half hours sun and no bath at all without walking a mile. It's a matter of choice really. We're in this one."

"Why so little sun?" James asked.

"O, because the whole place is jammed into the mouth of the gorge where the waters came from, and hulking great cliffs keep it off," Rosemary said. "So much for the African climate! 'Tisn't so frightfully African anyway—there's been a tearing east wind the whole time we've been here."

"And what's the place like?" James asked, beginning on his cheese.

"O, delicious, I think—I love this rocky shrubby country. If we had a car, or I had any one to walk with, it would be heaven. Mummie and I did go in the bus once to Arles-sur-Tech, and once we walked to Palalda—but that's about all."

"I've got a car," said James on an impulse. "We might do some drives together. There are some very good little churches to see—Romanesque. Quite a lot of early ones, too—11th century."

Her eyes shone at him across the table. Really, she was quite pretty, James thought—he had never noticed before how pretty she was.

"Would you?" she said. "O, goodness, that would be marvelous. You can't think what a difference that would make. There's not been a soul here. I have so missed,"—she checked herself—"Crumpet and everybody." He knew she had been going to say the condesa, and warmed to her, in spite of a stab of pain.

"Well, we'll do that," he said. He rose. "Now I'll come over and pay my respects to your parents, and then I must find my room."

The Oldheads greeted him with the warmth that was to be expected from people who have been badly bored for over a month. He took coffee with them in the funereal lounge under the dim lights that made the place, as Mr. Oldhead rightly remarked, look like a morgue. The people would be at home in a morgue, too, he added. Mrs. Oldhead, with wifely inconsequence, inserted the remark that the place was doing him good, all the same. "Agreed, my dear, thank God—but that doesn't affect its appearance," said Mr. Oldhead.

Then James went and found M. Dupont, the proprietor, a courteous old man whose stomach and beard were equally remarkable—for a wonder, he was in the bureau. And by him the weary man was at last escorted to his room.

Afterwards, lying in the hardish but still tolerable bed, he reflected, first, that it was much nicer than the Europe, and next, what a blessing it was to find the Oldheads here. They would keep his thoughts quiet in the evenings. And Rosemary would sometimes be company by day. For the first time that night he remembered, then, when he had last seen her, up by the old Phare at S. Jean de Luz, and what had passed between them there. And he was suddenly struck by the fact that she had not shown the smallest embarrassment this evening, as might well have been expected—she had come straight over to him, taken him and his dinner in hand, and smoothed and amused him all thru it. What an extraordinary child! An encounter with a self-conscious drooping girl would have been the last straw, tonight. "She's a first class little thing," he thought gratefully, and fell asleep.

Milcom had an immediate objective in the Tech valley itself—to search in the two miliciens' camps outside Arles-sur-Tech and Prats-de-Mollo for Juanito, or at least for news of him. Accordingly, the next morning he set off to see the Sous-Prefet at Arles, to get the necessary permits. While in Paris, James had heard from his friend in Hooters of the committee set up in London to arrange for the emigration of suitable Spanish refugees to Mexico and Latin America. He had been at pains to get in touch with the committee by letter, and intended, while inquiring for Juanito, to keep an eye open for possible emigrants at the same time.

He found the Sous-Prefet in a big villa a little way up the road from the Hotel des Glycines. He waited for some time in the large dreary hall—a typist was clattering away at a table under the stairs, and gossiping with the clerks who passed thru, and the two or three Gardes Mobiles who hung about—on a bench inside the door four Spaniards sat waiting, two in officers' uniform. When he was at last shown in James found the Sous-Prefet a charming person, loaned to the overworked prefecture in Perpignan from one of the Paris ministries; he was most sympathetic to the journalist's search for the emigration scheme, he was enthusiastic about it. He opened a drawer in his desk and pulled out a large caricature of himself, wittily conceived and admirably drawn.

"Look at that," he said, "Is it not good?"

"But excellent," said James. Who has made it?"

"A poor devil here from the camp. He was political cartoonist to one of the Barcelona papers. But he can never go back to Spain. He should certainly try the new world. And here," he went on, pulling out another sheet, on which a pair of dancers was brilliantly depicted—"Look at that."

"Is he here, too?" James asked examining it.

"But centainly. If you want any drawings like that, I can put you in touch with him. I like to put them in the way of earing a few francs when I can, poor devils."

"I'll buy the dancers, if it's for sale," said James.

The Sous-Prefet was delighted. He showed James his wristwatch, on the glass of which was painted a fascinating scene of a bull fight, microscopically clear and vivid. "Would you like such a decoration?"

"Another of your proteges?" James asked.

"Assuredly."

"Well, I have some English friends down at Amelie," said James. "We might arrange something. How can I get hold of these fellows?"

"Very easily." He rang a bell on his desk, and gave an order to the clerk who answered it. "They will come at once. These three and some others I have got here in the town, in lodgings; the artist is with his wife, who expects her child. Meanwhile, I will arrange your permits. You want to go where?"

To visit both camps, at will, James said—and as far as possible, to move about freely in his car—up towards S. Laurant de Cordans, for example.

"Vous voulez parcourir la frontiere?" the Frenchman said smiling. "Very well." He wrote:

"If, when these men come, you find them agreeable," he said, "then I could always arrange to send them down in a cart to Amelia to see you. It distracts them, you understand to meet people and have a little conversation. Of course you speak Spanish?"

James said that he did.

At this moment the clerk popped in again to say that two of the Messieurs Espagnoles were there, and ushered in the two officers whom James had already seen waiting in the hall—they proved to be the cartoonist and the man who painted dancers. After the introductions, James expressed a polite desire not to derange the Sous-Prefet further, and took them off with him to have a cup of coffee. The Hotel des Glycines was the nearest place, and in the sun and out of the wind, it was warm enough to sit in the open; they sat under the wistaria trellis, bare now save for the small fat silvery tassels which promised bloom to come, and over coffee each told James his story. James listened with attention and sympathy, and jotting down their names. But half his mind was going back five months, to the day when he had sat under that trellis with another Spanish refugee—a White.

WINS REHEARING IN BATTLE FOR JUDICIAL POST

Patrick B. Prescott Jr., well known Negro attorney, was notified yesterday that the Illinois Supreme court had granted his petition for a rehearing of the case in which the court refused to uphold his appointment by Gov. Green to the Chicago Municipal court.

The opinion which the high court will reconsider was written by Justice Paul Farthing of East St. Louis 10 days after his defeat in the June 5 election. It was Justice Farthing's last official act.

Prescott was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Judge Edward S. Scheffler to the chief justiceship of the court Nov. 4, 1941. The appointment was not made until Dec. 10, which Gov. Green believed brought it within terms of the law providing that he may fill vacancies of less than one year. Chief Justice Scheffler refused to seat Prescott, who then asked the Supreme court to rule that Scheffler was wrong.

All 36 Municipal court jurists are Democrats.

COURT APPROVES $250,000 MATHER ESTATE BEQUEST

Plans of the executors of the $5,000,000 estate of the late Alonzo C. Mather to distribute a $250,000 legacy to the Buffalo and Fort Erie public bridge authority and the Niagara Parks commission, were approved yesterday by Judge Benjamin P. Epstein in Circuit court.

The bequest will be used to install a modern lighting system on the Peace bridge spanning the Niagara river from Buffalo to Fort Erie, Canada, and for erection of a memorial building in Mather park on the Canadian side.

The bequest was to have been used, according to the terms of Mather's will, to erect memorial tablets on the bridge as a tribute to the great men of the United States and Canada. This plan had to be abandoned because rules of the bridge operators forbade erection of the tablets. Mather, a railway stock car manufacturer, died Jan. 25, 1941, at the age of 92.

COURT HOLDS UP $150,000 ESTATE WILL AS FORGED

Adopted Son of Bondsman Opposes Probate.

A will, disposing of the $150,000 estate of the late William H. Jeffries, Negro professional bondsman, who died Oct. 7, 1941, was found to be a forgery yesterday by Probate Judge John F. O'Connell, who denied the will to probate.

Probate of the will was opposed by an adopted son of Jeffries, William Jeffries Jr., 22, a real estate manager, who lives at 3334 South State street. He filed a petition charging that his foster mother, Mrs. Nellie Jeffries, had conspired with an attorney, William H. Rubin, and two witnesses to produce a fraudulent document.

Third Only for Widow.

According to Jeffries' bill, the widow was unable to find a will until she learned that if Jeffries was found to have died intestate she would receive only a third of his estate, while the adopted son would get two-thirds.

Shortly after she became aware of this, the bill charges, she claimed to have found the contested will, which leaves her the bulk of the estate.

Two handwriting experts testified in court that the purported signature of the document was a tracing from an authentic signature of Jeffries', but one which he had made years ago. Recent signatures, which would have been contemporary with the purported signing of the will, were unlike the earlier specimens.

Advises Action by State.

Judge O'Connell advised Charles R. Aiken, attorney for the foster son, to take the matter before the state's attorney's office and the grand jury for criminal action. There was insufficient evidence before the probate court, he said, to hold Mrs. Jeffries, Rubin, and the two witnesses named in the bill, Marion Johnson, and Ben Wonders, for contempt.

U. S. JURY GETS MORE EVIDENCE AGAINST ARIANI

Further evidence against Savario Ariani, former Chicago banker who was arrested Sept. 4 in San Francisco after an 11 year search, was presented to the federal grand jury yesterday.

Among the witnesses, it was reported, were attorneys for the creditors and trustees in bankruptcy handling the affairs of the now defunct First Italian State bank, 1201 Taylor street, and bank examiners who uncovered shortages shortly before Ariani disappeared.

Further hearings will be delayed until next week when federal agents who took part in Ariani's arrest and other witnesses now in California will arrive in Chicago.

GOOD BREAKFAST IS RIGHT START FOR CHILD'S DAY

Food Should Attract as Well as Nourish.

BY YVONNE CROWLEY.

Five hours in the classroom each day may provide food for a student's thought, but it's a well-balanced breakfast that supplies fuel for his body and protects his health.

The need for morning nourishment may not express itself in a display of hunger on the part of the child, but the fact remains that breakfast should provide at least one-quarter of his daily food requirements. So don't let this meal be a rushed affair consisting of a few quick gulps and a hurried departure for school.

Try to have breakfast on the table at a definite hour to allow time for its enjoyment. Keep the children interested in the day's first meal by introducing new dishes to the menu and varying the old ones as often as possible. Serve foods that offer pleasant contrast in color, flavor, temperature, and texture, and remember that a cheerful setting of gay tablecloth and colorful dishes often helps to improve the appetite as well as the morning disposition.

Always Include Cereal.

Include cereal, either the natural whole grain type or packaged ready-to-eat kind, at every breakfast. It's a good practice to alternate them from day to day so that a hot cereal is served frequently. Cereals are a cheap but excellent source of energy, and they contain valuable amounts of protein, minerals, and vitamins, especially those made from whole grains or the greater part of the grain.

The addition of fresh or dried fruits, raisins, cooked apricots, or prunes often lends more interest to the cereal dish as well as more nourishment. As a general rule, milk rather than cream should accompany the cereal, since the high fat content of cream is not needed by the average child.

The dietary requirement of an egg a day for each child can frequently be filled at breakfast and it isn't difficult to serve eggs in a variety of ways, scrambled, poached, soft-cooked, or baked, to prevent tiresome repetition.

Jams and Jellies Have Appeal.

Jams and jellies and maple and corn sirup are good additions to the breakfast menu, for they provide appetite appeal along with calories. Use whole wheat or enriched white bread for toasting, or make your muffins and other hotbreads with enriched flour to provide that much needed vitamin B1.

The following menus are planned to meet the food requirements of the average child of school age, but whether your family's breakfast is large or small, let it be an adequate one.

Baked Pears Are Delicious with Marshmallow Topping

Fresh pears adapt themselves to baking as well as to eating out of the hand, and they're especially good with a marshmallow topping. To serve eight, pour three cups boiling water into sauce pan; add a few grains of salt. Add 32 marshmallows and let melt. Remove from heat. Add one tablespoon lemon juice. Pour this hot sirup over halved pears in a buttered baking dish. Cover the dish and bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees] for 45 minutes or until the pears are tender. Serve warm.

Spice Darkens Pickles.

In making pickles, remove the spice bag from the sirup before pouring it into clean jars. Spices, left in the jars for any length of time, tend to darken the pickles.

You Can't Equal The Taste Of "Patented Flavor" Bread

Women Quitting Old Kinds For It At The Rate Of 5,000 A Week Now!

Takes The Place Of Any White Bread Deficient In Natural Flavor, Vitamins And Minerals Because It Contains More Natural Flavor, Wheat Vitamins And Minerals

THERE is no other like it. That's the reason you cannot equal the taste of this amazing new "patented flavor" bread. Which has already taken the place of ordinary white bread in many thousands of American homes. For these two reasons:

1. Because it brings more of the rich, natural flavor of wheat full-ripened in the sun than white bread robbed of Nature's bounty. Thus, is better for taste.
2. Because it contains more natural vitamins and minerals of wheat now than ever before thought possible.

You can see the difference at once. Gone is the chalk-white look of the ordinary baker's bread. Instead, this new "patented flavor" kind has the color of the cream on the top of the bottle of milk.

A Remarkable Discovery

Everybody knows the trouble with ordinary white bread. Made from flour bled white in refining to make a whiter loaf. Then Theodore Earle patented his discovery (U. S. Pat. Nos. 2143306, 2232697, 2155219, 2232696). And here is the secret of "patented flavor."

By removing the bad-tasting outer skin of the grain, you get this richer, better tasting loaf. A bread the color of cream; tender in texture and crust. And with more natural vitamins and minerals.

To obtain this amazing new "patented flavor" loaf—ask your grocer for the new Wonder Bread. And see for yourself why women everywhere are quitting ordinary white bread for this new kind at the rate of over 5,000 a week now.

A Great Thrill

Most people are astonished and thrilled by their first taste of this new "patented flavor" Wonder Bread. Not the flat insipid flavor of the usual chalk-white kind. But refreshingly different! Like the taste of fresh fruit after canned. You'll say it's marvelous!

But discover how much better this new "patented flavor" Wonder Bread tastes. Mothers of growing children and wives of men who work should serve it instead of any ordinary vitamin-deficient kind.

Then, too, "patented flavor" Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it and fresh when you eat it. Because slo-baked for lasting freshness—baked 13% longer than many ordinary kinds.

See how much longer "patented flavor" Wonder Bread stays fresh in the bread box; how much longer sandwiches stay fresh in the lunch box.

Ask your grocer for the bread with "patented flavor"—the new Wonder Bread—today sure. You, too, will be surprised and thrilled with it.

Ned LeFevre, son of Mrs. Hal LeFevre and the late Dr. LeFevre of Elkhart, Ind., are to be married at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the home of Luther Tompkins Wallace in Winnetka. Miss Luddy has established a record as the most married actress of the air waves for, as the feminine lead in the First Nighter dramatic series on W-G-N she has been married in nearly every broadcast. Lieut. William G. LeFevre of the army air corps will be his brother's best man.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Clarence Goode of Constance avenue announce the marriage on Wednesday of their daughter, Eloise, to Warren Knapp Wilner Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilner of Calumet avenue. The bride attended University High school and the University of Chicago. Mr. Wilner was graduated in June from the University of Chicago, where he was captain of the track team. He is studying in the university's school of medicine. The wedding took place in Joseph Bond chapel, with a reception following in Swift hall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lipp of Crandon avenue announce the marriage on Sept. 17 of their daughter, Babette Jane, to Dr. Sylvan Daniel Solarz, son of Sampson Solarz of Baltimore, Md. The wedding took place in Thorndike Hilton chapel of the University of Chicago.

Miss Pearl G. Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Roberts of South Avers avenue, and Seaman First Class Kurt S. Hirsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hirsch of South Keeler avenue, will be married tomorrow in the Rev. Louis Mann's study. A reception will follow in the home of the bride's parents.

Sigh of a Secretary.

Look, my faithful Underwood,
I've got it bad . . . and that ain't good!
Take a letter to the boss—
"Another's gain will be your loss,
If you don't learn your secretary
Doesn't eat like a canary.
Painted legs may be the rage,
But I need stockings . . . at my age.
And landlords won't take rent in praise.
—Emily

Pity the Postman.

We hear a good bit about the men in service and how they like to get mail . . . how disappointed they are when no letter arrives, etc. But the nomination for the Sweetheart of the Month goes to the ordinarily docile young hairdresser who, failing to get a long awaited letter from the boy friend in the army, took a stance—and a wallop—at the flabbergasted postman.

Another Answer.

"Would 999 minus 99 divided by 9 be acceptable as an answer to the problem of arranging six 9s so as to make 100?" writes a male reader [999—99÷9=100]. Could be! Could be!

Venus of Switchboard.

On Chicago's highways and byways there's been a lovely visitor this past week whose face you must have seen over the caption "Devotion to Duty Is a Telephone Tradition." Carmel Fitzgerald posed for the picture that appeared in magazines thruout the country.

Thruout the country? Yes—and across the sea, for to the offices of the Bell Telephone company came a letter from England asking about the advertisment and the girl who "seemed to have all the peacefulness and tranquility of a Mona Lisa in her face."

"For sheer loveliness," said the letter, "and we mean that in its true sense, she surpassed anything we had ever seen. We are curious about this Venus of the Switchboard as one 'bloke' put it. So, could you please:

"Tell us her name, age, address, height, weight, and the color of her hair and eyes.

"Please don't think this is rude. We have made this girl our ideal, our idea of perfection. . . . We are all in the RAFVR, tho not called for active service yet, and a note from her would be more appreciated than we can say.

"If it wouldn't be too much trouble, could you trace her and give us the details we asked for? We'd be awfully pleased!"

'Tis a human and pleasant sidelight on modern business to know that the letter of the young British flyers was straightway answered by the assistant vice president of the telephone company. Carmel Fitzgerald, they were informed, is the name of the John Powers model whose picture they saw. . . . her age 21; her address the Barbizon club, New York City; her height, 5 feet 8½ inches in heels; weight 125 pounds; hair light brown; eyes blue. Thus did sentiment span an ocean.

Size and Color Feature New Fall Handbags

BY REA SEEGER.

Exciting new bag collections make a most impressive showing because of size, color, shapes, and decorative frames, clasps and trim. Huge affairs of felt and velveteen in brilliant colors are ideal companions for tweed and bright colored wool suits. Bags without a bit of metal anywhere feature the revived drawstring closing devices, and lots of inspired cutting to assure capacity without looking like school or old-time dancing slipper bag.

One of the most famous leather designers in the world has successfully launched stunning street bags of tweed trimmed with leather, the leather usually in small bands. For instance, one is a huge patterned, multicolored tweed wool handsomely contrasted with honey beige leather-saddle stitched. This beige leather forms the firm flat bottom of the bag and extends up about an inch onto the wool. The wool is then gathered and held with a strop for a carrying handle. These are the smartest all purpose bags of the season, big enough to carry for traveling or to hold all your extras, including all small packages when you go on a shopping binge.

Typical finds of the times are the dispatch case bags, some in felt, some in wide striped corduroy, others in smooth, smart calfskin leathers. Saddle stitched trim and bands and a clip flap fastening together with a long shoulder strap give a military swank. Dark red, dull green beige, black, brown, and navy assure a good color selection. Many fabric covered bags are featured—felt, broadcloth, and trick woolens. The best looking broadcloth bags have clever simulated tortoise shell frames and handles, and others of the same suave broadcloth are dramatized with effective frames and clasps of transparent crystal and other plastics.

Unusually beautiful bags made entirely of narrow cord and braid are ready for dress parade duty. Fall shades of wine, brown, green, and the classic blacks feature all the new designs. One beauty is made of crocheted wheels of the narrow braid sewed together over gleaming satin contrast. Pouches, triangular shapes, and envelope models are all available. All have ceiling prices that are exceptionally reasonable.

From a husband to his WAVE:

Darling:—Everything is wonderful. Lillian is well. So am I. We don't miss you at all. I am teaching Lillian to be proficient with boats. We have a small fleet in the bathtub. Lillian insists on sinking with the boats. I have been trying my OCD first aid on her.

From a WAVE to her husband:

Darling:—Everything is wonderful. A cute lieutenant [male] is teaching us the names of ships and aircraft. I don't know why, as I am told we are to get near none of them. Will you look in my third bureau bottom drawer beneath my peach chiffon negligee and see if you can find my gold earrings? We can't wear them in uniform, but we do not stay in uniform all the time. Also my scarlet crêpe dinner dress, please.

From a husband to his WAVE:

Darling:—Everything is wonderful. At least, everything is better. The doctor quieted Lillian. Her arm was broken in only two places. He advised me to get a housekeeper, so I did. She is wonderful. She looks something like you.

From a WAVE to her husband:

Darling:—Everything is wonderful, but did you have to get a housekeeper? That is nonsense. You might have asked my advice first, as I know a nice one who used to work for mother. I have changed the way I wear my hair. The lieutenant says it looks much nicer this way.

From a husband to his WAVE:

Dear:—Please stop drawing so many checks. Business is not too good. What do you need money for, anyway? The housekeeper tells me the navy gives all you midshipmen an allowance. It that true? Why didn't you tell me?

From a WAVE to her husband:

Dear Jack:—What do you mean? Stop drawing so many checks? I guess I'm your wife and have a right to, don't I? It's hard enough killing myself learning this silly navigation to try and be an ensign without having you back-talk, too. Even the lieutenant was cross today. He said he was sure he could decapitate a Jap a whole lot quicker with his dress sword than he could strangle him with a brassiere.

From a husband to his WAVE:

Dear Diary BY BECKY

Yes, ma'am . . . tomatoes are on Uncle Sam's health guide

Their vitamin A and C content give them strength-building qualities

U.S. NEEDS US STRONG — EAT NUTRITIONAL FOOD

"U. S. needs US Strong" is America's wartime slogan on the home front, and your government is helping to build a strong nation by stressing the value of nourishing foods in properly-balanced proportions.

Tomatoes are specially recommended because of their abundance of vitamins, mainly vitamins A and C for strong bones and teeth, and greater resistance to infection.

These vitamins are keynotes to good health, but remember, improper cooking will destroy them. Too much water, violent boiling, loose-fitting pan covers are all ways in which vitamins are lost.

To avoid this needless waste of vitamins and minerals when cooking tomatoes, follow these rules:

1. Scrape the tomato all over with a knife to loosen the skin until it wrinkles. Then simply pull it off. Another method is to plunge the tomatoes into boiling water for just a moment. This loosens the skin and it can be slipped off.
2. Use little or no water. Tomatoes contain a large percentage of moisture, and extra water only serves to dissolve vitamins and minerals.
3. Use tight fitting covers.
4. Bring tomatoes to full steam with high heat.
5. Continue cooking with simmer heat until done.

Tempting new tomato recipes . . . easy to cook with your electric range

For the school children or the defense worker's lunch box, try sandwiches of tomato bread with fillings of peanut butter and crisp chopped bacon, or baked beans with a dash of grated onion and horseradish.

TOMATO BREAD
⅓ cup butter — 7 cups flour
¼ cup sugar — 1 ounce yeast
1 tablespoon salt — 2 cups tomato juice
2 eggs

Scald and cool the tomato juice to lukewarm, add the yeast and stir until dissolved. Cream the butter and sugar, salt and eggs, gradually add the flour alternately with the tomato-yeast mixture. Stir in five cups of flour, then toss on floured board and knead in the remaining two cups of flour. Place in well greased bowl, set in warm place to rise. When doubled in bulk, shape in two one pound loaves, let rise until doubled in size, and bake for one hour at 400 degrees.

Note: This dough may be shaped in rolls, making two and one-half dozen rolls. After doubling in bulk, bake for 15 to 20 minutes at 425 degrees.

Here is an ideal meatless luncheon dish, served with a mixed green salad. It insures you plenty of vitamins and pep!

TOMATO CUSTARD
3 eggs slightly beaten — ⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 cups cooked tomatoes — ½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons grated onion
½ cup cracker crumbs

Add eggs to tomatoes and mix well. Season, add onion and crumbs. Fill individual custard cups that have been greased, and bake in pan of water for one hour at 350 degrees. Unmold on rounds of hot buttered toast which have been spread with grated cheese and serve at once.

Try this easy recipe for a Sunday night supper. Serve it with cole slaw to which has been added a finely chopped dill pickle.

BAKED TOMATO RAREBIT
12 slices bread — ⅔ teaspoon salt
6 slices snappy cooking cheese — 4 eggs
3 cups tomatoes — ⅛ teaspoon pepper

Trim the crust from bread, make 6 cheese sandwiches and arrange in bottom of buttered baking dish. Mix tomatoes, eggs, salt and pepper and pour this mixture over the bread and store in the refrigerator until ready to bake. Bake for 45-50 minutes at 350 degrees. Strips of bacon placed on the bread just before baking will enhance the flavor.

Colleges Open This Fall with Wartime Pace

BY JUDITH CASS.

COLLEGE days of 1942 will be remembered in future years for the addition of war production courses to college curricula, for the introduction of six-week winter vacations to save fuel oil on the campuses, and for the complications caused by the sugar rationing cards which students are carrying back to classes with them. It's a life of a brisker tempo which awaits young Chicagoans who are taking trains this week back to their eastern campuses. Vassar college is asking each of its undergraduates to register for one of ten extra curricular courses designed to prepare them for the war effort. Bryn Mawr postponed the opening of its classes one day to relieve a wartime strain on week-end travel. And Wellesley made an even more significant move, granting its president, Miss Mildred McAfee, a year's leave of absence to head the WAVES.

Executive Body of Three Will Govern at Wellesley.

Wellesley will have no "acting president" during Miss McAfee's absence, but will be governed instead by a joint executive body of three: Mrs. Theodore C. Haffenreffer, senior alumnæ trustee of the college; Miss Ella Keats Whiting, dean of instruction, and Miss Lucy Wilson, dean of students. And so, for the first time in several years, Wellesley's incoming freshmen won't have their youthful and vigorous president to welcome them at the round of teas which are a routine of the first weeks of college. Mrs. Haffenreffer's daughter, Miss Marie Haffenreffer, who was Tree day mistress for her class at Wellesley, will be arriving in Chicago tomorrow for a week's visit with a college classmate, Miss Jane Bleecker.

Another college which, like Wellesley, will have a long winter vacation to cut down on the campus' fuel oil consumption is Smith, which will be closed from Dec. 19 to Jan. 25. Chicago's freshman contingent, including eight students from the city and 15 from the north shore, arrived on Sept. 14 to start their college days with a round of psychology and aptitude tests, physical examinations, and faculty receptions. This year, with the WAVES quartered in Northrup, Gillette and Chapin halls on the Northampton, Mass., campus, the regular students are doubling up. The Hotel Northampton serves as mess hall for the WAVES.

Miss Anne Ryerson and Miss Sallie Welch went back to Vassar early to be on hand to help welcome the freshmen, including 16 from Chicago. The college's official opening will be an academic convocation tomorrow morning, with Vassar's president, Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, and Prof. Paul A. Northrop as speakers. Tomorrow night a mass meeting will be held to welcome the newcomers to membership in the students' association, political association, community church, athletic association, and dramatic society. Classes will begin on Monday.

Bryn Mawr's classes will begin next Wednesday, since the original starting date a day earlier would have involved week-end travel, already overburdened in wartime. Among the young Chicagoans who will be attending their first college classes then are Miss Isabel and Miss Louise, twin daughters of the Chicago Alumnæ club's president, Mrs. Rollin Chamberlin; Miss Ann Hanson, Miss Winifred Howard, Debutante Roxa Lee, whose mother, Mrs. William George Lee, is a Bryn Mawr graduate; Miss Margaret McEwan, and Miss Renée Small, freshman scholarship girl from this district.

Wells college opened officially yesterday, with Miss Gloria Minchin,

Club Federation's Fall Flower Show Opens Tomorrow

With gardens in the gold and scarlet beauty of late summer bloom, the 6th district garden department of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs is presenting its annual fall flower exhibit tomorrow and Sunday in Horticultural hall of the Garfield park conservatory.

Last year the club women's show drew more than 10,000 visitors. The increase of general interest in gardening, given impetus by war planting, leads Mrs. Frederick W. Wilmot, district garden chairman, and her 24 garden chairmen associates from affiliated clubs to anticipate even a larger attendance at the 1942 exhibit.

The district club women will have Mrs. Roy Boudrye, district president, and Mrs. M. L. Schmitz, the state federation garden chairman, as special guests at a 1:30 o'clock luncheon tomorrow in the Graemere hotel.

Directors Meet Today.

Thru the Looking Glass

How are your eating habits, sister? If they're bad and you don't exercise sufficient will power to improve them you're not only foolish but unpatriotic. To keep physically fit, as every one in the nation is urged, you need three squares a day, plus plenty of exercise and all the rest you need.

Women are the worst offenders in the eating department. Many doctors think that one reason they don't bear up well in the long pull of hard work is that they just don't nourish themselves well and that the cumulative effect of faulty eating habits contributes more than they realize to the physical crackups.

Any woman who is going to do her share in winning this war will have to eat wisely. If she does a day's work she must get over the habit of a cup of coffee and a slim piece of toast for breakfast.

The woman who has gone breakfastless for years won't find it easy to look at an egg for the first few mornings. She'll probably have to work up gradually to a hearty morning meal. Lots of physicians pooh-pooh the notion that you are made physically ill at the thought of a large breakfast when you've done nothing but drink a cup of coffee for years, but we know it's true.

We once had to discipline ourself into it. It can be done. Start with small portions of fruit, cereal, eggs and bacon, and eat as much as you can. You'll slowly but surely be able to eat larger amounts.

Drink at least a pint of milk a day, and eat eggs several times a week. Make it a point to do better by fruits and vegetables than you have in the past. The years ahead are going to be tough, busy ones, and women who must work like men must learn to eat like men.

WAACs Keep Powder Dry: to Meet General

Six WAAC officers flipped an extra dash of powder on their noses yesterday morning, mustered all the martial courage they acquired in training, and marched into the office of Brig. Gen. Henry S. Aurand, head of the 6th service command, in the new postoffice building.

They are the first women's army auxiliary corps officers to be assigned to this area and their call on the general was the first step in taking up their new duties of recruiting, interviewing, and public relations.

Fiddling nervously with pencils, but with brass buttons and calf shoes gleaming resplendently, headquarters personnel greeted their sister officers.

"It's a great pleasure to welcome you lieutenants to Chicago," Gen. Aurand said as he greeted the WAACs. "I'm sure that our area will more than meet its quota for enlistment in the WAAC."

"Yes, sir. We'll try, sir," the WAACs replied in awed tones.

Two of the new officers, honey-haired Lieut. Mary W. Stephenson of Jerseyville, and gracious, warm eyed Lieut. Ruth T. Woodworth of Eau Claire, Wis., reported later to the army recruiting and induction station, 515 South Franklin street. Others left for Detroit and Milwaukee.

Assignment means almost a return to their white collar girl days for the WAACs. A tinkling alarm clock will wake them again instead of the 5:45 a. m. first call bugle at Fort Des Moines, Ia., where they were trained. They'll room together in kitchenette apartments instead of in barracks. They'll brew their own morning coffee instead of sipping it in the mess hall.

"Most of all we're going to miss retreat and drilling," said Lieut. Eleanor W. Morrison of Gary, Ind., assigned to the Detroit recruiting station.

All 436 officers in the first WAAC training class at Fort Des Moines were warned repeatedly by their commandant, Col. Don C. Faith, against overdoing the drilling. "They're drilling as soon as they arise in the morning and just before they go to bed at night—mostly on their own time," Col. Faith said this summer.

Lieut. Woodworth, 44 years old, has a 12-year old daughter, Emily Jane, who hopes her mother will soon be assigned to a service akin to the commandos. Her father, the late Maj. Douglas M. Woodworth was a World War veteran and held the Purple Heart award. Lieut. Woodworth formerly was woman's editor of the Eau Claire Leader-Telegram and is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin school of journalism. Her snapping brown eyes belie the silver in her hair.

Before joining the WAAC, Lieut. Stephenson, 30 years old, taught English and history in the De Land High school. She was graduated from MacMurray College for Women in Jacksonville. Lieut. Stephenson wears her long hair coiled in smooth braids well above the collar of her khaki blouse, in accordance with WAAC dress regulations.

With Lieut. Morrison, Lieut. Joan G. Murray of Port Washington, N. Y., left for Detroit. Lieutenants Margaret Stewart of Dickinson, N. D., and Marguerite B. Dennis of Detroit departed for Milwaukee.

Women in War Work

By India Moffett

For the first time since the Illinois Institute of Technology opened its war training program for women, Chicago women have not taken advantage of an opportunity to be trained for a particular phase of war work in which the need is great in Chicago's war industries. Only one woman has responded to the call made on Sept. 5 for enrollees in a new course in metallurgy. It was because plants in this area urgently need women trained as metallurgists that this new course was added to the already extensive and intensive program being given at the institute to prepare women to enter war industry.

The class will be limited to 25 women, who will study 40 hours a week. Instruction will be given at the Lewis division of Illinois Tech, 1951 West Madison street. Applicants must be high school graduates with college work thru general chemistry. The course will be tuition free, as are all the other war courses at the institute. There surely are among our readers two dozen women with the necessary education who want to take part in essential work, so we hope that before long we will hear that the class in filled.

Three hundred and eight women already have been trained at Illinois Tech to take positions in industrial drafting, industrial chemistry, and ordnance inspection. All of them are now hard at work in war plants in this area and with the Chicago ordnance district. Jobs are awaiting the women who complete the metallurgical course, for men trained in this field are not available.

A new course in industrial chemistry at the institute is being formed and applicants are being interviewed now. A woman wishing to take this course must have had outstanding grades in high school chemistry, or one year of college chemistry.

A new course in industrial drafting for women will be opened at Illinois Tech on Oct. 12. Women now studying this technical subject at the institute will be graduated in about two weeks. Requirements for admission to the course are high school graduation plus some experience in industry or art school which indicates ability to learn drawing. Applicants must appear for personal interviews at the office of war training for women at 1951 West Madison street.

Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, executive vice chairman of the women's division of the war savings staff, announces that the total sales of stamps and bonds thru the women have reached the impressive total of $44,037,997.57.

About 60 vice chairmen and regional representatives of the women's division of the Illinois Council of Defense will meet today at the Palmer House to discuss plans to improve and enlarge activities sponsored by the division. The morning session, starting at 10:30 o'clock, will be opened by Gov. Dwight H. Green, after which Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, co-chairman with Mrs. Bernice Van der Vries of the division, will give a report of accomplishments. Karl M. Kahn, assistant director of public relations, will discuss publicity, and Mrs. T. K. Rinaker, field representative, will talk on "War Activities for Club Women." Methods used to enroll club members in local councils will be discussed, and Mrs. Van der Vries will lead a discussion of suggestions for the future program of the women's division.

Miss Alice Lorenz, ordnance inspector, is one of several hundred women trained for war work at Illinois Institute of Technology.

James R. Hawkinson, regional consumer executive of the Office of Price Administration, will be the luncheon speaker, and at the afternoon session, starting at 2 o'clock, Joseph T. Meek, executive secretary of the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, will discuss "The Retailer-Consumer War Objective"; Dr. M. H. Kronenberg, chief of the division of industrial hygiene of the Illinois Department of Public Health, will talk on "The Problem of Nutrition in Industry"; Dr. Robert B. Browne, director of the extension service of the University of Illinois, and chairman, education division of the consumer interest committee of the council, will discuss promotional programs, and Robert Tieken, co-chairman of the council's salvage committee, will close the meeting by talking on "Salvage on the Home Front."

AWVS Offices Are Thronged on Opening Day

The American Women's Voluntary Services is going to outgrow its present headquarters at 130 North La Salle street in a very short time, judging by the influx of volunteers yesterday, the first day the office was opened. The volunteer staff started with a dozen chairs and six tables, thinking that six interviewers and the same number of applicants for registration would be all that would be in the office at one time.

Even before the doors opened at 9:30 o'clock there were more than six applicants and soon after interviewing had started Mrs. Watson McLallen, president, sent out an S O S for more chairs for those waiting.

Several hundred women were registered yesterday, but registrations still are being taken for the following classes: air raid precaution, switchboard operators, home mechanics, public speaking, map reading, motor mechanics, and defense photography. Plans are being made to organize night classes for business and professional women. A Negro unit is to be opened on the south side soon. Mrs. McLallen and Mrs. Potter Palmer, chairman of the board, will speak next Tuesday night to a large group of Negro women who want to be members of the AWVS.

The organization is in need of volunteer typists, receptionists, finger printing experts, canteen workers, public speakers, and general office workers. Applicants for these jobs should apply at 130 North La Salle street in person or by letter, or by telephone, Central 3363.

She made the trip in three days. Miss Small, who says she has ridden her bicycle 25,000 miles, now wants to pedal for Uncle Sam as a messenger.

Is Your Child an Open Book? You Think So!

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

So you thought you knew all about what goes on inside the curly head of your 14 year old Jane? And you were sure that you could read, like an open book, your overgrown, lanky 12 year old Greg?

Well, if you haven't come a cropper yet, you will, because it's only in foolish, misguided moments that we imagine that; because sooner or later we're always brought up by a glimpse of a page in their book of life that we have never turned. This, in a way, makes children more interesting. The unexpected, the undertone, the unsuspected in people, whether young or old, makes them seem richer and deeper.

Sometimes the surprise your children hold in store for you is one that worries you; sometimes it's one that delights you; and sometimes it's one that just amuses you.

An example of the last sort came to my attention not long ago. The prospect of a 5 o'clock Sunday dinner with all grown people, one of a series of such functions, was greeted recently with a groan by a boy of in-between age. When his father expressed mild rebuke and surprise at his objection, the boy just let down the bars.

"O, well, I wouldn't mind going so much if they'd do something besides just sit. And if they wouldn't talk about who I look like: [Here his voice changed to a mincing, delicate, ladylike tone]. 'Don't you think Joseph's nose is changing? It's growing more like his father's every day,' 'Now, really, Mary, I think I see a little look of you right across here, across the brows;' "couldn't he simply pass for Phil's son? he has that some fullness over the eyes?' "No! I don't see a sign of Lockwood in him. His mouth is just like Billy's when he was that age.' [Here the boy's voice changed back again]: Gosh, I wish they'd cut it! I get sick of being examined and talked over like a bug or a curiosity."

Now, all this came as a surprise to his father. He had seen the boy submit to these scrutinies again and again in a poised manner, with perfect imperturbability, as he thought. Not a shade of annoyance had ever crossed his son's face. Yet, every time he had had to submit to these family dissections, he had been annoyed and impatient, and inwardly burlesqued it all.

It is decidedly intriguing, what goes on behind the masks children often wear for the world at large. It isn't only grownups holding a pair of aces or a royal flush who keep a poker face. Children of every age are adept at it, and it is good for us to catch an occasional glimpse of the secret places so that we won't be deceived by their bland or masklike exteriors, and flatter ourselves that we can read them like an open book.

MISS' AUTUMN CLOTHES.

Two especially lovely models for school and college girls are these designs. One creates a jumper frock with side and shoulder buttoning and a handsome, tailored blouse. The other makes a "date" dress with contrasting material accenting the collarline, the left side of the bodice, and the low waist.

Style No. 3201 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 1⅞ yards of 54 inch material for jumper; and for blouse, 2⅛ yards of 39 inch material.

Style No. 3273 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12, 14, and 16. Size 12 requires 2⅞ yards of 35 inch material or 2¾ yards of 39 inch plain fabric with ½ yard contrasting.

Each pattern costs 10 cents, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost (coin preferred—wrap it carefully), for each pattern ordered. ## According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1942: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: The following hand is a good illustration, I think, of the elimination and throw-in play which has received so much attention in your column.

"South, dealer.

"Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ 8 5 3
♦ Q 10 8 3

WEST
♠ J 10 9 5
♥ A J 10 7 2
♣ Q J 8

EAST
♥ Q 4
♣ A 9 7 6 5 4 3 2

SOUTH
♠ K Q 6
♥ K 9 6
♦ A K J 9 5 4 2
♣ None

"The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 diamond | 1 heart | 2 diamonds | 3 clubs |
| 5 diamonds | Pass | Pass | Pass |

"West opened the queen of clubs. The king and ace covered, and declarer ruffed. Trumps were drawn in one round, then declarer laid down the king, queen, and a low spade. When East failed on the third round, declarer ruffed a spade, returned to dummy with a diamond, ruffed the remaining club, then went back to dummy and led a heart. Now all declarer had to do was cover East's four spot with the nine in order to insure that West would be on lead. After winning with the heart jack, West could do no better than lay down the heart ace, which, of course, set up South's king."

I don't like to play the ingrate, because the fact is that I do appreciate these hands from correspondents, but I fear that the declarer in this deal had only the foggiest notion of strip and throw-in plays. His technique was extremely bad, and it was only because his right hand opponent, East, was asleep at the switch that the contract was fulfilled. Surely, it should not have taken much foresight on East's part, when the heart was finally led from dummy after clubs and spades had been eliminated, to put up the heart queen, thus making it impossible for declarer to pass the trick to West.

The true elimination and throw-in play in this deal was quite different from, and even more simple than, declarer's line of play.

After ruffing the club, drawing trumps, and trying out the spade situation with three leads, all declarer had to do was ruff dummy's remaining club, return to dummy with a trump, and play the last spade. Then, in the knowledge that West would have to win this trick, declarer should simply discard a heart. West would either have to lead a heart up to the king, or another suit which dummy could ruff while declarer was discarding a second heart. Against this eminently direct and simple line of play there could have been no defense.

The Housewife

Career girls [and any others] who like to wash out their hosiery each night and perhaps a piece of lingerie or two will be interested to know there is an efficient, inexpensive little gadget on the market that is made to hold them while drying. It looks like a skirt hanger with four clips instead of two, but the wooden clips are lacquered and the metal frame is covered with rubber so there's no danger of snagging silk threads. Use this convenient invention and save the towel bars for towels.

Girl, 15, Is Told to Forget Idea She Is in Love

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I am a girl of 15 and I live with an aunt. She is too strict with me. She never will let me be out late at night and she objects to my even talking with boys. Every time I meet a boy, I tell her about it, and she gets angry with me. There is one boy I think I am in love with, but he is going into the army and she tells me to forget about him, but I can't forget. He told me to find another boy friend and forget him, as I am too young for him. What is the matter with everybody, thinking I am too young? Do you think I should forget this young man, as he tells me to, or not?—Sally."

What obstreperous youngsters some of you 15 year olds can turn out to be! We'll wager that's what your aunt is thinking, too. She probably is more concerned than any one else in the world in matters pertaining to your happiness and success in life. And she may find it necessary to be extra strict with you. However, she may be that way because you never give her your confidence or love.

Of course, she should not permit you to stay out late with boys. You are old enough to understand that you'd get a bad reputation if seen out late in boys' company. She is right, too, in discouraging your belief that you have fallen in love with the soldier to be. He tells you himself to get another boy friend and not count on him. That ought to be hint enough if you used your ridiculous little head.

There's no reason on earth why a 15 year old girl should be kept isolated from boys' companionship, but it should be kept on a companionship level only. You don't want to get yourself all mixed up with serious emotions at this time of life. Of course, no one can stop you young girls from thinking romantically, but the smart trick is to keep on thinking your dreams and not trying to act them out in a silly, amateurish way.

So, Sally, you tell your aunt you think you've been kind of silly about boys, and you wish she would bear down on you when you get out of hand. You'll find, Sally, that's a way of making her a bit more indulgent toward you, because she'll think you're a fairly smart girl to work this out for yourself.

Your Stars ★ Today ★

By WYNN

Friday, Sept. 18.

Today looks pretty good, but it is up to each of us to make it as good as it looks—for it can't quite stand up by itself. This applies especially in the emotional department, so be on guard against tricky feelings and negative reactions.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead, if born on this date, looks like more responsibility and work in occupation, with problems from past. Be practical. More hospitality, more friends, will bring reward. Danger: Jan. 12-19; May 8-20.

Tomorrow.

Gets better as it gets older; avoid early pessimism.

Looking at Hollywood . . . . By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 17.—Ruth Gordon and Raymond Massey are again husband and wife—this time in "Action in the North Atlantic." They were one in "Ethan Frome," also in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois." When I visited them on an outdoor set today we laughed all over again about the man who played Lincoln having to make up like Boris Karloff to play "Arsenic and Old Lace." Massey said Frank Capra had a swell gag worked out for the end of the picture. For one split second he thought of joining 12 of his producer friends and all taking bows as the corpses. But when he thought again, he thought better of it. . . . I asked Massey what he was going to do when he went to Canada. He said, "Whatever the army wants me to do." . . . Ruth kept yawning and said, "The outdoors always makes me sleepy. I never cared for a room with a view. After I left Massachusetts and got indoors on the stage the outdoors no longer appealed to me." Ruth has a piece in Atlantic Monthly called "Our New Telephone." When she finishes with Errol Flynn in "Edge of Darkness," she goes to New York to rehearse with Katharine Cornell.

Profit and Loss.

Officials at Rita Hayworth's studio were mighty glad that Victor Mature was being consoled by Lorna Heath, because the publicity with Victor wasn't doing their little star any good. . . . Tommy Dorsey's band contains 30 men and a girl. Tommy's pay roll numbers 32. The extra check goes to the widow of Bunny Berrigan, one of the hottest trumpet players in America. Berrigan also left two children. This is Tommy's way of taking care of them. . . . Which reminds me that Ted Fio Rita has just signed up Louis Belsam, 17 year old drummer who won the Gene Krupa national contest in New York.

Nice Girls.

Jennifer Holt.

Great Work.

Orson Welles, who's on "Information Please" on the radio tomorrow night, is considering no movie offers from Hollywood, altho he has plenty. But he is mulling over three radio deals and a Broadway play. And it's nice to know that his special radio show, a couple of weeks ago, sold around $15,000,000 worth of bonds. . . . Our stars of today are doing a great job, but no one has yet equalled William Farnum's record in the last war. At Carnegie hall he sold $73,000,000 worth one night. Just after he had been introduced by the late former President Taft, 11 wounded men from overseas marched down the aisle and onto the stage. One soldier, without arms, put his cheek against Bill's and said, "Gosh, Bill! We're so proud of you. You're doing a swell job." The people all but tore the roof off the hall.

Ramblings.

Since Marlene Dietrich has gathered together all the dope on our WAVES and WAACs, does that mean she's contemplating joining . . . Bob Hope's next picture won't start until March. When he returns from Alaska he wants to fly to Ireland and England to entertain our men. . . . The government has asked our stars to visit Iceland, Newfoundland, Egypt, Honolulu, Australia—in fact, everywhere our soldiers are seeing active duty. And the other night at a victory committee meeting held at Marlene Dietrich's house, all except eight of 56 present signed for service.

Metro's writer, George Bruce, back from Washington, D. C., is doing an original story on army life. . . . William Saroyan may not become a New York critic, but this news should cheer him: Director Clarence Brown, who's doing "The Human Comedy," says it's the best script he's ever had. . . . Margaret Bourke-White, now in London, is to christen a giant English bomber, so Husband Erskine Caldwell, now in Sun Valley, cabled her a suggested name—Ober den Linden.

Miss Patricia Warton, Miss Josephine Corcoran, Miss Anne Hemenway, Miss Helen Husted, Miss Margaret McClellan, Miss Ellen McFarland, Miss Barbara Hypes, Miss Margaret Starbuck, Miss Nancy Torbet, and Miss Anne Kittermaster, all from here, among its student body.

A faculty reception at Sweet Briar house, the old plantation homestead of Sweet Briar college's president, was among the events helping to crowd this week's calendar for new students at that school. Miss Virginia Noyes, Miss Susanne Landis, and Miss Louise Konsberg returned to college in time for the opening convocation yesterday. Among the entering freshmen are Miss Jean Conley and Miss Marian Duncombe.

Lieut. William G. Grannis, who has been spending his leave in Lake Forest with his father, Uri B. Grannis, and Mrs. Grannis, will depart today for his new post, Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio, Tex. Lieut. Grannis has just received his commission from an officers' candidate school at Fort Sill. His brother, Corp. Dustin Grannis, expects to complete his officers' candidate training next week at Camp Lee, Va. Ensign Uri B. Grannis Jr. is serving at Great Lakes, so for the time being he and his wife are staying on in Lake Forest.

A few old friends have been invited in to drink a toast to Mrs. Ferdinand W. Peck on the occasion of her 94th birthday today. Her daughter and son, Mrs. Arline Peck Warwick and Mr. Peck Jr., will receive.

Mrs. Freeman Hinckley and her daughter, Miss Eleanor McClurg, are arriving today from their summer home at Prout's Neck, Me., after having taken Debutante Barbara McClurg to Smith college. Mrs. Hinckley and Miss McClurg will be in Lake Forest, where they are occupying the George A. Richardson house until Oct. 1, when they will return to their apartment at 209 Lake Shore drive.

FASHIONS

By ANGELA

Dormitory fashions put lounging clothes high at the top of the list. The leisurely evening hours spent under the study lamp or draped around the room in friendly conversational pose are numerous enough to make the purchase of comfortable and good looking lounging wear a sound and practical investment.

Grandmother's patchwork quilt makes its 1942 entrance converted into a long, circular skirted robe. The old fashioned calicos of blue, red, yellow, and green are reproduced in a cotton print and then quilted in zigzag pattern. There's a generous lapover held firmly in place by the snug tie at the waistline. Under $6.

Tailored girls will like the coat and pajama combination in washable rayon. It comes in navy blue piped in white cording. Also in dark red. The coat and pajamas may be purchased separately or together.

The coolie pajamas are suitable for both lounging and sleeping. The colors available are red with yellow print and yellow binding, or blue with red. The material is cotton. Under $3.

Right Clothes Are Big Help to Short Girl

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you're short, acknowledge it. Don't deplore it or attempt to disguise it. Adopt a coiffure and select clothes which are suited proportionately to your height and personality, and don't be led astray by modes unsuited to your inches!

Such is the advice of Nancy Norman, pretty vocalist with Sammy Kaye's orchestra, and Nancy should know. She stands exactly 4 feet 10½ inches.

Watching Nancy sing on stage of a theater, or on the podium in front of the "swing and sway" orchestra, she doesn't look tiny at all. She is a well proportioned and attractive girl and, as a matter of fact, you aren't aware of her small stature until you stand next to her.

But Nancy can tell you that there is a definite art in obtaining that effect, and it all revolves about the simple principle of trim outline. Attempts to gain height artificially via an exaggerated, upswept hairdo and three inch heels result merely in a top-heavy appearance and a teetering walk. A modified pompadour, in proportion to your height, is infinitely more flattering. The same goes for hats. An extremely high crowned one on a short girl looks just plain ridiculous.

Many small girls cannot avoid the pitfalls of exaggerated clothes. Because they themselves are so conscious of their lack of height, they imagine every one else is aware of it, too. They'll pile their hair up very high on their heads, and adopt towering turbans, which, in a full length view, heightens their heads completely out of proportion to their small figures.

Rug from Cast-Off Hose

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

This crocheted rug created from carpet warp and cast-off hose offers an excellent opportunity for conservation and utilization of worn-out impediments. These oval or circular rugs are fun to make, but care must be taken to keep work flat in order to have a successful crochet piece.

For instructions in crocheting the carpet warp and stocking run, No. 360, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Civil Service to Be Subject Before Woman's City Club

Presidents of more than 20 women's organizations have been invited by the Woman's City club to attend a meeting at 2 o'clock today to discuss the operation of civil service in the city with the view toward improvement. V. W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago Crime commission, will speak. The City club will be represented in the discussion by Mrs. Murry Nelson and Mrs. Laura Hughes Lunde, both of whom have made intensive studies of the administration of civil service. Mrs. John Sharpless Fox will preside.

AMERICAN WAY, NAZI 'CULTURE' BATTLE IN CHILE

Schools of the Nation Are Major Battleground.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile [by air mail].—A new kind of scholar's war is being waged against the Nazis here in Chile by a quiet American gentleman who formerly was professor of history at the University of California.

He is Dr. Lawrence Kinnaird, since last May 1 the cultural attaché of the United States diplomatic staff in Santiago. From a small, sparsely furnished office in the American embassy he directs a campaign to supplant Nazi influence, so strong now in Chile, in favor of the United States. He is waging the drive in schools, in textbooks, in civic and social organizations, and in motion pictures.

First German Arrived in 1540.

Chile has always been fertile soil for Germany, and the Nazis are much more firmly rooted here than we. The first German reached Chile in 1540 with Pedro de Valdivia, the Spanish conquistador. In 1845 a book entitled "Chile, and Particularly the Province of Valdivia as a Place Suitable for German Immigration" was published in Berlin by a Chilean-German named Kindermann. In the last 100 years Germans have migrated to Chile's fertile southern valleys by the thousands.

When Adolph Hitler first sounded his racial theories these thousands of immigrants, who had never really been assimilated by Chile, flocked to his call. Then Hitler's agents went to work in Chile.

As a result, the Nazis have a firm grip on Chile today, built up by a "culturization plan." For years German professors were subsidized by the Nazis to teach in Chilean schools. Chilean students—mostly descendants of early Germans—went to Berlin without charge to study in Nazi schools. German lecturers appeared gratis here. Chilean sports clubs and cultural societies were encouraged by the Nazis, along the party lines.

Sold Nazi Textbooks.

One of the methods of spreading propaganda against the United States and for Germany was the use of textbooks. Chilean students, most of them with little means, could not afford the expensive, advanced textbooks imported from the United States. The Nazis prepared cheap, paper bound books which sold for next to nothing. They would have given them away—for the books contained, in addition to the subject matter, subtle propaganda designed to sway young minds to Naziism.

By this "culturization plan," Chilean students were taught to fear the "colossus of the north"—the United States—which they were told sought only its own selfish interests in the exploitation of South America. They were taught, almost without comprehending it, to look to Europe and especially to Germany for true international friendship.

Southern Chile, especially, has responded to "culturization." Here, where almost 50 per cent of the population is of German descent, is a little Germany—ready and eager to do the Fuehrer's bidding.

Preaches American Way.

Dr. Kinnaird has begun the arduous task of counteracting this influence, which has been carefully developed during years in which the United States sat back and did nothing.

"What we have in mind is a long term war," he told this writer. "We want to bring our culture to Chile to replace that of the Nazis. And by culture I don't mean art, literature, music, and so forth. That is just foam on the beer—I mean the American way of life.

"We are doing many things, and planning more toward this end," he continued. "We are trying to help Chile develop schools and higher institutions of learning which will teach this mode of life. We are sending student teachers from Chile to the United States so that they can see for themselves what our people are like, and then come back home and teach what they have learned.

Plans Exchange System.

"We are planning to send experienced American teachers to Chile's secondary schools and universities. Experienced Chilean teachers will work in the United States as part of this exchange system."

"The problem of cheap American textbooks is a stumbling block," Dr. Kinnaird went on. "We are trying various methods of getting the price of our books down to where the students can afford them, but it is difficult without subsidies. The best we have been able to do is to get the National Education association in the States to supply mimeographed material and some books."

Slot Machines Get a Ride After 2 Men Lose 80 Cents

Two men appeared in the Old Lundquist hall at 6058 Morgan street yesterday afternoon and began playing two slot machines. After losing 40 cents each the men took the machines to the Englewood police station and began a hunt for the owner of the hall. The men were Capt. Pat Collins of the Englewood station and his chief of detectives, Sergt. John Olson. They said they had been informed about the machines by an anonymous tipster.

Brenda—Will You Step Out With Me Tonight?

I know I've been an awful grouch not taking you any place lately. But after standing all day at my new job, my feet darn near killed me with callouses and burning. Now I've reformed—or rather my feet have—thanks to the Ice-Mint you advised. Never tried anything that seemed to draw the pain and fire right out so fast—and the way it helps soften callouses is nobody's business! Been able to get some extra overtime money—so what do you say, let's go dancing tonight. You can step on my Ice-Mint feet all you want.

Pledge Reduced Speeds

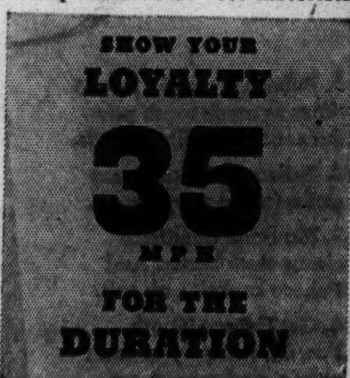
Judge Erwin J. Hasten places on car window sticker indicating membership in "35 Club" for motorists.



A closeup of sticker given motorists who promise no speeds above 35 miles an hour.

Formation of the "35 club" for automobile drivers was announced yesterday by Judge Erwin J. Hasten of Safety court. Membership in the club requires nothing more than a sticker and a promise. The sticker, to be pasted on the windshield, pledges the driver to a speed not exceeding 35 miles an hour, in accordance with President Roosevelt's request as a tire conservation measure. In accepting the sticker, the motorist promises to observe the speed. Judge Hasten has purchased with his own money 20,000 of the stickers. They are red, white, and blue.

Judge John Gutknecht in Traffic court yesterday fined four motorists for exceeding the 35 mile an hour speed limit ordered by President Roosevelt. They are Don H. Searls, 33, of Hotel Sherman, $8 for driving 57 miles an hour in Lake Shore drive at Foster avenue; Eldon Sherbony, 4727 Monroe street, $10 for driving 47 miles an hour in a residential zone on Washington boulevard; Jack Hanson, 810 Hyde Park boulevard, $10 for speeding 47 miles an hour in a 30 mile an hour zone on Roosevelt road, and John Rehwald Jr., 3333 North Marshfield avenue, $10 for speeding 50 miles an hour in Beach drive.

EX-WIFE OF MAN GIRL KILLED ASKS CUSTODY OF CHILD

Mrs. Caroline Grassick, 27 years old, divorced wife of Gordon McNaughton, former big league pitcher who was slain Aug. 6 by his jealous sweetheart, Eleanor Williams, yesterday sought custody of their 8 year old daughter, Patricia McNaughton, in Superior court.

Mrs. Grassick told Judge Joseph Sabath that the child was awarded to McNaughton when they were divorced in 1937 because she was working and in ill health. The child is now living with the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert McNaughton, 3505 Sheffield avenue.

The mother was married in 1939 to Edward Grassick, a restaurant manager, she told the court, and she now owns a beauty parlor at 3828 Broadway which provides a $200 a month income. Judge Sabath continued the hearing to Sept. 23 to give the child's grandparents time to reply. Mrs. Grassick lives at 4278 Hazel street.

ARTHUR FULTON FUNERAL RITES AT 10 TOMORROW

Services for Arthur W. Fulton, Chicago attorney and former alderman of the old 13th ward, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow from the chapel at 103 North Laramie avenue to Holy Name cathedral. Mr. Fulton died yesterday in the Wesley Memorial hospital. He was 73 year old.

Mr. Fulton was senior member of the law firm of Fulton, Fulton & Sheen. He had practiced law in Chicago since 1893 and was a recognized authority on insurance law. He was a member of the national, state, and local bar associations, and a member of the national executive committee and general attorney for the Security Benefit Association of Topeka, Kas.

He served as alderman in the old 13th ward from 1907 to 1911 and in 1912 was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for congress in the 6th congressional district. His home was at 7200 South Shore drive.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

BADGERS AWAIT OPENING TEST WITH SOLDIERS

They Have Date with Irish Next Week.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Sept. 17.—The University of Notre Dame, undefeated in 1941, will open its season here against Wisconsin before a capacity crowd in Camp Randall Sept. 26. Today, however, the Badgers and their coach, Harry Stuhldreher, one time quarter back of another unbeaten Notre Dame eleven, are concentrating on their own first game this Saturday afternoon with the soldiers from Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill.

Fifteen thousand are expected to watch Wisconsin's men in their first examination of the new gridiron season. On the basis of this contest, Badger followers will make their predictions for the following games that include five Western conference foes, Marquette, Missouri, and the Great Lakes Sailors, as well as Notre Dame.

Coach Is Not Too Sure.

"Camp Grant has already played two games," Stuhldreher pointed out today, "and the soldiers have some mighty fine football players. I am not unduly pessimistic about the result, but a lot of things can happen in an opening game, the worst of which would be a licking when most everyone around here is thinking of the Notre Dame game."

For a coach whose men face three of the four ranking teams of the 1941 Big Ten campaign and who will play Missouri, titleholders in the Big Six conference, Stuhldreher is remarkably self contained. He is not moaning low, for, after all, no Big Nine team ever has an easy schedule, but he would like to know who started the rumor that Wisconsin would be the dark horse of the current race.

No Title Claims Made.

There is no basis, apparently, for such a report and neither have we found any citizen who claims to believe the Badgers will finish at the top of the Western conference. We have found many, however, who think Wisconsin will be an improved team and all have confidence in Stuhldreher and his men.

Wisconsin won three games last year. These victories over second division Big Nine teams—Iowa, Indiana, and Purdue—gave the Badgers fifth place in the standings. Wisconsin lost conference games to Northwestern, Ohio State, and Minnesota. The Wildcats and Gophers scored 41 points each, while Ohio State got 46 points, but yielded 34 to Wisconsin in that free-scoring battle.

The Badgers scored in every game and totaled 144 points for the season. That is a reason for thinking Wisconsin will improve its berth in Big Nine competition. Marlin [Pat] Harder, sophomore full back in the 1942 campaign, largely brought about the offensive surge. He was high scorer in the Big Nine and his 731 yards from scrimmage gave him honors in this classification.

Hirsch Is Good, Too.

Elroy Hirsch, sophomore half back from Wausau, Wis., is the second reason for Wisconsin's hope of an improved season. Hirsch is preparing to play either half back spot. His running is said to be so superior he already has been conceded to be the Badgers' best half back in more than a decade, altho he has not played in a varsity game. If Hirsch makes good as Harder did last season, Wisconsin's enthusiasm is understandable, despite the apparent lack of defensive strength in 1941.

Unfortunately neither Harder nor Hirsch is ready for the opening game. They have been handicapped by injuries and Coach Stuhldreher placed a question mark today after their names. He means probably that he hesitates to take a chance of aggravating their injuries, but that if they must play they can. Harder is listed as the starting full back, but Hirsch, because of the presence of veterans, at this time is called the third left half back.

Only Two Out for Sure.

CARDINALS FACE LIONS WITH FIVE NEW STARTERS

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The usual turnover from year to year of Chicago Cardinal players will put five newcomers into the starting lineup against the Detroit Lions when the city's first Sunday night big league outdoor professional football game is held in Comiskey park.

The Cards showed definite signs of getting a solid organization started last season. Then came the war and many of the sprightly young men joined the colors and the same old problem of getting new men bobbed up in front of Coach Jim Conzelman.

Two fine freshman passers from Southern Methodist university—Ray Mallouf and Johnny Clement—went off to war. So did John Kuzman, the 225 pound tackle from Fordham; Joe Kuharich, the guard from Notre Dame who called the signals; John B. Higgins, a guard from Trinity college in Texas, and Bill Davis, 235 pound tackle from Texas Tech. Billy Dewell, the 6 foot 4 inch Texan who ranked next to Don Hutson as a pass catcher, also put on a uniform. Andy Chisick, veteran center, went away, too.

Start All Over Again.

So it was a case of building from scratch again. ["Those Bears can run thru signals with two teams the first day they start practice," mutters Coach Conzelman every once in a while.] There is no Cardinal scrimmage this week. The Cards are a trifle shy on ends and they don't want to take chances of adding any hospital cases to the severe ones which have cost the services of Al Babartsky, tackle, and Bob Maddock, guard.

Fortunately, the Cards' two top choices, Steve Lach of Duke and Lloyd Cheatham of Auburn, turned up in camp after the College All-Star game. They will be in the back field Sunday night, along with another rookie, Bud Schwenk, and veteran Marshall Goldberg. The starting tackles are brand new, too, at least to the Cards and their followers. One of them, Gilford [Cactus Face] Duggan, a drawling Oklahoman, has been around the National Football league for a spell. The other one, Chet Bulger of Auburn, is the Cards' exhibit No. 1 of scintillating freshman linemen.

Have Veteran Guards.

Bulger and Duggan have played a lot of tackle in the two games to date. They had a big share in shutting out the Rams last Sunday. The Cardinal line yielded only one touchdown to to the powerful Western Army All-Stars.

Starting at guards are two veterans—Milt Popovich, a converted full back, beginning his fifth season, and Bert Johnson, starting his fourth. The Cards have two fine centers in Ray Apoloskis, who has been named captain for the game, and Vince Banonis. Starting ends will be Bill Daddio, the goal kicking expert, and Alton Coppage.

City Series Opens Sept. 30 in Cubs' Park

The annual city series, an event in which the White Sox usually remove a little hide from the Cubs, will get under way Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 30, in Wrigley field.

The opening date, as well as the remainder of the schedule, was decided upon yesterday in the office of Commissioner K. M. Landis, who readily agreed to the dates as previously arranged by the two clubs. The Sox were represented at the meeting by Vice President Harry Grabiner. James T. Gallagher, the Cubs' general manager, remained in the east to watch the team continue its titanic struggle for fifth place. He was represented by Assistant Ken Sells and Treasurer Earl Nelson.

The second game of the set will be played Thursday afternoon, Oct. 1, also at Wrigley field, and the scene then will shift to the Comiskey park lights Friday and Saturday nights. The Sunday, Oct. 4, game, unless one or the other should win four in a row as the Sox did last fall, will be put on at Wrigley field. If sixth and seventh games are needed for the Sox to take their eighth title in a row or for the Cubs to win one, they will be played under the Comiskey park lights, Oct. 5 and 6. The afternoon games will start at 2:30 o'clock and the night contests at 8:15. The schedule as adopted will not be altered by any postponements that might occur.

WHITE SOX GET 2 SINGLES; A'S AND WOLFF WIN, 1 TO 0

Rookie Perme Yields Four Hits to Winners.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Leonard Perme, the kid southpaw who is pausing with the White Sox on a trip that started from the Waterloo Three Eye club and may terminate shortly in one or the other of Uncle Sam's forces, bowed himself into the majors as a starter yesterday, but his new pals failed to express appreciation over the event. The lad turned out a four hit performance against Connie Mack's Athletics, and the only reward was a 1 to 0 beating in the season's finale between the two second division habitues.

Perme's pitching might have netted him a profit if Roger Wolff, always a tough customer for the Sox, had not been on the premises in an active rôle. Wolff yielded only two hits, and altho he gave up three passes, only one base runner got as far as second base.

Solve Perme in Eighth.

For seven innings Perme handled his task with such grace that there were only two hits, one an early two bagger and the other a fluke fly ball by Dee Miles in the sixth. A double play erased the possibilities of damage from this hit, but the A's crowded him for two blows in the eighth, and that settled everything. Hal Wagner opened with a single, his second wallop, and Wolff bunted him along. Miles also hit again. He caromed a single off Jim Grant's shin, and it bounced over Luke Appling's head, giving Wagner ample time to score from second.

The hits didn't begin appearing from either side until the third. Wagner broke the spell for the Macks by doubling with one out, but Perme refused to be annoyed. Perme got the Sox into the hit column in the same inning. He singled with two gone and Don Kolloway fanned. The next hit also was a home made article. Val Heim singled after one was gone in the fourth and Appling tapped a neat one as far as the pitcher. It resulted in a double play.

Wolff Invites Trouble.

Wolff's bad aim invited the Sox to start something in both the fifth and sixth. In the former Grant led with a pass, but Bill Mueller banged into a double play on a hot shot to Lou Blair. Mike Tresh walked in the sixth, also before anybody was retired. Perme tried to sacrifice, but forced Tresh. Kolloway's contribution was an impotent pop foul to Dick Siebert. Wally Moses also drew free passage, and the final incident of the inning was a tall fly to center by Heim.

This is my ambition: May I some day own a home.
A little place to hold me when I feel the urge to roam.
A place where other folks might come and later point with pride

And should the house be built of brick, or timber strong and fine,
That doesn't matter much, you see, just so the place is mine.

With the beauty in the garden of my next door neighbor friend.
And may the lawn be velvetlike, and there, beneath God's sun,

DODGERS, TIGHT AS A DRUM, LOSE TO PIRATES, 3 TO 2

Macon's 2 Hit Relief Stint of 7⅔ Innings Wasted.

If - - -

IF the St. Louis Cardinals do as well in the eight games remaining on their schedule as they did on their trip thru the east, they can clinch the National league pennant even if the Dodgers sweep the 10 games remaining on their schedule. The Cards won eight out of nine in the east. If they take seven of the eight left to play, while Brooklyn suffers no more defeats, the standings would be:

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| St. Louis | 106 | 48 | .688 |
| Brooklyn | 105 | 49 | .682 |

If the Cards win four of their eight, Brooklyn would have to win nine of its ten to clinch the flag.

Remaining games for each club follow:

ST. LOUIS—Sept. 19, 20, St. Louis at Chicago; Sept. 21, 22, Pittsburgh at St. Louis; Sept. 23, 24, Cincinnati at St. Louis; Sept. 26, 27, Chicago at St. Louis.

BROOKLYN—Sept. 18, 19, 20 [2], Philadelphia at Brooklyn; Sept. 22, New York at Brooklyn; Sept. 23, Philadelphia at Brooklyn; Sept. 24, 25, Boston at Brooklyn; Sept. 26, 27, Brooklyn at Philadelphia.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP).—Just when it seemed opportunity was knocking for the Brooklyn Dodgers today, they were out.

Aware that the St. Louis Cardinals were trailing the Braves until the ninth inning, the Bums, visioning a chance to cut the Red Bird lead to a single game, apparently tightened up like a kettledrum and stumbled their way to a 3 to 2 defeat at the hands of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Cards came on to win their game eventually, and Dodger fans gazed mournfully at the three-game margin of the St. Louis team and shook their heads hopelessly.

Truett Sewell the Villain.

The 34 year old Truett Sewell was the villain of the play as far as the Dodgers were concerned today. Two or three times he was in more trouble than a draft dodger, but on all but one occasion he eased out of the jams unscathed. Three of the eight hits he allowed came in the fourth inning and accounted for Brooklyn's two runs.

Ed Head was the Dodger starter, and he was the wrong man. The Pirates plastered him for six hits and all their runs in less than two innings, and by the time Max Macon started to southpaw the Pirates into submission the damage had been done. Macon allowed only two hits in the 7⅔ innings he worked.

Pirates Score on 3 Cheap Hits.

The crowd of 11,658 had a premonition of what was coming when three cheap hits brought Pittsburgh one run in the first inning. Pete Coscarart and Jim Wasdell beat out bounders toward third base, and Coscarart scored on Bob Elliott's blooping double. The Pirates came right back in the second to add two more on a single by Al Lopez, Sewell's double, and Coscarart's second single, which drove in both men. Macon came in to relieve Head after Coscarart's blow.

The Dodgers' big fourth inning saw two runs coming in on singles by Mickey Owen and Pee Wee Reese and Dixie Walker's double.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Sept. 17.—The St. Louis Cards headed for Chicago this evening jubilant over a National league pennant lead fattened to three games today when they rose up with five runs in the ninth inning to achieve a 6 to 4 victory over the Boston Braves. They made five runs after both teams had read on the scoreboard that the Dodgers had been beaten by the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 2.

Going into the ninth, Al Javery apparently had a 3 to 1, five hit victory well in hand. But if he thought so, he reckoned without the Cardinal dash, Cardinal luck, and an almost unbelievable Fancy Dan phobia in the character of the Braves' second baseman, Sibby Sisti.

Sisti Lends a Hand.

With all the Cardinal style in the ninth, the St. Louisans would have come out of the first half of the ninth with no better than a 3 to 3 tie but for Sisti's amazing conduct. Sisti picked up Harry Walker's grounder and a cautious throw of 10 or 12 feet to Max West on first base would have ended the session in a tie. But Sisti elected to give the ball a cute little underhand flip. He flipped it past West and before the panic subsided the Cards had three more runs.

The Braves, tho they seemed to feel rather silly, scored in their ninth and had the tying runs on base when Ernesto Lombardi, National league batting leader, ended the game by bouncing into a double play.

Here Is How It Was.

The fateful ninth started with Walker Cooper dribbling one toward Javery. As Al was about to grab the ball, it took a crazy little bounce away from the startled pitcher and went for a single. Javery, who previously had walked only one batsman, then passed Johnny Hopp. Whitey Kurowski attempted to sacrifice, but forced W. Cooper, Javery to Bob Detweiler.

Ray Sanders batted for Martin Marion, tho Marion had scored the only St. Louis run up to this juncture after tripling in the fifth inning. Sanders lined a single to right, scoring Hopp and putting Kurowski on third. Ervin Dusak went to first to run for Sanders and Ken O'Dea batted for Howard Pollet, second and winning Cardinal pitcher. O'Dea beat out a bunt past Javery, Kurowski scoring the tying run. Ernie White then went to first to run for O'Dea. Jimmy Brown forced White, Dusak stopping at third. It was in this spot that Sisti tossed the ball past West, Dusak scoring.

Slaughter Comes Thru.

Enos Slaughter singled to left for his third hit, scoring Brown. Lefty Bill Donovan replaced Javery. Coaker Triplett batted for Stan Musial and greeted the new flinger with a single to right, scoring Walker. The big inning ended when Donovan caught Triplett off first.

In the Boston ninth, Clyde Kluttz batted for Donovan and singled off Max Lanier, who had just arrived as the third Cardinal pitcher. Frank McElyea ran for Kluttz. Lanier walked Tommy Holmes and Harry Gumbert replaced Lanier on the mound for the Cards. Chet Ross, batting for Sisti, flied to Walker near the center field fence, McElyea taking third. Nanny Fernandez then

IT'S A FULL DAY FOR CHICAGOLAND PREP ELEVENS

Tilden Tech to Get Test from Whiting.

Fifty teams will play in prep football games thruout Chicagoland today and tonight. The contests will bring together members of the Chicago Public league, the Northern Indiana conference, and the Chicago Catholic league.

Two Chicago elevens will compete with Indiana teams. Lake View invades Elkhart in a game for which the rival coaches, Harry Frieda of Lake View and Harrison Berkey have exchanged information on formations over long distance telephone. Elkhart will be seeking its fifth consecutive victory over a Chicago opponent in five years. Sullivan of the city league, north side section, visits at Goshen.

Tilden Invades Whiting.

A record number of spectators is expected to watch the game between Tilden Tech and Whiting. The game, which will start at 7:30 o'clock, will be played in Whiting. Tilden is champion of the Public league and Whiting is said to be a strong contender for the title of the Indiana conference.

In Chicago, high school fans will have an opportunity to see Fenger play Calumet in Shewbridge field, and, in a local interleague game, St. Philip will meet Harrison in St. Philip stadium. Fenger will be playing its first contest. St. Philip defeated St. Patrick last Friday, 18 to 0. Both games will begin at 8 o'clock.

Gary City Series Opens.

The first game of Gary's annual city series will be played there as Emerson meets Tolleston. Last week, in their opening contests, Emerson defeated Proviso, 20 to 0, and Tolleston lost a 13 to 0 decision to Roosevelt of East Chicago. The teams belong to the western division of the conference.

The eastern section of the Indiana conference will see action between South Bend Riley and North Side of Fort Wayne. The game will be played in Fort Wayne. South Bend Riley last week administered a 6 to 0 defeat to Lew Wallace High school of Gary, winner of the conference championship last season.

Three Clovers Runs a Long Way, but Wins

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Three Clovers, an odds-on favorite, went the long way around to win a six furlong dash called the Best Foot Forward purse, which was the main event on yesterday's Hawthorne program. Approaching the stretch, this 4 to 5 shot was galloping along behind a solid wall of four rivals. All four went wide on the turn and Three Clovers, going even wider, came up alongside of them soon after the stretch run began. Wearing them down steadily, he beat Miss Militant by half a length. Sam Houston was a neck farther back.

When Three Clovers came cantering back to the winner's circle, he was greeted by four remarkably handsome members of the cast of the show after which the race was named. The ladies posed with him while he stamped his heavy hoofs dangerously close to their dancing feet.

Great Wall Wins Rough Race.

Great Wall won the fifth race after delivering one of the roughest stretch runs of the season. This horse, with Don MacAndrew aboard was forging to the front in the straightaway when Little Gay, with Brooks driving hard, came charging up on the outside.

Then Great Wall began swerving wildly. He came over and bumped Little Gay so hard that Brooks was nearly knocked out of the saddle. The impact turned Little Gay toward the outside fense and Great Wall swerved back toward the inside. He went on to win by half a length. Meanwhile Little Gay had started running again and failed by the margin of a neck to get second place from Bright Harvest. There was no disqualification.

Memory Book Wins Again.

Memory Book, a 9 pear old gelding owned by Harold Clark of Chicago, is rapidly establishing himself as Hawthorne's champion plater. He won by six lengths yesterday for his third victory in three starts during the present meeting.

Yankees Win 100th Game; Beat Tigers, 7-4

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 17 (AP).—The New York Yankees, already crowned American league champions for the sixth time in seven years, smashed one of their own long list of major league winning records today by whipping the Tigers, 7 to 4, for their 100th victory of the season. It was the eighth year in which the Yankees have won 100 or more games, adding another season to the mark they already had in the books. No other club has ever come thru with as many 100 victory seasons.

Stretching their current winning streak to six games, the Yanks backed up Atley Donald's steady 10 hit pitching with a 12 hit attack of their own to give Donald his 10th victory of the year.

The game was won on a four run rally in the fifth, the big feature of which was Joe DiMaggio's 20th homer of the year, with two mates on base. Score:

WYSE AND CUBS SHUT OUT PHILS, 8-0, ON EIGHT HITS

Warneke to Face Cards in Chicago Tomorrow.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 17 [Special].—Henry Wyse, big right handed rookie from Tulsa, Okla., pitched the Cubs to an 8 to 0 triumph over the Phils in Shibe park today in the final game of the series.

The Cubs, on the other hand, picked on Andy Lapihuska, a rookie right hander, and his two successors for 12 hits and these, mixed with five bases on balls and some lackadaisical play in the field, made their victory easy.

Warneke to Face Cards.

After the game, Manager Jim Wilson announced that Lon Warneke would open the series against the Cards in Wrigley field Saturday.

After two scoreless innings the Cubs hopped on Lapihuska for four runs in the third. The fireworks started after two were out when Cy Block singled to center. Marvin Rickert followed with another safety to left and when Lobert decided to pass Bill Nicholson purposely to bring up Rookie Whitey Platt the bases were loaded with two out.

Platt Gets First Hit.

Platt clicked with his first major league hit, scoring both Block and Rickert. At this point the Phils tried to catch Platt going to second on the play to the plate but the infielders were a bit slow handling the ball and Nicholson reached home safely while Platt went to second. He scored a moment later on Phil Cavarretta's safety.

Wilson's men picked up two more in the sixth. Bob Sturgeon and Len Merullo hit safely after one was out, Sturgeon reaching third. When Lapihuska threw home too late on Wyse's roller, Sturgeon scored. Block forced Wyse who then engineered a double steal with Merullo, Lennie scoring.

A single by Merullo, a sacrifice by Wyse and Block's single added another in the eighth. Nicholson's single, a sacrifice and Sturgeon's safety sent Nicholson over with the final run in the ninth. Score:

singled to left, McElyea scoring and Holmes stopping at second. Then came Lombardi and that double play.

Beazley Leaves Early.

Johnny Beazley was the starting pitcher today, his second quest of his 20th victory of the season. He was nicked for three runs in the second inning and withdrew after a hit in the third.

Lombardi opened the Boston second with a single to center and was forced by Paul Waner. West singled to center, Waner stopping at second. Buddy Gremp then batted for Eddie Miller and singled to right, Waner scoring and West reaching third. Detweiler knocked down Beazley with a line smash, West scoring. Javery attempted to sacrifice and the bases were loaded when Beazley made a late throw to third. Gremp scored after Walker had caught Holmes' drive.

One was out in the fifth when Marion tripled to the right field corner and scored on Pollet's single to right.

The Cards promptly rushed for a caravan which will land them in the La Salle Street station in Chicago, where on Saturday Morton Cooper will make his second try for his 21st victory, opposed by Lon Warneke. If the Cards win Saturday, it will be their 100th victory, the total with which the Dodgers won the pennant last season.

The Cards journeyed west with a record of eight victories in nine games against the eastern teams on their final swing. They have won 34 of their last 40 games.

Harry Feldman checked the Reds with five hits for his seventh victory. The victory also snapped the Reds' winning streak at six games. Score:

STAUSS OF IOWA HURT; MAY MISS GAME TOMORROW

Soph at Right Half for Washington U. Battle.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 17 [Special].—Ted Lewis, 185 pound sophomore, may start at right half back in place of Game Capt. Bill Stauss when Iowa's eleven opens against Washington university of St. Louis Saturday. Stauss is bothered by a pulled muscle in his leg and worked only part time with the varsity this afternoon, Coach Eddie Anderson said tonight. Lewis took his place during most of the drill.

Anderson also indicated Bob Lauterbach would be the starting center in the three way fight with Tom Hand and Forrest Masterson for the varsity spot.

N. U. SCRIMMAGES AGAIN.

Northwestern's football team drove thru its third scrimmage of the week yesterday as Coach Lynn Waldorf worked in preparation for next week's 1942 opener with the Iowa Seahawks. The Wildcats will wind up two weeks of double practices today, followed by a regulation intrasquad game tomorrow.

Otto Graham, key figure in the Wildcat attack, is beginning to show flashes of last year's form. In addition to sparking the running and passing attack the Waukegan lad has shown steady improvement as a kicker and probably will handle a large portion of the punting this fall. Dud Kean, a converted half back, has moved up to the first string quarter back position where he is receiving strong competition from Bill Deoduic and Charles Warren, reserves last year, and Lynne McNutt, a sophomore from Colby, Kas.

Johnny Gent, second string right guard, who received a broken bone in his hand a week ago, has been outfitted with a special cast and is expected to resume contact work soon. He probably will be able to play in the opening game.

ILLINI SEEK KICKER.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 17 [Special].—Preparing for the first regulation game Saturday against the freshmen, Coach Ray Eliot combed the Illinois squad for dependable kickoff men today.

Bob Wilson, who kicked off considerably last season, Jim McCarthy and Tom Smerdel, sophomore guard, were all worked. Eliot also practiced them at place kicking along with Don Griffin and Ray Florek.

FORT SHERIDAN BEATS NAVY PIER BOXERS, 4 TO 3

Scoring two knockouts, the Fort Sheridan boxing team opened its season tonight by defeating Navy Pier, 4 to 3. In the 135 pound class, Frank Minano of Anchorage, Alaska, stopped Robert Clemens of Blue Island, Ill., in the second round, while Stanley Wassick of Johnstown, Pa., won by a technical knockout over Preston Ballew of Richmond, Ky., in the second round, at 175 pounds.

Three Chicago boys, representing Navy pier, accounted for the sailors' only scores on decisions. Ray Zurowski beat Tom Watanabe of Fresno, Cal., at 123 pounds; Ted Sparrow defeated Tony Taraborelli, Philadelphia, at 150 pounds, and Tom Burns outpointed Hank Melody, 135 pounds. Other results were:

Fred Kelly [F. S.], Newcastle, Pa., beat Herman Braun [N. P.], 160 pounds; Nestor Shat [F. S.], Scranton, Pa., beat Richard Saburn [N. P.], Duluth, Minn., 155 pounds. In no-decision bouts Jim Pierce [F. S.] drew with Buddy Feather [N. P.] and Tony Petcavage [F. S.] drew with Andy O'Donnell [N. P.].

BEARS, MIDDIES SCRIMMAGE IN 2 HOUR SESSION

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 17 (AP).—Navy scrimmaged the Chicago Bears, National Football league champions, in a stiff two hour drill today, and when the session ended all concerned were well satisfied.

The midshipmen learned a lot about the Bears' T formation, and the pro players had a good workout in preparation for their Sunday game at Boston against the eastern Army All-Stars.

The scrimmage started slowly, with the Bears taking the ball and being supposed to go thru their offensive in slow motion so the Tars could see what the T was all about. But after the first play, the teams started hitting harder and soon it was a ball game.

SPECTATORS FILE CHARGES AGAINST OWEN, WALKER

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—Another round in the fight between several Brooklyn Dodgers players, Ebbets field ushers, and four spectators was blocked off in Flatbush court today when charges of assault were filed against Catcher Mickey Owen, Right Fielder Dixie Walker, and the ushers.

The charges were brought by the four spectators, who themselves were arraigned last night in Brooklyn-Queens court on assault charges drawn on complaint of the ushers, Peter Casey and Chester Breves.

ILLINOIS MAY CANCEL STATE ATHLETIC MEETS

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 17 (AP).—The possibility that state high school basketball tournaments and other athletic, educational, and music contests may be canceled due to government restrictions on travel was indicated tonight by officers of the Illinois High School Athletic association.

"If cancellation of high school football, basketball, music, and other student competition is determined advisable to help with the war, such action will be taken," C. W. Whitten, advisory secretary, said.

Hunters: Here Are Tips Issued by Coast Guard

BY BOB BECKER.

The United States coast guard has issued a set of moderate rules for hunters who expect to be traveling on water to and from their hunting grounds this fall. They are not strict enough to curtail the regular hunting routine of any waterfowl hunter this fall, but the regulations will give protection to waterfront facilities and restricted areas, says Capt. Thomas A. Shanley, district coast guard officer.

As announced in this department on Sept. 11, one regulation for hunters to remember is that they must stay away from restricted areas. The specific ruling reads: "No boat or persons engaged in hunting are permitted within gunshot range of navy or shipbuilding yards, power plants, oil terminals, or tank farms, marine terminals, munitions plants, military or naval arsenals, warehouse or freight piers, waterway dams and locks, and other restricted areas defined by military authorities. Photographing of any of the above restricted areas is also banned."

Only Shotguns Permitted.

Second rule for hunters is this: It's okay to run a duck boat on a river during the daylight hours, and also during the hour before sunrise and one hour after sunset. This is to enable duck shooters to get to and back from their blinds on [for example] the Illinois or Mississippi rivers. But beyond these hours, no navigation by hunters is permitted.

Any hunter can carry his regular shotgun used in bagging waterfowl. But other "dangerous" weapons in possession are taboo.

A duck hunter who expects to use a marsh duck boat or any small craft without an engine to reach his blind, and those who expect to hunt in places that are not adjacent to restricted areas do NOT need coast guard identification cards. But any duck shooter or guide who runs a power boat on a river had better check with the coast guard about an identification card.

Get Yourself a Card.

The public relations office of the coast guard has issued this message to waterfowl hunters on the card business: "Hunters who may pass by or be near restricted areas are advised to provide themselves with identification cards. These may be applied for at coast guard lifeboat stations, or in room 301, United States Custom house, 610 S. Canal street, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. week days.

RENZEL MAY PLAY.

Camp Grant, Ill., Sept. 17 [Special].—Pvt. Doug Renzel, star full back last year at Marquette university and a member of the 1942 college All-Star squad and now a soldier at Camp Grant, has joined the soldier squad. Renzel may see some action in the Wisconsin game in Madison Saturday.

The hard hitting full back was in playing condition when he joined the warriors, having entered Camp Grant soon after participating with the All-Stars in Chicago and in the east. The addition of the Marquette star bulwarks the soldier back field, which has showed a nice scoring punch as it prepared for the Badgers.

Outstanding in the last workout today was Corp. Reino Nori, quarter back with the Chicago Bears in 1939.

MICHIGAN'S KUZMA IN FORM.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 17 [Special].—Michigan had one of its toughest workouts of the season today during which it appeared Tom Kuzma had regained the running form he displayed last year as a sophomore. Kuzma got away for several long runs behind mediocre blocking. So far this season he hadn't been up to his 1941 form.

Kuzma also threw many passes, but his ability in this department remained a question mark inasmuch as no capable pass receivers were uncovered.

Al Wistert was back in action again today after resting an injured leg. Paul White was in uniform but Crisler decided to keep him out of the scrimmage until his pulled rib cartilage is fully healed. The Wolverines hold their last full length scrimmage in the stadium Saturday.

PASTOR, SCOTT SIGN.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 17 (AP).—Bob Pastor, New York heavyweight, tonight was signed to meet Buddy Scott of Tampa, Fla., in a 10 round fight Sept. 25.

BARBER, CORUM, ALLEN, MUTUAL SERIES LINEUP

The Mutual Broadcasting system yesterday made known the announcers for its fourth consecutive exclusive broadcast of the World series. Red Barber will be on hand as usual. He will have the assistance of Mel Allen in detailing play by play. Mel was picked in place of Bob Elson of W-G-N, who joined the navy last week. Bill Corum, one of Mutual's boxing reporters, will handle the color.

The series will be broadcast on 300 stations in the United States, Canada, and Hawaii. It will be shortwaved around the world for the benefit of the AEF. A special play by play report will be beamed in Spanish to South America. Proceeds from the radio rights, estimated at $100,000, will be donated to the USO.

Rockola, Parichy Girls Close Season Tonight

The Rockola Music Maids and the Parichy Bloomer Girls will play their last game of the softball season tonight at Rockola stadium, 4200 North Central avenue. The game will be under the sponsorship of the Portage Indian post of the VFW for its service men's fund. A preliminary game between two league winners will start at 7:30. The Meisner Morticians and the Frederick's Rugs will play for the championship of Portage Park.

IOWA PRE-FLIGHT TEAM OFF TODAY TO MEET KANSAS

Schatzer, Fisher Star in Passing Drill.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 17 [Special].—The Iowa City naval preflight school football squad of 36 will leave tomorrow for Lawrence, Kas., to meet the University of Kansas team Saturday in the first game to be played by any preflight eleven this season. Other naval school teams, at North Carolina, St. Mary's, and Georgia, will get into action before the close of the month.

More dummy scrimmage and extensive work on the pass attack with Bill Schatzer and Dick Fisher doing the throwing, featured today's final hard workout for the Kansas game. Coach Bernie Bierman pointed out that the team was noticeably improved after a week of heavy drills. It will hold a light workout before leaving tomorrow.

McCULLOUGH JOINS SAILORS.

Hugh McCullough, former star ball carrier and passer at the University of Oklahoma, yesterday was among the back field candidates as the Great Lakes squad worked out for the opening game against Michigan in Ann Arbor Sept. 26. McCullough reported at Great Lakes with a number of chief specialists from San Diego, Cal., several days ago.

McCullough will have command of a company of recruits and will report for practice with other candidates after his daily duties have been completed. McCullough, who played with the Sooners in the Orange bowl game in Miami, Fla., against Tennessee Jan. 1, 1939, spent the last two seasons with the Chicago Cardinals. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 185 pounds.

RACE OFFICIAL, A LEGION ENTRANT, IS LEFT AT POST

New Orleans, La., Sept. 17 (AP).—Abe Newburger, custodian of Churchill Downs' Kentucky Derby press box, knows all the answers for those who try to crash the gate without proper credentials. But what he told his wife today about their being in New Orleans is a Newburger secret. Newburger and the "missus" came to New Orleans for the American Legion convention, originally scheduled for this city. Somehow, he hadn't heard it had been transferred to Kansas City.

It was a good sized detour, but they're on the right track now.

Call Off Irish Practice Game; Too Many Hurt

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 17 [Special].—The epidemic of injuries that has plagued the Notre Dame squad since the first scrimmage of the season today caused Coach Frank Leahy to announce the cancellation of Saturday's frosh-varsity game. The contest was to have been open to the public.

Eight regulars or alternates are still on the hospital list, including the first two men at right end and left half back. Owen [Dippy] Evans and Bob Livingstone, left half backs; Capt. George Murphy and Paul Limont, right ends; Creighton Miller, right half; Bob Neff, right tackle; Lou Rymkus, left tackle, and Jerry Cowhig, full back, comprise the group of cripples who, altho in uniform, are not being permitted to participate in contact work.

Leahy said that he will use the remnants of his first and second teams, with fill-ins from the third team, in a short scrimmage tomorrow. Today's drill was light, with dummy scrimmage featured.

YACHTS TO RACE SUNDAY IN 18TH CLARK REGATTA

Event Honors Veteran Chicago Sportsman.

All Lake Michigan sail yachts are invited to compete Sunday in the Chicago Yacht club's annual Commodore Sheldon Clark regatta, to be sailed off Chicago harbor.

The regatta was first held 17 years ago when a group of Chicago Y. C. yachtsmen led by Malcolm D. Vail made up a trophy fund to honor Commodore Clark, then chief flag officer of the club.

In addition to the Commodore Sheldon Clark cups to be awarded the time prize winners of the cruising and universal [racing divisions], yachts placing in each class will receive special prizes.

Commodore Clark, who is now in Washington, will return in time to see the regatta. Besides his peacetime post as head of the Yachtsmen's Association of America and national commodore of the Sea Scouts of America, he is also president of the Navy League of the United States.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BEN MARKLAND

Feast on Woodchuck.

Sept. 17, 1942.

A WOODCHUCK which was rated as a minor farm nuisance became an asset on the dinner table one day this week. This furbearer was a threat to the lawn of one of the farm homes because of its digging habits, so one of the farm residents shot it and delivered it to the kitchen for culinary treatment.

The cook made a bread stuffing spiced with onions and mushrooms and baked the four-pound woodchuck with a cream topping. The Indians and early western pioneers who used to barbecue woodchuck probably had no fancy spices and dressings for the meats which they prepared over an open fire, but nevertheless they considered woodchuck a delicacy and probably ate ground hogs fairly regularly.

He's Strict Vegetarian.

There is no reason why woodchuck meat should not be eaten. The animal is a strict vegetarian, existing mainly on grasses and clover with occasional raids on the cabbages, beans, and corn of farm gardens. The dish was well received on one of the farm dinner tables.

Horace Kephart, the famous wildlife authority, often repeated the recipe which a Tennessee mountain resident gave him for cooking woodchuck. Here it is:

"Cut the leetle red kernels out from under their forelegs, then bile 'em and leave all the strong in the water. Then pepper 'em and sage 'em and put 'em in a pan and bake 'em to a nice rich brown, and then I don't want nobody there but me."

The woodchuck provided one of the unusual farm episodes of the week, with second honors going to a crippled crow which now is being kept in a large cage. A farm resident was driving alongside a woodlot the other day when he noticed this crow hopping along the ground. Upon investigation he found that it had only one leg and couldn't fly very well, so he picked it up and delivered it to the yard of a farm home to be kept in a large cage, where it is being fed.

May Serve as Decoy.

A number of the farm workers enjoy the sport of crow shooting in the farm woods, so it is possible that this crippled bird may serve as a decoy when the men go into the woodlots for a day of decreasing the crow population. Crows appear to be thick this season, so when the shooting season starts the men will spare the beneficial pheasants and quail and go after the troublesome crows.

Some of the Muscovy ducks and guinea hens on the Wheaton farm are being rated as bold gamblers as a result of their nesting activities. They still are incubating nests of eggs in the hope that they can hatch their offspring and raise them to the feathered stage before the weather turns cold. Two Muscovys have nests in the duck house and a white guinea hen is incubating a clutch of eggs near the main farm road.

UNIFIED SYSTEM OF CARRIERS IN NATION IS ASKED

Fit Job to Facility, Budd Urges.

Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington railroad, urged yesterday at a National Resources Planning board regional meeting in Chicago that the government develop a transportation policy which will give private enterprise a free hand to create a unified transportation system after the war.

Ralph Budd.

He said over-all systems, combining railroads, truck and bus lines, waterways, and other facilities into highly efficient enterprises that permitted each type of transport to do the work for which it is best fitted, would result if individual initiative were encouraged.

Problem Is Twofold.

"The postwar program ought to be approached as a problem divided into two parts—one involving government policy and the other involving the projects themselves," Budd said. "The projects cannot be planned unless it is known what the policy will be."

More efficiency and economy could be assured by treating all types of transportation as parts of a unified system than by attempting to solve the problems of the railroads, truck and bus lines, and other systems separately, Budd said.

Budd was one of several representatives of industry, agriculture, labor, and citizen groups invited to the meeting, which was held at the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago.

Merriam Attends.

Two members of the National Resources Planning board—Charles E. Merriam, vice chairman of the board and professor emeritus of political science at the University of Chicago, and George F. Yantis of Olympia, Wash.—attended the meeting, along with officials of the regional board and members of the NRPB's technical staff. Dr. Louis Wirth, member of the NRPB's regional advisory committee and professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, presided.

The meeting was called so that the NRPB representatives could get the opinions of midwestern leaders on ways of tackling problems of further conversion to war, and of readjusting the national economy after the war. Donald Nelson, War Production board chairman, sent the conference a message asking its aid in speeding up the war output.

Farm Problem Not Local.

W. W. Waymack, editor of the editorial pages of the Des Moines [Ia.] Register and Tribune, as a spokesman for agriculture said the midwest's farm problems cannot be treated as local problems after the war but will have to be approached in the light of world-wide agricultural conditions.

Members of the NRPB technical staff here from Washington, D. C., were T. C. Blaisdell Jr., F. W. Herring, and R. J. Watkins, assistant directors; John Miller, chief of the field service section; G. E. McLaughlin, chief of the industrial location section, and P. E. Middleton, regional counselor.

Among the public and business representatives were J. C. Hormel, Austin, Minn., packer; Simeon E. Leland, deputy chairman of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago and member of the University of Chicago faculty; Charles J. Lynn, vice president of Eli Lilly company, Indianapolis, and W. H. Blucher, member of the Illinois state planning commission.

TRANSIT MERGER EXPENSE PLACED AT 3½ MILLIONS

William M. Hammond, consulting accountant for the Chicago Surface lines, estimated yesterday that reorganization expenses in the proposed unification of the surface and elevated lines will amount to approximately 3½ million dollars. He testified before the Illinois Commerce commission, which is holding hearings to decide whether the proposed merger should be approved.

In reply to a request by Fred Kleinman, commission examiner, for details of this estimate, Hammond said he was not prepared to give an itemization. He added it includes all court, legal, and administrative costs and prospective cash payments to bondholders who may decline to accept securities in the new company in exchange for their present holdings.

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe, who has jurisdiction over the surface and "L" lines, continued hearings on the merger plan to Oct. 5 yesterday after transit attorneys reported satisfactory progress in the commerce commission proceedings.

Loop Stores to Stay Open Until 9 on Monday Nights

Most State street and Wabash avenue retail stores will be open Mondays until 9 o'clock at night, beginning next week, the State Street council and Wabash Avenue District association announced yesterday. These stores will not open until noon on Mondays. Of the large department stores, Marshall Field & Co. will not observe the new schedule, which is designed to accommodate employed women and war workers whose hours do not permit shopping at usual times.

This map, reproduced from the current issue of National Petroleum News, shows distribution of fuel oil users in the nation, with the larger number concentrated on the eastern seaboard.

HIGHER PAY ROLL TAXES OPPOSED

Vandenberg Fights Using Old Age Fund for War.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Objecting to the use of social security funds to help pay for the war, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] today introduced a resolution in the senate to keep the payroll tax at two per cent, divided equally between employer and employé.

The tax will be doubled automatically Jan. 1, unless Vandenberg's amendment to the 1939 law is adopted. He said the treasury intended to ask a further increase to 5 per cent each on employer and employé.

Increase Not Needed.

For the fiscal year ending last June 30, Vandenberg said, receipts from the tax amounted to 972 million dollars while disbursements were only 141 millions, so that an increased tax "obviously is not necessary to meet current old age obligations."

He estimated the reserve of 3 billion 227 million dollars at six times total anticipated benefit payments during the next five fiscal years, or 30 times the maximum recommended in 1939 by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr.

The reasons for the proposed increase, the senator said, "have nothing to do with social security or old age payments," but with "a further so-called attack upon inflation and with the creation of new reservoirs of general bond sales credits."

Favors Enforced Saving.

"I completely acknowledge the need for mobilizing every possible resource against inflation," said Vandenberg, "and certainly I completely acknowledge the unavoidable necessity for some form of enforced savings to sustain the public credit in the face of our unavoidably tremendous war expenditures.

"But I am unalterably opposed to raiding social security trust funds for these purposes, or for any purpose not directly related to the social security benefits which these payroll taxpayers are presumed to buy for themselves with their assessments.

"The problem of financing the war is a separate problem."

RAILROAD BONDS SPURT, BOOSTING MARKET VOLUME

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—Buyers in increasing numbers turned to railroad bonds today, bidding up many favorites fractions to more than a point with new highs for recent years posted all along the line.

More than 30 separate issues changed hands in excess of $100,000, face value, pushing the day's total turnover to $16,989,700, the largest since last March 24, when speculative enthusiasm for the same group carried that day's sales to $18,306,000. On Wednesday the turnover was $13,666,500.

Middle West Companies Receive Army Shoe Orders

Boston, Mass., Sept. 17 (AP).—An army order for small riveted service shoes announced by the Boston quartermaster depot today includes the International Shoe company, St. Louis, Mo., 155,000 pairs, and the Freeman Shoe corporation, Beloit, Wis., 30,000.

Terms Delivery Cut Wasteful; Davies Says Oil Brand Is Out

Distributor Hits Curb

The War Production board order restricting fuel oil deliveries to customers before the rationing program starts on Oct. 1 is unfair to dealers in the midwest, and is at odds with government orders aimed at conserving tires and trucks, Frank E. Spencer, president of the Burning Oil Distributors' association, asserted yesterday.

Explaining that refineries in the midwest have an ample supply of fuel oil on hand and with plenty of trucks available at present, he said that oil companies should be allowed to make the fullest use of their facilities while they are still able.

Urges Early Tank Filling.

The majority of consumers' tanks in this area, he said, are in the 500 to 1,000 gallon category and customers should be allowed to fill them at the earliest possible moment, rather that receiving their quota of supplies under rationing in a number of shipments each limited to 275 gallons.

Altho there are about 75,000 dwellings in the Chicago metropolitan area which use fuel oil to the extent of 300 million gallons annually, homes using petroleum products as heating fuel are concentrated largely in the east, the department of commerce disclosed.

East Biggest Oil User.

Two-thirds of the nation's fuel using homes are in the eastern area, concentrated in 17 eastern states and the District of Columbia. The other 31 states contain three-fifths of all the occupied units in the country, but only one out of 16 is principally heated with petroleum products. In the east one of every six dwelling units uses petroleum for heat.

Must Lose Identities

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP).—Deputy Petroleum Coördinator Ralph K. Davies said today the companies composing the nation's oil industry must more and more forego their individual identities and operate as a unit to meet the demands of the war.

Declaring that sharing of plants and storage would mean "inevitably that products must to an extent be standardized so as to admit of common use," Davies told the National Petroleum association at its annual meeting:

"Frankly, I can see no escape from the suspension of certain brand distinctions during the war period."

Pooling Plan Agreed Upon.

Davies' statements supplemented an earlier announcement at Washington by Coördinator Harold L. Ickes that oil companies had agreed to accept minimum specifications for products and to pool storage and terminal facilities in the eastern states to increase efficiency of oil movement to that section.

Davies said the east coast companies had shown "complete readiness" to meet government requests for "joint use of terminals, stock pooling and sharing, combination arrangements designed to eliminate lost motion and waste."

"Portends Heavy Toll."

He warned that adjustment of the industry and the coming of nationwide gasoline rationing "portends with certainty a heavy [economic] toll in oil circles."

He promised that the OPC would try to "hold this casualty list to a minimum consistent with the controling necessities of the war program."

SUBSIDY GIVEN SMALL PACKERS WHO FURNISH PORK FOR LEND-LEASE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Department of agriculture subsidies for small packers of pork who face losses because of rising hog prices and ceilings on the selling price of pork were announced today by Secretary Claude R. Wickard.

The subsidies will be paid on hog purchases made by packers who agree to sell up to 60 per cent of their pork production to the Commodities Credit corporation for government and lend-lease needs. The payments will be limited to the percentage of hog purchases necessary to meet the agreements.

The small packers, defined as those who killed less than 250,000 hogs in 1941, will be paid 25 cents a hundred pounds on purchases for each 25 cents by which a seven-market average price exceeds $13.50, the level when pork ceilings were imposed.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC ON RAILROADS OFF 8.2 PER CENT

The nation's railroads handled 814,885 cars of revenue freight during the week ended Sept. 12, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. This was a decrease of 73,075 cars, or 8.2 per cent from the preceding week, and of 99,771 cars, or 10.9 per cent, from a corresponding period last year. A gain of 10,620 cars, or 1. 3 per cent, was registered over two years ago.

WPB SAYS PAPER USE CUT FACES ALL PUBLISHERS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The WPB told the printing and publishing industry today that it was "face-up to the necessity for curtailing its consumption of paper and board," possibly cutting tonnage back to 1940 or 1939 levels.

"Such a reduction in use should be possible and practicable with little or no resultant hardships to the industry as a whole," said W. E. Palmer, deputy chief of the WPB printing and publishing branch.

"It should be carried out on an over all basis," he continued, "with a careful weeding out of the obviously luxury or specialty products that are desirable but not absolutely necessary during a war period."

Citing a "continuing and increasing shortage of copper and zinc," Palmer forecast further curtailment in these metals for engraving. He warned, that unless the industry put a conservation program into effect, a mandatory WPB order restricting printing in more than one color probably would be issued.

BONE TERMS LOG NEED IN BRITAIN A SMOKE SCREEN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Sen. Homer T. Bone [D., Wash.] asserted today that "talk about the need for lumber" in Great Britain was "a smoke screen" in a suggested embargo on shipment of Canadian logs from crown grant lands to pulp producers in the United States.

Bone made the assertion in a letter to Secretary of State Cordell Hull asking a review of the embargo plans. He said that he understood the reason given was that British requirements should be satisfied before log requirements of Pacific coast pulp producers.

"It is the belief of our northwest exporters," he added, "that the situation of Britain's lumber requirements would not impede the supply of logs to United States pulp mills and that the talk about need for lumber in Britain is something of a smoke-screen to cover up some other purpose."

Capital Stock Tax Return Filing Deadline Extended

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The senate completed legislative action today on a measure extending until Nov. 28 the time limit for filing capital stock tax returns normally due last July 31.

Set Up New War Output Unit

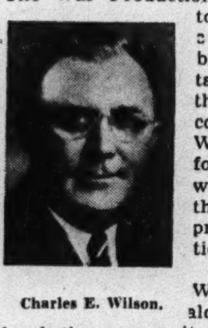
Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The War Production board created tonight a central committee to bring the military agencies, the maritime commission, and WPB together for a twice a week checkup on the whole war production situation.



Charles E. Wilson.

Designated by WPB Chief Donald Nelson to head the new unit—the production executive committee—was Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric company.

Wilson, said Nelson, is charged with "seeing to it that programs and schedules for all phases of our war effort are met."

The committee, another WPB source said, puts one top man in a position from which he can survey continually the whole war production structure as related to the diversified needs of the army, the air force, the navy, and the Maritime commission.

The twice a week regular meetings of the committee, supplemented by extra sessions when needed, will give Wilson a chance to talk directly with responsible heads of the fighting forces and the Maritime commission and from them to get a constantly revised idea of the urgent needs of each agency and the overall supply situation for meeting those needs.

CHICAGO COAL MINE COMPANY PROFITS HIGHER

Superheater Shows Lower Net.

Earnings of United Electric Coal companies, Chicago, increased nearly fourfold in the fiscal year ended July 31, Frank Kolbe, president, reported yesterday. He also said the company reduced its indebtedness further. United Electric operates four open cut soft coal mines.

Net income was $731,596, or $1.39 a common share, after deduction of $1,444,341 for depreciation, federal income taxes, and other charges. In the year ended July 31, 1941, profit was $194,834, equal to 36 cents a share, after deductions totaling $170,000.

Operates at Capacity.

"During the year the company operated its four mines at approximate capacity, and sold 3,495,890 tons of coal for $5,705,064," said Kolbe. "Progress was made in reduction of indebtedness. The rest of the bonds, amounting to $673,000, were retired, and a bank loan was reduced by $292,208. Contracts payable and commitments for equipment and coal lands were reduced by $276,087."

Interest charges in the fiscal year totaled $81,594, Kolbe said, and added:

"We estimate that interest charges will be approximately $35,0000 in the ensuing fiscal year if the company continues to reduce its indebtedness at the current rate."

Universal Pictures company and subsidiaries, after a large increase in reserves for taxes, reported a decline in earnings for the 39 weeks ended Aug. 1. Net profit was $1,752,346 after provision of $2,780,809 for federal income and excess profits taxes plus $227,718 for a 100 per cent writeoff of equities in certain foreign subsidiaries. This compared with $2,000,864 a year earlier.

WLB WOULD LIFT WAGES OF ENTIRE STEEL INDUSTRY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The WLB, acting to make its wage order for four large independent steel companies effective on an industry-wide basis with a minimum of delay, asked 41 steel companies today to submit their reasons, "if any," within 10 days why the decision should not be incorporated in their contracts with the CIO United Steel workers. The so-called "little steel" decision raised wages 5½ cents an hour, retroactive to Feb. 15, and imposed maintenance of membership and dues checkoff provisions. The same order was issued in the case of five subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation, which objected to making the raise retroactive.

The board took its unprecedented action at the request of the union, which has been attempting to negotiate contracts with the 41 companies, which employ about 200,000 workers.

WLB DELEGATES RULE OF LUMBER PAY TO NEW BODY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The War Labor board, in an unprecedented step designed to stabilize labor conditions in the lumber industry in five western states, established today a WLB west coast lumber commission with power to decide the 17 cases, involving nearly 100,000 workers, now pending before the board and all future labor disputes in the industry.

The commission will consist of five members appointed as paid officials of the board.

The chairman, as representative of the public, will have power to decide any issue whenever the commission is unable to reach a unanimous decision. The other members of the commission will be two representatives of labor and two from industry, none of whom will be selected from the lumber industry.

Urges Women for War Work; Plan to Better Labor Relations

Manpower Short

Because of increasing inroads made into industrial man power by demands of the armed services, manufacturers must train women immediately to keep war work rolling, Col. Oliver C. Wyman, regional liaison officer of the headquarters services of supply, declared last night.

He spoke at a training within industry meeting in the Hotel La Salle sponsored by the Illinois Manufacturers' association in coöperation with the Man Power commission and War Production board officials.

"There is only one way to fill the places of thousands of men who are being taken from industrial plants," said Col. Wyman. "That is to put immediately into training thousands of women who are available to Illinois and other states who have already demonstrated a splendid capacity for most of the operations upon which men are engaged."

Must Use Local Labor.

Wyman said that utilization of local labor supplies was necessary because unnecessary migration of workers must be stopped and transportation facilities conserved.

"Industry," he said, "has a major problem to solve because of the ever increasing shortage of male workers. This means that persons employed in nonessential industries, the unemployed who have not been employed before because of race, color or natural origin, and persons not usually in labor forces, such as women and partially handicapped people, must be enlisted and trained for war production work. The burden will fall on the women."

Adjust Jobs to Women.

He said that industry, in fitting women into the industrial pattern must adjust the jobs done by men to enable women to do them. He explained that in Great Britain industry has found that by the use of roller conveyors, pedestal lifts and other auxiliary aids the physical limitations of women can be overcome.

Asks More Opportunity

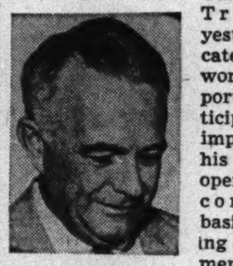
Otto S. Beyer, director of the division of transport personnel of the Office of Defense Transportation, yesterday advocated giving the worker more opportunity to participate in the improvement of his job and the operations of his company as a basis for bettering labor-management relations.



Otto S. Beyer.

Beyer spoke at the 16th annual meeting of the National Association of Motor Bus Operators in the Drake hotel, and later addressed the closing session of the 57th annual meeting of the Roadmasters' and Maintenance of Way association in the Hotel Sherman.

Asks "Sensible" Partnership.

Referring to labor-management relations in wartime, Beyer told the bus operators, "We should look out for something more than a mere absence of strikes and lockouts. We should ask for a system of relationships which will enable labor and management to work together so that each side can make its maximum contribution to the common cause."

What is needed, he said, is machinery that will bring labor and management into a "sensible" partnership. He urged adoption of a simple program of regular joint conferences between representatives of workers and management to provide a forum for discussion of everyday operating problems.

Plants Set Up Machinery.

Under the auspices of the War Production board, he said, some 1,300 war plants have set up joint conference machinery designed to bring employés more directly into the war production effort. This labor-management committee plan, he said, "appears to have been a real success from every point of view."

Mobile Strike for Free Ferry Ride Continues

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 17 (AP).—An estimated 2,000 shipyard workers, after a tumultuous massmeeting tonight, voted not to return to work tomorrow unless the city promised free ferry service to the Pinto Island plant of the Alabama Dry Dock and Shipbuilding company.

One man was thrown into the Mobile river and 10 others were taken into custody earlier today on charges of unlawful assembly during a noisy demonstration in protest of a new 5 cent ferry toll, established when the city installed the ferry operations at the instance of the maritime commission. Free company service was discontinued.

Hundreds of workmen marched to the city hall this morning and demanded the toll be removed. Following reports of the barricading of a bridge approach to the yards, riot squads were called out.

All saloons were closed by the police after the strikers wrecked two ferry turnstiles and damaged a police scout car, wrecking the radio. The strike was not a union matter, officials said. The commissioners said that the ferry charge would stand.

Milk Delivery Threatened.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 17 (AP).—A jurisdictional dispute between AFL teamsters' and CIO clerks' unions resulted today in an AFL threat to halt all deliveries to Detroit hotels, restaurants, and super markets, and a counterthreat by the CIO to "cut off all milk deliveries in Michigan."

The AFL threat was contained in a 48 hour ultimatum given to John Anhut, attorney for the Detroit Hotel association, by James Hoffa, teamsters' official, demanding that hotels cease purchases from CIO organized creameries.

Anhut said the hotels planned to transfer their milk business "temporarily" to AFL organized dairies.

Later Roy Scoggins, director of the dairy division of the United Retail, Wholesale, and Department Store Workers [CIO], was reported to have sent a telegram containing the CIO threat.

Chicago Firm Cited.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The National Labor Relations board today ordered the International Textile Company, Inc., Chicago, to cease discouraging membership of employés in CIO's United Construction Workers, division of District 50, United Mine Workers of America, or any other labor organization. The board also ordered reinstatement with back pay for two employés.

LIST OF GROUPS WHO CAN GET TYPEWRITERS IS BROADENED BY OPA

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The OPA today broadened typewriter rationing eligibility regulations, increasing the number of classes of persons able to buy standard and portable machines.

Effective Monday, standard machines may be purchased by:

Persons engaged in the operation of merchant ships, prime contractors with the army and navy who are conducting air transport of military personnel and supply to foreign countries, the national offices of the United Service organizations, the United Seamen's Process service, and the Red Cross, labor unions and employer organizations, 70 per cent of whose membership is engaged in production of war materials, and establishments manufacturing aviation and lubricating oils and high octane gasoline.

Also eligible are prime contractors building naval and military establishments or war production plants.

Classes eligible to buy portable typewriters include certain labor unions and employers' organizations and all offices of the united seamen's service.

5 MILLION OUNCE SILVER STOCK TO GO TO INDUSTRY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. announced today that the treasury has available 5 million ounces [about 187 tons] of silver in a special category which would be sold outright at 45 cents an ounce to industrial users with high priority ratings upon recommendation of the War Production board.

This "silver ordinary" lies outside the two categories the treasury may not sell. Monetized silver, held as a reserve against silver certificates, may not be sold or loaned. Nonmonetized "free silver" already has been made available to war plants for use during the war but which must be returned.

Morgenthau explained that the "silver ordinary" has been accumulating over a long period.

WLB AWARDS 4c WAGE BOOST TO G. M. WORKERS

Overrides Most of Panel Findings.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17 (AP).—The War Labor board tonight ordered an increase of 4 cents an hour for 225,000 General Motors employés as a means of adjusting wages to higher living costs. The vote was 6 to 3, with labor members of the board dissenting.

The board's action, which affects 95 plants, rejected the calculations and recommendations of a panel which heard the case and recommended a raise of 5 cents. It said that under the board's wage stabilization formula [which permits a rise of up to 15 per cent over the levels of Jan. 1, 1941 to meet higher living costs] an increase of 1½ cents was permissible. In addition the panel recommended a 3½ cents raise to narrow a differential which, it said, existed between General Motors and Ford plants.

Rejects Differential Basis.

The board announced that it refused to allow any raise for purposes of narrowing the differential, but did not immediately explain how it determined 4 cents as the cost of living adjustment, instead of the panel's calculations of 1½ cents. It said it rejected the unions' request to calculate the increased cost of living on the basis of the average increase in the cities where the plants are located instead of the national average. The original demand was an increase of 12½ cents an hour.

The board said its formal opinions in the case would be issued "shortly," and also announced it would decide the Chrysler Motor company case next week.

Vote Down Night Pay Hike.

The board also rejected, by a vote of 5-4, the recommendation of the majority of the panel that the night shift bonus be increased from 5 per cent to 10 per cent. An agreement between the parties to make all increases retroactive to April 28, when the previous contracts expired, was approved.

Standard maintenance of membership clauses were ordered written into the agreements. These permit any union members 15 days to withdraw from the union if they do not wish to be bound, under penalty of dismissal, to remain members for the duration of the contract. The board voted down the demand of the union, the panel majority, and its own labor members, in refusing to make the maintenance of membership clause effective as of last Jan. 1. [Under such a proposal men who were in the union Jan. 1 would have to remain members.]

Equal Pay for Women.

The order also unanimously directed that men and women employés should be paid in accordance with the principle of equal pay for equal work and directed the parties to negotiate a contract provision to put this principle into effect.

The board upheld one panel recommendation covering automatic raises for employés assigned to jobs not covered by "upgrading agreements," providing that all such employés shall receive the regular rate for the job classification as soon as they are capable of performing efficiently the operations of such job or within 90 days from the date of hire.

All the employés were represented in the case by CIO unions.

GAINS FOR RAILS, SPECIALTIES LIFT STOCKS SLIGHTLY

Low Price Issues Provide Increased Volume.

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—Low priced specialties monopolized the stock market today, altho rails gave them some competition. Prices were unevenly higher, many rails gaining.

Most of the usual leaders were hesitant at the start, and never managed to move much. There were scattered gainers of a point or so, but minor price changes ruled at the close.

Individual situations ruled most demand. Tax confusion, the anti-inflation wrangle, and cloudy war bulletins continued to restrict operations.

Sizable blocks of issues selling under $10 a share helped put the day's turnover at 407,650 shares, compared with 378,120 yesterday.

American and Foreign Power common and preferreds resumed their climb to new peaks for the year, along with International Telephone, Panhandle Producing, and Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

CHICAGO STOCKS STEADY.

Chicago Stock exchange prices were little changed yesterday. Of the 68 issues traded in turnover of 12,000 shares, 27 advanced, 28 declined, and 13 were unchanged.

Volume leaders included Swift, Marshall Field, and Katz Drug, all down ⅛; Pure Oil, down 1⅛, and Armour, up ⅛.

GRAINS NARROW; TRADERS PONDER: WHAT IS PARITY?

Uncertainty Puts Damper on Commitments.

Conflicting views on the probable outcome of the numerous price control proposals before congress were reflected yesterday in narrow price fluctuations on the Chicago Board of Trade. Wheat and rye futures held within a range of about 1 cent, as traders were cautious in making commitments either way, pending further developments.

Commission houses and professional operators alternated between buying and selling as they attempted to digest news from Washington, D. C.

Wheat futures closed ⅛ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower, with December at $1.26⅛. Rye was unchanged to ⅛ cent lower.

Corn Edges Higher.

A forecast for rains in parts of the central west which would be unfavorable to the rapid maturity of the corn crop buoyed corn futures, which closed ⅛ to ¼ cent higher. Oats finished unchanged to ¼ cent higher.

A ceiling price of about $1.65¾ a bushel for No. 2 hard winter wheat—39 cents above the current market—would be in effect in Chicago if the price control bill embodied the Steagall plan for including farm wages in the parity level, traders estimated. Passage of such legislation, however, is regarded dubious because of opposition by the President.

10% Boost Indicated.

Economists of the Department of Agriculture estimate that the inclusion of farm wages would boost parity prices about 10 per cent.

The demand for flour and cash grain has fallen off as the result of uncertainty created by the proposed price control measures, brokers reported. The same factor is regarded as responsible for farmers withholding grain from the market.

Iowa reports said there is a shortage of storage room for the new corn crop and a shortage of labor for harvesting corn and soy beans. Combining of the soy bean crop is expected to be a long drawn out affair owing to inability to obtain enough machines to handle the record yield.

HOG PRICES RISE ON CEILING HOPE, SMALLER SUPPLY

Hog prices advanced 10 cents a hundred pounds yesterday at the Chicago stock yards as hope for more liberal price ceilings was voiced and supplies were smaller.

Gains of 15 to 20 cents were shown in heavier, "lard type" hogs which were scarce again. The top price advanced 10 cents to $14.50 for prime 230 to 290 pound stock. The average also moved up 10 cents to $14.20.

Strong to 10 cents higher prices were paid for the majority of fat lambs. Cattle trading dragged and prices were mostly weak.

EXCESS RESERVES HOP 690 MILLION, RESULT OF REQUIREMENT CUT

Total excess reserves of reserve system member banks jumped 690 million dollars in the week ended Wednesday to a total of 3 billion 40 million dollars, the Federal Reserve board reported last night. The rise was attributed mostly to a reduction in the reserve requirements of central reserve city banks in Chicago and New York City to 22 per cent of net demand deposits, from 24 per cent. The change in requirements apparently added about 72 million dollars to reserves of the 11 affected Chicago banks, with these millions becoming excess reserves, but the banks used part of the added funds for investments, so that the net gain in excess reserves of the Chicago banks was only 19 millions. As of Wednesday, the Chicago excess reserves were 68 million dollars, compared with 58 millions a week earlier.

The weekly report of the federal reserve board showed the following:

EDISON COMPANY VOTES 35 CENTS ON STOCK AGAIN

Directors of the Commonwealth Edison company, Chicago, declared a dividend of 35 cents a share on the capital stock yesterday, the same amount as was paid Aug. 1. The disbursement, payable Nov. 2 on stock of record Oct. 2, will bring the total this year to $1.60 a share.

It was believed the action of the directors in voting the same amount paid previously was influenced by the decision of the senate finance committee to retain the 40 per cent corporation levy [combined normal and surtax] instead of the 45 per cent rate which was recommended earlier.
